Florida Don't Worry.

THE whole nation sympathizes with the city of Miami swept by a severe hurricane.

But the people of Florida will not be discouraged or Florida's prosperity set back by it, no matter what the extent of the disaster.

Every region is subject to attack by earthquakes, tidal waves, cyclones or hurricanes.

What nature destroys man swiftly repairs. Within a few months the "high wind" will be forgotten and Florida will be going ahead as usual.

SPANISH conquerors of Mexico would read today's newspapers amazed.

Mexican Indians that had Christianity forced upon them, often with horrible brutality and massacre, are now the aggressive defenders of that religion in Mexico, the Mexican government with weapons and written denunciations curtailing the liberties and privileges of the Catholic church.

THE cry "Viva Mexico y mueran los tiranos" (long live Mexico and death to tryants) is the battle cry not of European bolshevists or communists but of Matus, chief of the Yaqui Indians.

Yaqui warfare is not to be despised. They, savage fighting Indians, operate well armed in small bands, harassing the Mexican soldiers.

LLOYD GEORGE'S article yesterday was important, for the first time in years Lloyd George takes an optimistic view of European politics and peace prospects.

Unlike some other optimists including sentimentalists that would push us into the League of Nations through the World court back door, Lloyd George knows what he is talking about. He sees hope of better understanding and firm peace among European nations and he sees clearly.

EDDIE RICKENBACKER, chief of the efficient air fighters produced by this country, gives up the vice presidency of his automobile company. If that means that he has leisure it should be used by the United States government, with Mr. Rickenbacker's consent, to promote flying in this country.

The United States needs men that know how to fly. Rickenbacker could teach them and could easily arouse enthusiasm that would bring thousands of volunteers.

MR. DANIEL GUGGENHEIM and his son have set an excellent example to other rich men by their financial encouragement of American fly-

AUTOMOBILE CLUB GETS NEW HOME

E. M. Diehl, secretary of the Columbiana County Motor club, today began preparations for the transfer of the club headquarters from its present location to the new Thompson building in Fourth and Market streets.

The club decided on the transfer at its board of directors' meeting last night in the office of H. C. Armstrong, Lisbon. Vice President J. H. Sinclair presided.

Constantly increasing membership and the greater demand for service make an increase in office quarters advisable, Diehl announced.

MIAMI BEGINS REBUILDING AS STORM ABATES

END MARTIAL LAW

Many Mansions are Razed in Miami Beach.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21. — The death total at Miami will not exceed 100, according to a wireless dispatch received today by the navy department from the commandant of the seventh naval district at Key West, Fla.

The dispatch said that no further naval assistance was needed. Two coast guard cutters, the Saukee and Bagaduce, arrived at Miami last night, bringing a detachment of marines and a quantity of medical supplies.

In another dispatch the commandant of the seventh naval district said the situation in Miami was rapidly improving. Transportation has been resumed.

He said he had been unable to raise Pensacola by radio or land lines, either direct or by way of New Orleans.

The coast guard cutter Saukee, now at Miami, will be sent to Bimini, off the Florida coast, to lend assistance.

MIAMI, Fla., Sept. 21.—(Palm Beach via Courier).—Today found Miami beginning actual reconstruction with martial law lifted.

Restoration of water and electric light service began with the rescinding of martial rule by Col. V. H. Collins, of Plant City, Monday night and construction workers were busily engaged erecting and repairing dwellings before daylight this morning.

Rescue parties kept up a search for bodies through the debris. It is

Gale-Stricken Pensacola Is Cut Off From World

"Safe at Miami; Am Writing," Makes Morse Wires Hum

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Sept. 21. —At this time last year Florida was just beginning to invite America to enjoy southern hospitality.

Today Florida was telegraphing the world another message:

"Safe at Miami. Am writing."

The Western Union telegraph office here has been working its full staff overtime for two days relaying such messages from Miami. No wires go into Miami, but the messages are brought to West Palm Beach or to Jacksonville by courier, then wired to the world. Traffic department employes estimated that almost 50,000 "safe" messages have been sent in the last two days, and they expect as many more.

Navy Unable to Confirm Wireless Message From Unknown Vessel Which Reports Port City in Ruins.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21.—Hurricane-stricken Pensacola was still cut off from the world this morning, so far as the navy could ascertain.

Repeated attempts during the night to get in communication with the big naval radio station at the gulf port met with failure. No word has been received from Pensacola direct since yesterday a short time before the hurricane hurled itself out of the southeast and struck the city.

10 Dead In Alabama.

ATLANTA, Sept. 21.—Still cut off from the outside world, Pensacola, Florida, today was reported to have suffered severe damage from the tropical hurricane.

A wireless message picked up from an unknown vessel at sea declared the famous old port on the Gulf of Mexico is in ruins. Many deaths were reported.

Mobile, Alabama, appears to have escaped and casualties. The storm laid waste to property, causing damage estimated at $500,000. The streets there were reported filled with debris as the result of a 100-mile an hour gale.

DEMPSEY HITS AT KEARNS IN SUIT ANSWER

Charges Ex-manager Appropriated $500,000 of His Money.

EX-CONVICT, CLAIM

Allegations Aftermath of Kearns' Demand for Accounting.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 21. — The application for a writ restraining Tex Rickard from paying any portion of the purse to either of the participants in the Dempsey-Tunney heavyweight championship boxing bout here the night of Sept. 23, was dismissed this afternoon upon the agreement of counsel for the plaintiff.

The agreement for dismissal came after Rickard had taken the witness stand and testified that he would not pay either Dempsey or Tunney any portion of their purses until after the bout had actually taken place.

Application for the writ had been made by Sol. Wittenberg, as a taxpayer. The case was heard in common pleas court No. 4, before Judges Charles Audenried, Jos. P. McCullen, and Thomas D. Finletter.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Sept. 21.—Jack Dempsey, through Richard Mackay, his attorney, today filed his answer in chancery court to the suit brought against the champion by his former manager, Jack Kearns.

In his answer Dempsey charges Kearns with appropriating $500,000 of the champion's money. He also charges that Kearns is an ex-convict, having served a term in a penitentiary in the state of Washington.

Kearns on Saturday filed an action which resulted in Dempsey being declared a temporary bankrupt. Kearns had demanded an accounting from Dempsey of all moneys that the

GRIM TRAGEDY ENDS NON-STOP FLIGHT ATTEMPT ACROSS OCEAN

Giant Sikorsky Bursts Into Flames at Hop-off.

PILOTS ESCAPE

Wireless Operator and Mechanic Fatally Burned.

ROOSEVELT FIELD, N. Y., Sept. 21. — Captain Rene Fonck's proposed non-stop flight to Paris ended in grim tragedy early today when the giant Sikorsky biplane in which the flight was to have been made burst into flames at the hop-off, causing two fatalities.

Captain Fonck and his co-pilot, Lieutenant Lawrence W. Curtin, U. S. N., escaped with their lives but Charles Clavier, wireless operator, and Jack Islamoff, mechanic, were fatally burned in the fuselage.

Falls Into Deep Gulley.

Fonck and Curtin, sitting at the controls in the nose of the plane, were saved when the ship, failing to clear the ground after scooting a mile along the runway, fell into a deep gulley. They suffered only a few minor abrasions.

Clavier and Islamoff, however, were trapped in the burning plane.

The dapper French captain, hero of countless exploits in the World war, leaped into the plane shortly after 6 o'clock.

He went down the field in a cloud of dust, followed by spectators in automobiles. The great plane, heavily loaded with more than two thousand gallons of gasoline, disappeared over the crown of a little hill, descending into a 20-foot gulley.

An instant later, there was a puff and an explosion, and a sheet of flame shot up 40 feet into the air, 20 feet above the top of the depression into which the great bi-plane had descended. Nearly a thousand spectators at the field were horror-struck.

BOOK TWO—XVII.

Then additionally, there was Blah-Blah. This was a slender booklet of undergraduate wit, which appeared monthly under an invariably pursed-lipped female cover. Jock belonged to its editorial staff. Among other duties, he was expected to contribute assorted items to its pages every month, and he had long since established a reputation as a source of bubbling light verse, short artful skits, and "He: She:" jokes. There was a chuckle in everything of his that appeared in the magazine. He left the sentimental poetry and the really artistic bits of writing to contributors who felt them less deeply than he, and hence could more readily laugh them off. About the campus he was deemed a budding humorist, and no one knew nor guessed the nature of the pages and pages of material he wrote and did not publish, but hid away.

During early December he conceived and executed "The Confessions of a Dormitory Cockroach," to be run in four hilarious instalments. He did three jingles, "Ode to a Wastebasket," "Peter the Petter" and "Girls Who Get None of My time," and one playlet entitled "The Wages of Gin is Breath." These went direct to Blah-Blah. He also composed during this period, 27 poems that did not go to Blah-Blah. Of each of these, Yvonne was the leitmotif. . . . He wrote her letters also, but futilely, for he knew not where to send them. His first one, mailed to her at the Park Avenue apartment, had been returned marked "Present address unknown." The only communication he had from her was a package containing the photograph he had said he liked best. No note accompanied it, but across the back Yvonne had written lines culled from one of the volumes of poetry Jock had given her:

". . . And I am made aware of many
a week
I shall consume, remembering in what
a way
Your dark hair grows about your brow
and cheek
And what divine absurdities you
say . . ."

He purchased a costly frame and put the photograph in it. But after a day or two he discarded the frame, so that he could read the writing on the back again and again. That was Yvonne, telling him she would not forget him; that was solace. Whenever he started into her pictured face, that other face from the newspaper clipping seemed to dance like a demon before him, and laugh at him through Yvonne's eyes. . . . He found himself looking more often at the quotation than at the photograph.

He sought companionship, especially in the evenings. He joined his fraternity brothers in long talkfests around the living room fire, where they lounged with that indolent droop of the spinal column peculiar to youth, and smoked pipes and conversed about women. Women were the perennial topic at the University. All other matters were discussed on schedule—football in the autumn, baseball in the spring—but women held sway at all seasons. . . . One night, after an exhaustive session, Jock sat up late compiling for his own edification a list of "Contents of an Average Undergraduate's Mind." It ran somewhat as follows: "Four brunettes. Nineteen blondes. Two hundred and twenty telephone numbers. Addresses of seven bootleggers. Probable outcome of Dempsey's next fight. Probable outcome of next world series. Innumerable stories about traveling salesmen, about Pat and Mike, about honeymoons. Assorted rhymes, most of them beginning, 'Here's to the girl who.' Babe Ruth's batting average. Automobiles. Petting. Marilynn Miller. Gloria Swanson. The All-American. The backfield from Notre Dame. Barney Google." . . . When he had completed this he tore it up without reading it over, calling himself a supercilious ass and feeling ashamed of his disloyalty.

He went to movies and vaudeville shows with others of his ilk and sat stuffing popcorn and cheering sonorously at all unnecessary junctures. At Commons, the dining hall for underclassmen and non-fraternity students, he participated in an indignant riot staged principally by boys who, like himself, did not eat there, and hurled biscuits and butter in every direction.

Jock, in company with Bill Olinstead and Cracker Ferguson, takes three chorus girls to supper.

Adopting the two favorite fads of the year, he dispensed with garters and slit his hats at the top of the crowns so that his hair might stick up through, a waving ebony plume. He went twice to New York to see revues, and once, in company with Bill Olinstead and "Cracker" Ferguson, he took three chorus girls to supper. He became a litte intoxicated three times, and very intoxicated twice. . . .

In such ways he sought to shut out of his mind Parke Demorest of Demorest Motors.

XVIII.

One night, rather reluctantly, he accompanied a quorum of sensation seeking lads to a "Black-and-Tan" dance hall some 15 miles away from the college town.

The room was vast, low-ceilinged, and one thought not altogether clean, though the smoky shadows lay so thickly everywhere that one could not be sure. There had been a rather pathetic attempt at decoration. Loops of cheesecloth, colored crepe paper bonnets over the lights — things like that. The dance floor had a fence around it, and an orchestra of negroes wearing dinner coats played in the center. Outside the fence there were tables covered with squares of coarse stained linen, and surrounded by weirdly ill-matched couples. . . Black and tan. Black and white. White and tan. . . . There was something furtive about the place; a sense of wrong-doing. You breathed it in with the atmosphere. You read it in the shifting eyes. It was, in fact, what brought you there and made you stay.

They took a table close to the railing. They were quite uproarious already, and in order that they might continue to be so they ordered drinks from a dark skinned waitress who put her arms across the shoulders of the nearest two boys as she listened. . . . Jock hoped she would hurry with the drinks. The place filled him with aversion and loathing, and he wanted liquor with which to overcome this feeling before his companions should detect it and begin to "kid" him. He was now, as always, eager to seem to enjoy the things that they enjoyed—to be a good fellow, no matter what secret shivers of distaste it cost him.

He looked about him, glancing quickly from one table to the next. . . . if you let your eyes rest long on any one spot in a place like this you acquired in entangling alliances. After a moment he gave a barely perceptible jump and almost, not quite, cried out.

GRAND JURORS OPEN INQUIRY INTO 50 CASES

C. H. Hoopes, Kensington, Sworn in as Foreman.

MURDER PROBE

Judge W. H. Spence Charges Members as to Secrecy.

With murder, manslaughter and bribery among the 50 charges to be investigated, the September grand jury was formally organized at Lisbon yesterday with the selection of C. H. Hoopes, of Kensington, as foreman.

Other members of the investigation body are: Charlotte Harrold, Leetonia; Walter Strain, and S. E. Mackintosh, Salem; Louis Reed, Bayard; Clyde R. Todd, Lisbon R. F. D.; Robert G. Boyd, East Liverpool R. F. D.; B. F. George, Rogers; S. E. Moreledge, John Macauley, Louis Endley, Blair Allison, J. C. Richardson and William Whitacre, all of Lisbon.

After the jurors had been sworn by Clerk of Courts Frank Ballantine, Common Pleas Judge W. H. Spence charged them relative to the secrecy of their inquiry.

Judge Spence's Charge.

The judge's charge follows:

"The law makes it the duty of the court to charge the grand jury and to call your attention particularly to the obligation of secrecy which your oaths impose. The obligation of secrecy imposed upon you by your oath applies to everything which you learn in the investigation of a case or otherwise comes to your knowledge while in the jury room. The secrecy applies to the counsel of the state, your own and your fellow jurors. You shall keep, unless called on in a court of justice to make disclosures. The secrecy continues not only while you are on this jury but through all time unless you are called upon in a court of justice to make disclosures.

"You shall present no person through malice, hatred or ill-will nor shall you leave any person unpresented through fear, favor or affection or for any reward or hope thereof.

"The prosecuting attorney and his assistant will be your legal advisors, and they are authorized at all times to appear before the grand jury for the purpose of giving information and advice relative to any matter coming before the grand jury. Said attorneys may interrogate witnesses before such jury when it deems it necessary.

"The official stenographer of the county, at the request of the prosecuting attorney, shall take shorthand notes of the testimony and furnish a transcript thereof to the prosecuting attorney and to no other person, but the stenographer shall withdraw from the jury room before the jurors begin to express their views or give their votes on any matter before them.

"The grand jury is composed of fifteen members, twelve of whom must concur before you can return a indictment. When you have agreed upon an indictment, the prosecuting attorney will formulate it for you and direct you how to sign it.

"The grand jurors shall, in a body, visit the county jail during this session of the jury, examine its state and condition, and inquire into the discipline and treatment of the prisoners, their habits, diet and accomodations. You shall report to the court in writing, whether the rules prescribed by this court have been faithfully kept and observed, and whether the law for the regulation of county jails has been violated, stating in what particulars, if any, there has been a violation.

"You may meet and adjourn at your own convenience and pleasure.

"When you have completed your work you will make a return thereof to this court."

With Prosecutor Robert M. Brookes and his assistant, John Bauknecht, presenting the evidence, the jurors immediately began consideration of the cases. Included in the investigation will be the murder of Patrolman James Kenny at Wellsville on May 27, last; the automobile accident, in which Frank Spence, of Lisbon, was killed, and the alleged attempted bribery in which Sheriff George Wright named two Wellsville men last week.

One hundred and six witnesses have been summoned to appear.

While the grand jury is in session, Judge Spence will preside in naturalization court today and Wednesday. Eighty-nine applications for citizenship have been filed.

Many new highways are to be built in Rumania.

FOR Acid Stomach PHILLIPS' Milk of Magnesia

Instead of soda hereafter take a little "Phillips Milk of Magnesia" in water any time for indigestion or sour, acid, gassy stomach, and relief will come instantly.

Better Than Soda

For fifty years genuine "Phillips Milk of Magnesia" has been prescribed by physicians because it overcomes three times as much acid in the stomach as a saturated solution of bicarbonate of soda, leaving the stomach sweet and free from all gases. Besides, it neutralizes acid fermentations in the bowels and gently urges this souring waste from the system without purging. It is far more pleasant to take than soda.

Try a 25c Bottle

Insist upon "Phillips." Twenty-five cent and fifty cent bottles, any drug-store. "Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. Registered Trade Mark of The Charles H. Phillips Chemical Company and its predecessor Charles H. Phillips since 1875.

ACCESSORIES MAKE THE MODE

It's the trifles that make the mode. In no other season has the vogue of accessories been stressed so much as this, for with simple fashions being worn, accessories take the place of trimming and add color to the ensemble. They cost so little to acquire and mean so much.

The scarf still maintains its prominence in the mode. There's a scarf for every costume. There's a scarf for sports, for tailleur, for warmth, for evening. Lovely and delicate or large and bundly. Giving new life to the wardrobe and adding vivacity to the wearer.

Crepes in solid colors or modernistic prints. Georgett escarfs in plain or rainbow tints. The new wool scarfs. Priced from $3.00 to $12.00. Every desired shade.

The new gloves are jaunty indeed and to the cuff belongs the glory. Now it is gay embroidered or applique on kid or suede fabric. Turn-back or flare cuffs embroidered in gay colors with heavy stitchery to match.

All the shades of tan, grey and brown with trimming to match your accessories. Also the ever popular black and white Gloves.

Priced from $1.00 to $5.25.

The flower accessory works magic on wardrobes. Different flowers worn with the same dress make several costumes out of one. A flower on the shoulder of your evening frock will give it a Paris air. The coat collar should sport a bright colored boutonniere to match or contrast with your hat.

Flowers from 50c to $1.50.

Never were there so many dainty handkerchiefs. Every style, color and fabric you could imagine. With lace edging, hand embroidery and ever so many other little touches that make them the loveliest ever. Priced from 25c to $2.50.

Our autumn silk hosiery presents the smartest Paris shades. Exquisite silk stockings, doubly imported since much more of them is disclosed through the vogue of shorter skirts.

In the tans, nudes and greys Paris is wearing. Colors for daytime and evening in lustrous silks and filmy chiffons. Gun metal and black still remain popular and we have them in various qualities of silks. Priced from $1.50 to $3.85.

New jewelry in all the new stones, settings, etc. The right bit of jewelry in the right place can make a costume look entirely different.

HORSE PULLING EVENT LISTED

Contest is Expected to Prove Feature of Beaver Fair.

Much interest is being evidenced in the horse pulling contest which will be a feature of the Beaver county fair at Junction park, New Brighton, Thursday and Friday afternoon, Sept. 23 and 24, at 2 o'clock. The initial horse pulling contest was held at the fair last year, and turned out to be one of the main events of fair week. More interest was taken in this event than in any other one feature of the program with the exception of the races.

The contest this year is divided into two classes. The first class for teams weighing less than 3,000 pounds and the second class for teams weighing more than 3,000 pounds. Each team will be given three trials and the team pulling the most two times out of three trials will be awarded the premiums. Ten or twelve of the best teams in the county were entered in the contest last year, and considerable more than that are expected this years. Teams of either horses or mules are eligible.

These tests are sponsored and held under the auspices of the Beaver County Agricultural association, the Pennsylvania State college and the Horse Association of America.

Correct the Cause to End Catarrh!

Doctors say that local applications aren't enough. To get rid of catarrh you must remove the cause. Catarrh is the result of inflamed mucous membranes—the delicate linings of nose, throat and head. These must be toned and strengthened and the inflammation reduced. Then catarrh disappears; bad breath and catarrhal deafness vanish. This is what Hall's Catarrh Medicine does. Its success has been proved by thousands.

Get Hall's Catarrh Medicine at your nearest druggist. He will tell you it is the most effective catarrh treatment he has known in over 40 years. If he is out of it send 85c to F. J. Cheney & Company, Toledo, Ohio.

WHO'S WHO IN THE MOVIES

Review-Tribune Offers Handbook to Screen Fans.

"Who's Who in the Movies," a booklet novelty about the stars of filmdom and the picture industry, is the latest thing in motion picture publications. Offered exclusively in East Liverpool to readers of The Review-Tribune, this little hand book appears to be worth many times the modest cost price which is asked for it.

The list of film stars and thumb nail biographies of each is a most useful reference guide, and will serve to answer endless questions about "How old is so-and-so?" "Where did I see her last?" and all that sort of thing.

There have been studio directories before, but always in bulky book form, beset with advertising pages, and more or less costly. Here is a handbook of filmland boiled down to its essentials, the names alphabetically arranged, the type neat and clear, every one treated alike, no advertising, no puffs, but just facts. There are also several chapters of text about the history of the movies, the way they are made and how they are marketed. Altogether a whole lot of interesting and useful information.

Frederic J. Haskin, who answers more questions than any other person in the world, has compiled this booklet. The announcement of this offering, and the coupon with which to order it, will be found elsewhere in the paper. Every one interested in the pictures, and that means practically everybody, will be interested in this booklet.

Aid For Stricken Florida

Mindful of the nation's response to the appeal for relief when the tornado of June 28, 1924, struck with great force at Lorain and other lake cities, exacting an appalling toll of life and property damage, Ohio today began to raise funds for the aid of stricken Florida. In response to the appeal of President Coolidge and Red Cross leaders, contributions are pouring in to be used in coping with the greatest task of relief since the World war.

East Liverpool, which has never turned a deaf ear to a distress call, will contribute. Acting upon the national chapter's request, officers of the local Red Cross announced that voluntary contributions to the nation-wide fund will be accepted by W. E. Dunlap, cashier of the First National bank, who is the Ceramic City chapter treasurer. Checks should be mailed to him.

Although no accurate figures on the loss of life and the millions of dollars' worth of property destroyed are available, all reports indicate that the tropical hurricane, which swept the east coast, struck part of the west coast and then hopped into Alabama and Louisiana, will go down in history as a major disaster. Hundreds are dead and injured, thousands homeless and equally as many more without food and clothing, as a result of the catastrophe.

The sympathy of the people of every part of the country goes out to Miami and other Florida communities, long known as the winter playgrounds of America, which have been ravaged by this West Indian hurricane. But more than sympathy is needed. Generous contributions should be forthcoming.

Building

In the country as a whole, there has been somewhat less building this year. Recent building permits are less in volume than last year and the year before. Statistics seem to show a great reduction of the "building deficit" for houses, apartments and business structures.

While building still continues in large volume, the situation leads critics to suggest that the boom is about over, or as they cautiously phrase it, "building operations are nearing a period of some decline."

Still, you never can tell. The end of the building boom has been prophesied year after year, yet it has rolled right on, keeping the makers and sellers of materials and supplies prosperously busy and the building trades fully employed at peak wages.

The chances are that this industry will remain busy and prosperous as long as general prosperity continues. While people have money, from whatever source obtained, they will build, just as they will buy cars, according to new standards for which there are no adequate statistics. And by the same token, as long as they continue building and buying cars, they help to keep business good.

Hot Dog Eyesores

More power to the American Automobile association in its campaign in favor of better hot dog kennels!

President Thomas P. Henry of the A. A. A. has appealed to all the clubs in that big organization, asking them to join in a movement to improve the "thousands of unwashed, unpainted and unsanitary hot dog stands and other lunch counters that infest so many of our beautiful thoroughfares."

Many of the stands, he remarks, are made out of signs furnished by soda, pop, candy and cracker manufacturers. Even when the buildings are fundamentally decent, they are often cluttered all over with such signs. Thus they are marring landscape beauty and are eyesores to the motorists they seek to attract.

"The situation," he says, "is not confined to any section of the country. It is offsetting all that is being done to beautify the highways, and millions of motorists are rising in protest. The hot dog vendor or the lunch counter keeper has a perfect right to make a living, but he has no right to mar the rights of sightseers everywhere. In this respect the rights of the public are paramount."

He believes that such places may be controlled and made more respectable and presentable by means of restrictions enforced in granting the license privilege. Many, however, deserve to be abolished simply as public nuisances.

Other countries do not have such eyesores all along the road, compelling the unwilling attention of the traveler by their hideousness. Why should the United States have them?

We seem to gather from the triumph of Herr Vierkoetter that what men need to swim the channel is "some bouillon, a little coffee and two bananas."

Another rise in the cost of necessaries. A mastodon's skeleton found in Ohio sells for the outrageous price of $75,000.

Maybe France could follow the Sesqui-centennial example and arrange for a Dempsey fight over there to pay the French debt.

In a confused, argumentative and hot-tempered world, President Coolidge keeps right on catching fish.

"There is plenty of oil in sight" says a petroleum expert. Yes, we can see it on every road and beach.

The Toonerville Trolley That Meets All The Trains— By Fontaine Fox

NEW YORK DAYBYDAY

By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, Sept. 21.—Those valeted young fops who—when not attempting to Burbank a misplaced eyebrow into a full grown mustache—roa malong the Fifth Avenue curbs in catsup-red roadsters in quest of the flirtatious adventure have been having trouble lately.

One drew up in front of a lady near Tiffany's and called out "Hop in, cuties, I'll roll you home." Cutie did not but a stalwart husband talking to a friend nearby did. And in five minutes the balked Romeo had a perfectly moused eye, a dangling tooth and puzzled expression.

Further up the avenue, near the Plaza two young men waved to a very pretty girl and pulled in at the curb. She thought they were acquaintances and stepped out to greet them. "Take a little ride?" they cooed. "No but you will," she said, and calling a cop they were transferred to a patrol wagon.

In another instance an accosted lady swung a heavy mash bag on a derby and sent it crashing over a set of ears and, thus blinging him, she clawed a well barbered face with tigerish ferocity.

There are unfortunately many otherwise respectable girls who see no harm in accepting a free ride home with a chance acquaintance. It sometimes seems to offer a touch of romance to the day of drabness. But the danger is there.

Several young girls listed among the vast army of "missing persons," have been traced to Fifth Avenue, where they were pick-ups of auto flirts and have been seen no more. It is usually a prelude to a few drinks and a rollicking joy ride.

Between 5 and 7 in the evening the avenue is filled with the roaming adventurers. They are well dressed and drive fine cars. So keen has the practice grown that there is a special squad of plain-clothes men whose job is to trap offenders.

There is no place where so-called Babbittry—a virtue allocated only to smaller cities—is so prevalent as at the opening night of a play. The hardest Rotarian at a suburban development banquet is in no more evidence than the so-called men about-town between acts. They flutter around shaking hands, clapping shoulders and generally showing off. They laugh long and boisterously at some feeble wheeze that is supposed to be of only local import and not for the out-of-towner. The mention of a New York name with some humorless suggestion sends them off into gales of forced laughter. It might be imagined from their didoes that the Shuberts, Earl Carroll, Mayor Walker's fondness for Broadway and the latest slang are known only in that sophisticated strip between Columbus Circle and Herald Square.

And I am often reminded that Main Street hasn't a monopoly on the spit-and-whittle clubs. Broadway, for instance, has any number of special stands for loafers. Glance in front of the Palace any evening. Or the Automat near the Globe. Or on the corner of 47th street and in front of those cluster of hotels in West 47th street. Loafing and exchanging intimate gossip is not confined to small towns. Loafers just appear more conspicuous there.

Also for years I have looked for the real man-about-town. He doesn't seem to be "about."

A Broadway wag suggests "Abie's Irish Rose" should close for a week to permit players to have their faces lifted. Most of the cast is intact and at this writing there are no indications of the end of the run.

HASKIN'S LETTER

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN

The Business of Education—II.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 21—One of the acute problems in the conduct of the business of education in the United States—is that of the equipment and maximum utilization of the equipment of the public schools. It is acute because of its direct bearing on the efficiency of the school system and because of the rapidly increasing congestion in the schools.

There is no denying the fact that as a whole the schools of the country are inadequately equipped. According to a survey made more than a year ago, of some 270,000 school buildings in the United States, 175,000 were one-room schools. About 250,000 children were being housed in makeshift buildings, portables, rented spaces, dwellings, stores, annexes, attics, and basements. Inadequate housing made it necessary that another 250,000 children only attend school half-time. Twice that number were in overcrowded classrooms.

The normal increase in population, the slowness with which it is possible to secure additional school facilities, and increased building cost all contributed to this congestion. Washington is a conspicuous example of a city that has suffered from this condition of affairs for several years. The nation's capital has grown rapidly in population. Congress, which holds the purse strings of the city, has been exceedingly reluctant, until the last session, to make the appropriations required to meet the situation, and the high costs of building construction have influenced both Congress and the local school officials to move slowly in the matter of new buildings in the hope and expectation that costs would come down.

But whatever the causes in any given community, it is indisputable that a serious congestion has existed. To relieve it, one of two things can be done. The first is to erect new buildings in line with the old school policy of "a seat for every child." To do this and meet the deficiency that existed more than a year ago would call for building space for more than 2,000,000, which would mean about 50,000 new classrooms, costing at least $600,000, with an annual maintenance expense of some $125,000. The second solution of the problem is the general adoption of the work-study-play or platoon plan for conducting schools.

How The System Works.

The two systems are explained and contrasted in a statement issued by the United State Bureau of Education. "Up to the present time," it says, "the public school system has been running on what is called by engineers the peak load plan of operation—on the principle of reserving a school seat for the exclusive use of one child during the entire year. When the children leave their classroom seats to go to special activities, such as play or shop, the seats remain va-

A FEW OF THE TRAGIC DETAILS!

Sir Frank Lockwood, a famous English cross-examiner, delighted in compiling stories of apt retorts made by witnesses on the stand in civil or criminal proceedings. One of the favorites of his collection dated back to the time when executions for capital offenses in England were carried out publicly.

According to Sir Frank, a Cockney appeared to testify in an issue.. On cross-examination the legal representative of the opposing side undertook to show by the witness' own answers that he was not of good reputation and that he came of a line of chronic offenders—housebreakers and even murderers.

"Is your father living?" asked the inquisitor.

"No, me poor father's dead."

"How did he die?"

"'E died of a broken neck."

"How did he happen to break his neck?"

"Well, 'e fell off a scaffold just outside of Newgate, talkin' to a clergyman."

The contest will be the first on the park gridiron where all games of the season will be staged, according to plans of the school board, in an effort to get away from mud and water at Central park.

The graduate gridders have been working out at the park for several days and feel in trim to give the school boys a battle.

ROAD WIDENING UP TO COUNTY

State Willing to Put $2,000 on Salineville Route.

Whether or not the Wellsville-Salineville road will be widened in Yellow Creek township along the stretch of narrow brick road depends entirely upon whether or not the county can partly finance the work.

The state highway department has announced its willingness to put $2,000 into the job, providing, however, the county will finance a like amount. It has proposed to cinder this narrow strip of dirt roadway.

When the new budget law went into effect last year, the county commissioners have been unable to borrow advances in anticipation of tax settlements, and as a result, for the current year, it has been impossible for the county to participate in a number of township projects that have been suggested by township trustees. The situation next year, however, will be somewhat relieved, so far as the county commissioners are concerned.

ADJUSTS OLD PENSION CLAIM

Congressman Murphy Aids Veteran's Son.

A very unusual and meritorious pension claim of 36 years standing has just been brought to a happy ending through the efforts of Congressman Frank Murphy, of Steubenville.

In 1888, Robert M. Birney, a Civil war veteran, died leaving a minor son, Thomas S. Birney, who was a helpless cripple as a result of some infantile disease. This boy was doubly unfortunate in that his mother died when he was only a few months old. The child had to depend on indulgent relatives who have since cared for him.

In 1890, Mr. Packer, a pension agent, filed a claim for the child, but, unfortunately, Packer died before the claim was adjusted and it was allowed to stand unproved.

Last year Thomas Birney was compelled to go to the hospital for medical attention and his relatives recalled his old pension claim and appealed to Congressman Murphy for help. Mr. Murphy soon ascertained the kind of evidence that was needed and informed the relatives who furnished it. Last week the commissioner of pensions decided that Thomas S. Birney was entitled to receive a pension from the date of his application in 1900 at the rate of $10 per month, the back pay to which he is entitled amounting to approximately $3,000.

This is, perhaps, one of the oldest pension claims that was ever adjusted.

HARRY J. MOYER AWAITS REPORT ON STORM LOSS

Owns Cortez Hotel and Apartment Buildings in Miami.

TAYLOR LEAVES

No Direct Advices as to Safety of Tourists.

Relatives of East Liverpool tourists in Florida as well as owners of interests in the winter playground were today awaiting definite information as to the havoc caused by the tropical hurricane which swept into the Gulf coast states after striking at Miami and other cities.

Dr. C. H. Birkett, Sixth street, and Joseph Betz, Thompson avenue, had been unable up until noon today to get into communication with Mr. and Mrs. Willard Birkett, who were guests at the Wofford hotel, Miami, the roof of which was caved in by the storm. Mrs. Birkett is a daughter of Mr. Betz.

Advices from John O. Taylor, East Liverpool youth who acted as courier in relaying messages from Miami to Sebring, Fla., telegraphed yesterday afternoon that the "Birketts are safe and sound." However, no message has been received from the young people who had been spending their honeymoon there.

David McCleary in Miami.

Inquiries relative to the safety of David McCleary, formerly employed as linotype operator by the Review-Tribune, who left Palm Beach for Miami on Wednesday morning, were being made today.

Homer Taylor, father of John O. Taylor, who has extensive property interests in Miami, left for Florida last night. He was accompanied by his son-in-law, Harold McNutt.

Harry J. Moyer, of Moyer's Star Bargain store, owner of the 11-story Cortez hotel and four apartment houses in Miami, had been unable today to obtain reports as to whether his property had been damaged. Because of engagements here Mr. Moyer will be unable to go to Florida for at least 10 days.

Common Pleas Judge S. D. Kenfield issued an injunction restraining Imperial Wizard H. W. Evans and other officers of the Klan from interfering with the proposed transfer of the local charter and funds to the Protestant Service league.

A majority of the local group had voted to return its charter as a protest against the removal of its former head, Dr. W. K. Smith, and to place $54,000 in assets in trust with the service league.

COLLEEN MOORE IN SCREEN HIT

"It Must Be Love" Pleases Crowd at American.

Two of the most popular emotional credos are featured in the Colleen Moore starrring vehicle, "It Must Be Love," running currently at the American theatre. They are Laughter and Tears.

Both, of course, with capitals—for Colleen Moore laughs and tears warrant only capitals, and especially those elicited so willingly from the crowded audiences viewing "It Must Be Love."

The motif of the entertainment is "Delicatessen." Adapted from the Brooke Hanlon short story by that name, the scenarist and director have admirably established an atmosphere in which limburger and onions vie with dill pickles for comedy honors.

It is delightful comedy-drama at its best; yet the most attractive thing about his picure is its innate humanness—the sense of nearness and reality it give because it deals with such people as we all know and, in fact, are. And the love interest is certainly well handled, with Malcolm McGregor as the suitor for Colleen's hand.

The future happiness of the two lovers is threatened at more than one climatic point by the entrance of Arthur Stone, hopelessly comical in his characterization as a sausage manufacturer and the suitor chosen by Colleen's father. Although there is comedy eternally mingled with the pathos of this feature, the romance is never unrealistic.

When Colleen, as Fernie, meets Malcolm McGregor, as Jack, for the first time; when Fernie quarrels with "Pop," and he tells her to get out of his home; when Fernie finds that her father is going to buy a bungalow for them to live in, and she can't accept because she has already told Jack she would marry him—these are a few of the high points of the drama. And to top it all, there is the most unusual and unexpected, yet on second thought the most natural, ending screened in many a day.

John McCormick, producer of Colleen Moore pictures for First National, has surrounded Miss Moore with an exceptional cast, including, besides those already mentioned, Bodil Rosing, Dorothy Seastrom, Cleve Moore, Mary O'Brien and Ray Hallor.

This is the nationally approved salt

When it rains —it pours

A small amount of Iodine is almost as essential to life as air or water. According to high medical authorities, normal health without Iodine is impossible.

Goiter is the most common symptom of the lack of Iodine in the daily food and water supply, but there are many others not so noticeable.

Years of scientific experiments have proven the value of adding a small amount of Iodine to the daily diet. Too much is dangerous—too little, useless.

Morton's Iodized Salt is made under the supervision of competent chemists. Each package is guaranteed to contain the exact amount recommended; that is why health authorities everywhere recommend its use.

Nature's Iodine has been restored in a convenient and economical form for you to use. Do not risk disease for yourself or family.

COUNSEL NAMED FOR MAZER IN MELLETT CASE

Rudner and Louis Will be Arraigned Thursday.

MURDER CHARGED

Canton and Alliance Attorneys Will Direct Defense.

CANTON, O., Sept. 21.—Ben Rudner and Louis Mazer will be arraigned in common pleas court before Judge E. W. Diehl, on Thursday morning to plead to the indictments found against them by a Stark county grand jury, for first degree murder in connection with the killing of Don R. Mellett, Canton publisher on July 16, as he was putting his car away in the garage in the rear of his residence.

Mazer was taken into court late yesterday afternoon and still insisted he was penniless and unable to hire attorneys to defend him at the murder trial and Judge Diehl appointed E. A. McCuskey of this city and K. C. Koehler of Alliance as counsel. Mazer told Prosecutor C. B. McClintock that possibly his friends might get together a fund with which to engage counsel and when the prosecutor communicated this information to the court, Judge Diehl said if Mazer could get his own attorney he would relieve McCuskey and Koehler of the duties he had imposed upon them.

Dempsey Hits at Kearns

Reasons for Discharge.

Dempsey's answer said that in August, 1925, he discovered that Kearns "had appropriated to himself certain moneys which belonged to me and which aggregated $500,000."

"It was on account of this fact," Dempsey said, "and also because I discovered that Mr. Kearns was an ex-convict, having been imprisoned in a penitentiary in the state of Washington for a considerable period of time after he had been duly convicted, that I dispensed with his services."

Dempsey said he told Kearns his opinions of him.

"I told him that for these reasons I was discharging him as an employee," Dempsey said.

"I further told Mr. Kearns," the champion added, "that I would not make public the reasons for his discharge. But in view of the fact that in the public print in the affidavit he submitted in the court of chancery he stated that the reason for our breach was that, against his wishes and advice, I contracted marriage with Estelle Taylor and that my aforesaid wife became embittered against him because of his opposition to the marriage and so worked upon my feelings that I refused longer to recognize Mr. Kearns as my manager or abide by the terms of the contract, I now make this disclosure."

Dempsey did not appear in court this morning, he was represented by counsel.

Vice Chancellor Robert H. Ingersol postponed the hearing of Kearns' suit until two weeks from today, when Dempsey must appear personally.

Kearns Files Attachment.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 21.—A writ of foreign attachment issued by John R. K. Scott, attorney for Jack Kearns, against Jack Dempsey, as defendant and Tex Rickard as garnishee, with bail fixed at $600,000 was filed in common pleas court, No. 5, here today.

The writ garnishees all property and interests of Dempsey in Pennsylvania, including such moneys held by Rickard for the champion.

Bail in such cases is usually double the amount of the claim of the plaintiff and Dempsey's debt to Kearns, according to the attachment writ, amounts to $300,000.

No action can be taken on the writ, however, until the court has ruled on the legality of its claims. No date has been set for a hearing.

O. K. Radio Transaction.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 21.—Officials of the Philadelphia sesqui-centennial today approved the transaction whereby the Royal Typewriter company acquired the rights to broadcast the Dempsey-Tunney fight Thursday night. The broadcasting rights were sold by Tex Rickard, promotor. No announcement has yet been made as to who will be the announcer.

No Federal Interference.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21.—The federal government will not interfere with the Dempsey-Tunney fight, it was learned today.

Ministerial protests against the battle at the sesqui-centennial made to President Coolidge and referred to Secretary Hoover and Secretary of State Kellogg, federal commissioners of the centennial, have been thoroughly considered by Hoover.

"The government hasn't the remotest control over the sesqui-centennial or the fight unless an attempt would be made to stage the affair in the government exhibition building," Hoover said.

Man's Charred Body Found Locked in Burning House Boat

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 21.—Mystery surrounds the finding of a charred body, believed to be that of John Houlihan, 63, locked in a burning house boat in the Ohio river here today. Detectives are investigating to ascertain how the man came to be locked in the boat.

ing and they might be interested in this suggestion.

Needless to say, Mr. Rickenbacker, whom this writer has not seen in months, knows nothing about it.

It is a pity that a man with complete knowledge of flying and great influence among young Americans should waste his time in any commercial pursuit. His knowledge could increase by five thousand within two years the number of young Americans also to defend their country in case of need.

IN ONE year Great Britain has paid out $229,000,000 to the unemployed. The prosperous class consider this outrageous. They are taxed to support those not working. England, however, has managed for many years to keep away from revolutions. The prosperous should not forget that.

Miami Rebuilds

believed an accurate casualty list cannot be obtained for several days. More than 200 are reported dead in Miami, Miami Beach and Hollywood.

Sebrings Reports "All Well."

Expressions of sympathy and offers of aid were received from all parts of the country. Medical supplies and foodstuffs were pouring in at such a rate that civil authorities asked that the outside world be assured that the only aid needed by Greater Miami was money to aid the destitute in rebuilding their homes. The food supply is ample for about 60 days and more can be obtained on short notice, authorities said.

The fury of the storm was spent between Miami and Pompano, about 40 miles north. The hurricane which tore a path of death and destruction along the lower east coast continued its havoc across the state, killing 40 people at Moorehaven, on Lake Okeechobee.

Sebring suffered considerable damage from wind and water. Key West reported that "all was well."

South Miami Casinos Leveled.

An estimate of the property damage in the storm-wrecked district is impossible at this time but the combined losses of Miami, Miami Beach, Hollywood, and Ft. Lauderdale, including marine destruction, will conservatively exceed $250,000,000.

In Miami Beach, which is practically isolated from the outside world by a condemned causeway, many mansions were razed by the hurricane.

The Carl G. Fisher home in Lincoln road is a mass of debris. The Roney Plaza, Wofford, and Pan Coast hotels, all along the ocean front, bore the brunt of the storm. The Gulf Stream apartment building, farther north, was damaged to the extent of $100,000. The Firestone estate and a number of beautiful homes were wrecked.

At South Miami beach where the hurricane hit hardest, all of the casinos were leveled. Some of the structures have disappeared. The Floridan hotel, which broke up under the gale, was converted into an emergency hospital. The Fleetwood used as a dormitory for many homeless. In Bay Biscayne, hundreds of craft, both large and small, were battered to pieces by the angry waters. The Bay Front park was strewn with demolished yachts and schooners. A large oil tanker was heaved to Royal Palm park where is settled high and dry.

With the disposal of martial law, it was made plain that military authorities would cooperate with the city in maintaining peace and order.

Every workman was pressed into service rebuilding houses. New roofs were going on rapidly, street crews were cleaning the thoroughfares of fallen trees, telephone poles and other debris. Storekeepers began taking an inventory of their undamaged stocks.

At a meeting Monday night attended by representatives of every branch of the city and county government, civic clubs, Red Cross and other organizations first steps were taken to bring about normalcy and precautions taken against epidemic.

Governor Greets 2,000 Kiwanians At State Session

COLUMBUS, Sept. 21.—More than 2,000 Ohio Kiwanis club members and their wives, were greeted here today by Governor Vic Donahey, who delivered the welcoming address before the opening session of the ninth annual convention of that organization.

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, Sept. 21.—A new increase of $57,000,000 in brokerage loans in the New York district, as reported by the federal reserve board, furnished the confident bears with a further supply of ammunition for their raid on stock values in the early trading today. Industrial and specialty stocks were poured on the market in the first period, and numerous sustained losses of from 1 to 3½ points.

In banking circles it was said that both the $78,000,000 loss in reserves of the clearing house banks and the unexpected expansion in brokers' loans could be more than counterbalanced by a resort to rediscounting at the federal reserve bank, and no great apprehension was felt over the temporary stiffening of money following so closely the huge treasury receipts and disbursements of last week.

For that reason there was a good back-log of buying orders for the better grade of industrial stocks at slight concessions from Monday's final prices. United States Steel, in fact, refused to break 142½, its former closing level, and most of its sales were at 143 or better. General Motors lost about a point and promptly recovered. Mack Trucks and Hudson received much better support. Warner Pictures broke to 48¼ for a loss of 3⅜. Sinclair was the weak spot in the oils, with heavy trading around 20½.

The renewal rate of 5½ per cent for call money was the highest since March. Commodity markets were steady, with grain and cotton practically unchanged.

Walter Hagen is Leading Turnesa in "Pro" Golf Match

SALISBURY COUNTRY CLUB, GARDEN CITY, N. Y., Sept. 21.—Walter Hagen, Pasadena, Florida, led Joe Turnesa, Elmsford, N. Y., three up when they had played the first 18 holes in their 36-hole match, in the first round of the Professional Golfers' association championship today.

Hagen established an early lead, winning the second, third and fourth holes and at one time was five up, but Turnesa holed a 25-foot putt for a birdie two to win the sixteenth and a thirty footer to win the eighteenth with a birdie three.

Bucyrus Broker Dead, Woman Hurt In Auto Crash

MARION, O., Sept. 21. — Joe M. Hepp, 35, Bucyrus and Cleveland, broker for the Suburban Light and Power company, Cleveland, is dead here today and a young woman registered in a Bucyrus hotel as Miss Elizabeth Kearney, Cleveland, is recovering in her Cleveland home following an automobile crash on the Marion-Bucyrus road here last night.

Hepp sustained a broken neck and a fractured skull. The girl, said by witnesses to have been the driver of the machine, a Studebaker, sedan, escaped with minor bruises. Hepp died enroute to City hospital.

Pensacola Cut Off

With the fury almost spent, the storm passed island along the Alabamab and northwestern Florida coast, taking a known death toll of 10 lives. This figure may be materially increased, however, when the toll taken at Pensacola becomes known.

Five Dead Near Florida Border.

Five were reported killed when the storm struck Jackson, Alabama, near the Florida border. Two were killed near Bay Minnette and three more lives were taken at Flomatin, reports said.

New Orleans escaped with small damage, but the city was swept by a heavy rain and miniature gale. The gulf coast towns further east were hardest hit, with scores of settlements reporting property damage and injuries from the storm.

Even as far north as Atlanta, the fury of the hurricane was felt. A cold rain fell steadily and the temperature dropped 20 degrees in a few hours.

No ships were reported in distress, many doubtless heeding the warnings given by the weather bureau and seeking safety before the tempest broke.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 21.—Mobile has escaped heavy damage from the tropical hurricane and there was no loss of life, according to word received here today by J. P. Burton, train dispatcher of the Louisville and Nashville railroad.

Burton said he was informed by the foreman of a train crew that was rushed to Mobile to repair damage to railroad property, that while Mobile was buffeted by a 100-mile gale the damage was not great and there were no casualties.

Two Towns Hard Hit.

Lillian and Seminole, two small coastal towns between Mobile and Pensacola, were reported wiped out with considerable loss of life and property, radio experts said.

Wind velocity along the Gulf coast continued high today. Ocean springs reported 60 miles an hour, with the gale driving water over low lying districts and damaging crops.

A relief train has been sent from Birmingham with orders to push forward to Mobile as far as possible.

Four States Swept.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 21. — Word was anxiously awaited today as to the damage and possible casualties suffered by Pensacola and Mobile and other gulf coast towns struck by the West Indian hurricane.

Somewhat spent in its fury, the storm swept inland with its center at Meridian, Miss. But the whole of Alabama and parts of Mississippi, Louisiana and Georgia were in the grip of the storm, and a virtual cloudburst was reported at Troy, Ala.

Pensacola was still cut off, and only fragmentary radio reports came from Mobile. The Algiers navy radio station here got in touch with Pensacola at 8 o'clock last night and was advised that little property damage was done despite a 72-mile gale.

All efforts to communicate with Pensacola since then have failed. A radio report from an unknown steamer, however, reported Pensacola "in ruins."

Death Toll Mounts.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Sept. 21.—The known death toll in the storm that struck Alabama coastal towns was raised to eight today when three more persons died of injuries in Jackson, Ala. Five were killed by the storm there yesterday. Many buildings were destroyed.

MOBILE, Ala., Sept. 21.—Not content with the death and destruction which it wrought in southern Florida all during Sunday and Monday, the West Indian hurricane today continued its wrathful march inland from the Gulf of Mexico, laying waste sections of northwest Florida, southern Alabama and Louisiana.

Damage here and in Pensacola probably will total a million dollars or more, it is believed. No loss of life in Mobile had been reported early today, however.

A radio report stated that the towns of Seminole and Lillian, Alabama, had been wrecked, with the loss of ten or a dozen lives, and great property damage. Five were killed when the tempest struck the village of Jackson, Ala., two were reported killed near Bay Minette and several crushed by debris at Flomaton.

Extensive property damage and injuries to persons were reported from Enterprise, Hartford, Geneva, Bay Minette, Monroeville, Dothan, Brewton, Troy, Andalusia, Evergreen and Flomaton.

Florida's Death Toll 600

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Sept. 21. — Sorrow, sympathy, suffering and aid. Four simple words, but they epitomize the situation in Florida today as this state begins the sorry job of burying its dead—at least 600 of them—and helping the living.

Horrified by the ravages of the hurricane which brought the greatest catastrophe in Florida's history to Miami, West Palm Beach and smaller cities in south Florida, relief workers in this comparatively undamaged section of the state had just thrown themselves to the task of relief when the storm after crossing the gulf of Mexico struck Pensacola.

No verified reports have come of the Pensacola damage, but immediately after the hurricane hit Pensacola and other gulf cities further west, preparations were made for relief work there if needed.

88 8Dead In Miami City.

MIAMI, Fla., Sept. 21.—Acting Mayor Ames Gilman and City Manager Frank H. Wharton today issued an official statement to the effect that property damage in Miami as a result of Saturday's hurricane would total over $125,000,000. There is plenty of food in the city to take care of every needy person, but money donations will be gladly accepted, Wharton said.

The official death toll as released by the Miami police department last night totaled 88 of which 74 are whites and 14 negroes. All of these have been identified. Fourteen additional bodies await identification in local undertaking rooms. This list comprises the city of Miami only.

An old-timer is one who can remember when it seemed funny to call two people a family.—Youngstown Vindicator.

DR. T. T. CHURCH ROTARY GUEST

Health Commissioner Urges Continuance of County Camp.

Appeal for aid in furthering the work of the county health camp which has been in operation in recent years, was made to members of the Rotary club at their noon luncheon meeting today in the Y. M. C. A. by Dr. T. T. Church, county health commissioner.

Appointment of a club committee to investigate facts in connection with the operation of the camp was suggested by Dr. Church.

Approximately 65 club members and guests attended the meeting.

President Malcolm Thompson announced plans for the ladies' night meeting next Tuesday at 6:30 p. m. at the Country club. There will be no noon meeting on that day.

Dr. Samuel Rich, member of the committee including R. L. E. Chambers, Blaine Cochran and Frank Wehner, outlined arrangements for the club's visit to Youngstown on Friday, October 1. A golf tournament at the Mahoning Valley Country club, luncheon and other diversions are planned. The club will assemble in the morning at 10 o'clock and will make the trip to Youngstown in a body, by motor.

How 16 crippled children, 12 boys and four girls, were given a "treat" at the county fair last Thursday, was told by Attorney Blaine H. Cochran. The youngsters were taken to the fair and shown everything, from start to finish, by a delegation of Rotary club members.

Dr. M. D. McCutcheon, chairman, introduced Dr. Church, the club's chief guest and speaker. Dr. Church outlined the organization and duties of the county and city boards of health and urged that health board appointments, from state down, be kept out of politics. He pointed out also that the city of East Liverpool should have a permanent, full time health board, as well as a school nurse.

Father, Enraged, Kills Disobedient Son With Old Shoe

HERRIN, Ill., Sept. 21.—Enraged when police brought his 11-year-old son Bradley to his home today after he had been out all night, H. B. Burnett hurled an old work shoe at the boy, injuring him fatally. The shoe struck the boy in the neck, unjointing the member.

"I'o killed my baby," the father sobbed in his cell where he is held awaiting the action of a coroner's jury. "I had been trying to make the boy do right. I'm not afraid of punishment, but think what I've done."

American Embassy Attaches Burned in London Plane Crash

CROYDON, England, Sept. 21.—Major Clarence Tinker of Oklahoma and Commander Robert Burg of Nebraska, both attached to the American embassy in London, were severely injured today when an aeroplane in which they were flying here crashed. The plane burst into flames when it hit the ground and both men were badly burned.

Storm Aid is Asked

$7p3,343 Fund Raised.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21.—The nation has responded generously to President Coolidge's appeal for funds for relief of Florida hurricane sufferers, the Red Cross announced today.

Within 24 hours, the Red Cross, in charge of relief work, secured donations totalling $743,343.93.

New York Responds.

NEW YORK, Sept. 21.—While the lists of the dead and the injured still were pouring in today from the storm-stricken area of Florida, New York city and New York state began organizing and extending aid to the sufferers.

Responding to proclamations by President Coolidge and Governor Smith, and a similar call by Mayor Walker, New Yorkers expressed their sympathy for the stricken Floridians in terms of medicines and provisions. A relief committee of 68 prominent men, working under a super-committee of 10, all familiar with Florida conditions, was appointed by Mayor Walker to formulate plans for systematic collection of relief funds. The mayor telegraphed to Governor John W. Martin that New York city stands "ready to render every aid humanly possible."

Similar preparations for prompt aid were initiated in other cities throughout the state.

Ready To Cope With Epidemic.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21. — All resources of the public health service will be offered to combat the spread of the epidemic which was reported to have broken out in the wake of the Florida storm, Surgeon General Hugh S. Cummings announced today.

Dr. J. H. Linson has been sent to Florida, and all health officials in the stricken state have been instructed to take every precaution against an epidemic, he said. Serum and supplies are being held in readiness for use by the Red Cross if needed.

Florida Burying Her Dead.

Florida digging herself out of the ruins, surveying her wounds, and burying her dead—the Gulf Coast, hard hit and still staggering, unable as yet definitely to ascertain the damage wrought.

This was the situation this morning, almost 72 hours after the West Indian hurricane hurled itself out of tropical seas and fell with a deafening roar and sickening crash upon America's winter playground.

The extent of the damage wrought by 100-mile gales and heavy seas thrown bodily into unprotected communities can only be approximated. It is heavy enough, both in lives and property, so that the hurricane will go down in history as one of the most terrible catastrophes ever visited upon the nation, but is probably will be days before an accurate estimate can be made.

Relief Work Under Way.

Out of the confusion of wrecked cities, interrupted communication, and impassable roads, however, there was emerging this morning a slight semblance of order. Relief work was getting under way with a degree of system, communication with communities cut off from the outside world since the fury broke was slowly being established, and every incoming dispatch from the stricken area told of the determination of the sufferers to build anew what has been destroyed.

As order emerged out of chaos, the toll of human life taken by this grisly freak of nature appeared to diminish. Whereas some estimates on Sunday and Monday had placed the dead as high as 2,000, today's dispatches brought this figure down materially. It is now reported to be doubtful if the death list runs above 500—a grim enough toll, but still greatly below the original estimates.

But as the damage to human life diminished with the restoration of order and communication, the material toll appeared to mount higher. The damage to property has been terrific and widespread.

Miami's Loss $125,000,000.

In Miami alone, the city manager has estimated the destruction to property at $125,000,000, and Miami was only one of the Eden-like winter playgrounds strung jewel-like along the south Florida coast, which lay directly in the pathway of the freakish and devastating wind. Other noted and costly resorts—Hollywood, Coral Gables, Delray, Homestead, Miami Beach, and the resorts further inland around Lake Okeechobee, suffered tremendously. In Moorehaven alone the death list is estimated at 60.

Strenuous efforts were being made today to re-establish communication with Pensacola, on the Gulf coast. The powerful naval radio station there has been silent since a final message yesterday which said the wind was attaining a velocity of 100 miles an hour and was causing heavy damage.

It is not believed, however, that the Gulf coast resorts have suffered anything like what Florida has undergone.

Meanwhile, the nation with its customary generosity is pouring money and supplies into the stricken cities. Reports to Red Cross headquarters in Washington today disclosed that the nation has risen magnificently to the appeal for funds for relief work.

2 Die as Plane Burns

Fire Engines Called.

There was a cheer, however, when Fonck and Curtin were found safe after having been thrown clear off the burning plane.

Fonck and Curtin were able to walk to an automobile which, it is believed, took them to the home of F. R. Mayer in Hewlett, L. I., where they had spent the night.

Fire engines from the nearby towns of Hempstead and Mineola arrived in record-breaking time, followed a moment later by an ambulance from Mitchell Field. There was little that either doctors or firemen could do. Great clouds of white smoke shot into the air a distance of 40 feet, with underlying sheets of flame as the gasoline-drenched ground continued to burn. Two airplanes circled overhead taking motion pictures of the fire, which will burn for hours.

Blaze Traps Victims' Bodies.

From a hasty survey of the runway on which the plane had attempted to make its hop to Paris, it is believed that a contributing factor in the accident was the breaking of the auxiliary landing gear. This gear, which was designed to help the machine carry the tremendous load of more than 13,000 pounds of gasoline, in some manner became entangled just before the take-off, it is believed. The total plane, with its load, weighed 28,860 pounds.

In its run along the ground, the plane had gathered such speed that it shot out into space perhaps five or six hundred feet after it had cleared the edge of the little cliff.

As the plane continued to burn, with wings of the master machine lying like skeletons beside the warped and twisted fuselage, there remained no doubt in anyone's mind but that both Islamoff and Clavier are dead. It will be some hours before their bodies can be removed.

French Ace's Explanation.

Fonck and Curtin went to the hangar of the Sikorsky company. The French ace explained the accident.

"I noticed the auxiliary landing gear had given way when we hit a bump," he said. "The right wheel went in an oblique direction, and I could feel that it had torn the left rudder loose. At first I tried to slow up. Then I knew it was useless to do that because the gulley was so close. I opened her up again, hoping to get into the air. But it could not be done, and we smashed."

Contrary to first reports, the pilot and his assistant were not thrown clear of the plane. Sensing the danger of remaining in the plane Fonck and Curtain crawled out on the nose of it. The motors were still running and how they managed to escape the whirring propellers they do not know themselves.

The adventurers had hoped to reach Le Bourget airdome, near Paris, some time tomorrow evening. If they had succeeded they would have flown 3,577 miles, a new world's distance record for a non-stop flight. Lloyds of London had posted odds of 7 to 3 that they would not succeed.

Shock to French Republic.

PARIS, Sept. 21.—The disaster to Lieutenant Fonck's trans-Atlantic plane came as a great shock to the French public, and attracted wide attention.

Charles Clavier, the wireless operator who lost his life, was a native of Paris. He was 34 years old and the father of two children.

COUNTY PEACH CROP IS LARGE

Production is Heaviest Recorded in Recent Years.

The Columbiana county peach crop which is now being harvested is declared by commercial growers to be the largest in recent years. The market is very low, some farmers selling chip baskets at the farm being quarter bushel containers for from 25 to 35 cents, while the half bushel baskets, according to size are to be had for from 25 to 50 cents. Bushel baskets are in heavy demand at from 75 to $1.00.

Just get an original bottle of Moones' Emerald Oil at any dispensing pharmacist and apply it night and morning as directed to the enlarged veins. It is very powerful nad penetrating, and only a little is required.

After a few days' treatment the veins will begin to grow smaller and by regular use will soon reduce to normal.

People who want to reduce varicose veins, or get rid of running sores, ulcers, or piles in a few days should not hesitate to get a bottle at once. It is so powerful that a small bottle lasts a long time. Any pharmacy can supply you. Mathews' Medicine Store, J. D. Holloway, sells lots of it.

UNITED STATES TIRES ARE GOOD TIRES

Answering Some Questions About the Most Advanced Method of Tire Building

Steps in Building a United States Tire by the Flat Band Method

1. Laying plies of Latex-treated Web Cord on drum. 2. Applying tread rubber. 3. Placing tire on inflation machine. 4. Inflation finished. Tire formed.

Some facts about the United States Rubber Company's "Flat Band Method" which ensures uniform stretch and tension of every cord in the tire

Q—What is the "Flat Band Method" of building a tire?

A—The tire is built in the form of a flat band upon a drum. The plies of Latex-treated Web Cord are laid and fitted by hand, one above the other. The opposite edges of the band are turned around and securely anchored to "beads" consisting of rings of many strands of piano wire imbedded in hard rubber. The flat band carcass is then brought into shape on a special machine.

Q—Does this differ from the usual method of building tires?

A—Yes. Before the United States Rubber Company developed the Flat Band Method, the usual practice was to use a solid, metal ring-shaped form on which the cord fabric was laid and pressed into place by a rotating wheel coming in contact with the surface of the rubberized fabric.

Q—What does Flat Band building add to the service of United States Tires?

A—It makes the tire uniformly strong throughout. It eliminates the fault often found in the old-style construction, of some cords being too taut while others were loose. In Flat Band building, all the cords are under even tension, and flexibility is uniform. There are no weak spots to develop trouble.

Q—What Company developed the Flat Band Method?

A—The Flat Band Method was developed by the United States Rubber Company and is patented and owned by this Company.

STATE POLICE SET NEW MARK

Record for Arrests is Made Last Month by Troopers.

The greatest arrest report ever shown by the West Virginia department of public safety has been issued covering the activities of the department for the month of August when the troopers set a new record for monthly arrests—1,649.

The majority were on miscellaneous charges, which included 103 felonies, six of them murders, in addition to a number of minor cases such as pistol toting and other violations of the statutes, which helped to swell the total of miscellaneous arrests to 842. Persons arrested on charges coming under the miscellaneous classifications were fined $5,783 while costs amounted to $1,601.85 and the more serious crimes brought about confinements totalling 31 years, one month and 26 days.

Road law cases also contributed a large part to the total number of arrests with 472 persons arrested charged with speeding, reckless driving or some one of the many other violations of the statutes governing operation of motor vehicles. Fines in the road law cases were $5,497; costs $2,776.30 and confinements reached a total of six years, three months and 20 days. All of the arrests made under this classification were the result of a vigorous campaign being waged by the West Virginia troopers in an effort to reform the "take-chance" driver and promote the safety of motorists traveling over the many miles of improved roadway to be found in the beauty spots of the Mountain State.

Moonshining and bootlegging activities also claimed a large portion of the troopers' time during August and 335 persons were arrested charged with violations of the prohibition laws of the state and nation and fined a total of $42,405, while the costs in liquor cases amounted to $9,646.25, and confinements were 25 years and 11 months. Seventy stills, 986 gallons of moonshine, 15,100 gallons of mash and 2,179 gallons of wine and beer were confiscated or destroyed by the troopers who also confiscated 28 automobiles used for transportation of liquor and turned them over to the federal authorities.

STATE HOSPITAL HEAD RETAINED

Dr. W. D. McClung yesterday was reappointed as superintendent of the state hospital for the insane, at Spencer, by Governor Gore, the appointment to continue at the "will and pleasure of the governor."

Dr. McClung has been held at the institution by Governor Gore in spite of the criticism directed at the physician which came almost exclusively from sources near the institution.

Governor Gore inspected the hospital with members of the board of control last week and is said to have found conditions in excellent shape. He was particularly struck with the cleanliness of the place and the organization which handles the patients.

RECORD POTATO CROP IN STATE

One hundred car loads of potatoes grown by West Virginia farmers will be sold and consumed inside the state this year, according to figures compiled at the Charleston headquarters of the West Virginia Farm Bureau. The potatoes were grown under the system sponsored by the West Virginia Potato Growers' association, affiliated with the bureau.

A new peak of production was reached by the potato growers in the state this year, the shipments coming mainly from the Ohio and Greenbrier valleys, and Tucker, Randolph, Harrison and Barbour counties.

Many farmers in the state, at the beginning of the last planting season, broke away from their time-honored crops, including the growing of wheat and devoted their attention to potatoes. They were so successful this summer, according to information given to them by the growers association, that other farmers are planning to follow suit next year.

Dempsey Sends Out S. O. S. For Good Second Who Can Think

Recalls Willard's Problem At Toledo As Big Bout Nears

Scheduled to Fight Thursday Against Tunney With Most Singular Collection of Handlers Who Ever Handicapped a Boxer.

By Davis J. Walsh.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 21.—When Jess Willard stepped into the ring at Toledo, he was a man absolutely on his own with a couple of seconds who were more like thirds and a business manager who had hinges in his neck from saying "yes." It may or may not be significant, but the fact remains that our Mr. Dempsey is going into the ring on Thursday night with the most singular collection of handlers that ever handicapped a fighter.

They are, rated in the order of their importance, Jerry Luvadis, a Greek, who knows three words of English and uses them once each year; Gene Normile, a race track man who can tell you how a race should be run but "not" how a fight should be fought; Gus Wilson, a Frenchman who says he is a trainer, and one Captain Nabbutt, a fat man who will be coming into the ring for the first round when the second is over.

Considered Bagley.

I can't think of a more inept combination. Neither can Dempsey, according to reports. They said today that he was considering hiring Philadelphia Jack O'Brien as a second and Philadelphia Jack was right the last time they used nail files for tooth brushes.

It also was said that Dempsey was considering Doc Bagley for this role. The doc is a good man in spite of the fact that he once managed Tunney. The doctor thought better of it. Willard was a goof.

He thought he knew so much about the racket that he would be handicapped by an excess of mentality in his immediate corner. Therefore, he dispensed with mentality and made up for it with numbers. It was a swell idea but the execution was terrible. A good, clear thinking second in Willard's corner might have saved the title for him that day after the first punch on the jaw had rendered him non plus ultra or something.

Dempsey, it is understood, has informed his prospective handlers that he wants to fight this fight his own way with no interference from his corner. That, also, is a swell idea, except for the fact that one might as well ask Pooley Hubert for no interference as to expect that mob or nearsaps to render aid, succor and assistance when all three are demanded at one and the same time.

Has Had His Warning.

That fat captain will be waddling around, the French chef must be there to be the extra cook to spoil the broth, the Chicago and New York detective sergeants, four strong, will be on hand to see that the champion is not approached by a guest without a waiting garment or any other and a French attache who never backed a winner will be among those present for no reason at all.

With this array, it isn't surprising that Dempsey was casting about for a practical boxing man who knows his victuals. He has had sufficient warning from the over-confident Willard, who would have given a half million dollars for an ounce of brains in his corner rather than a pound of punch in his glove at Toledo.

Well, Fans, Looks Like Yanks Have Got Flag Nailed Up

Despite their two game setback yesterday by the Chicago White Sox, the Yankees appear to have clinched the American League championship as a result of Cleveland's defeat at the hands of Boston, 3 to 2. With a chance to gain a game and a half and cut the New York team's lead to two games, the Indians went ahead only half a game, and now trail by three. But—to even tie for the championship Cleveland must win all six remaining games while the Yankees drop four out of six.

The panorama above is of the Yankee stadium in New York, where, providing the Yanks win at least three games yet, one-half of the world's series will be played this fall. Inset in their regular positions are the regulars of the New York team, Urban Shocker, pitching ace, and Manager Huggins.

K. of C. "Open House" Party Planned for Jack-Gene Fight

"Open house" will be the rule at the Knights of Columbus lodge rooms in the Ingram building, Diamond, Thursday evening, when Jack Dempsey and Gene Tunney will battle for the heavyweight championship in the sesqui-centennial stadium at Philadelphia.

Lodge officers today announced that plans had been completed for an up-to-the-second service on the big fight, which will be broadcast from the City of Brotherly Love.

Special radio equipment is to be installed by the lodge men who anticipate a large attendance at the "fight party."

The Giants had a relapse and lost two games to the Cubs, 4 to 2 and 2 to 1.

Pittsburgh, with an outside chance to finish second, blanked the Phillies, 4 to 0, as Joe Bush turned in a two-hit performance.

The Senators copped two from the Browns, 7 to 4 and 8 to 2, and advanced to within half a game of Philadelphia. Joe Harris hit two homers.

TUNNEY LAYS GLOVES ASIDE

Next Time He Tapes Hands Will be Thursday Night.

STROUDSBURG, Pa., Sept. 21.—Gene Tunney, challenger for the heavyweight championship, said today he is in the best condition of his career and ready for his battle with Jack Dempsey.

Tunney has put the gloves aside. The next time his hands will be bound in tape will be on Thursday night when he enters the ring.

The challenger now weighs 191 pounds, but he expects to cut down to 187. During his last day of training yesterday, Tunney fought four rounds with his sparring partners.

HUB TEAMS MAY DECIDE RACES

Braves Jolt Reds While Sox Turn Back Tribe.

NEW YORK, Sept. 21.—Boston's baseball clubs today are the champion stumbling blocks of the big leagues. The Braves handed the Reds a terrific jolt yesterday by beating them twice, while the Red Sox defeated Cleveland and prevented the Indians from gaining valuable ground.

St. Louis leads Cincinnati by two full games this morning. The Reds must gain one game on the leaders during the next four contests to be able to tie the Cardinals by beating them in the last game of the season.

The Yankees, faltering badly, lost two games to the White Sox but lead Cleveland by three games. If the Yanks win three of their remaining six games, the Indians can do no better than tie them.

Play First Round In Club Title Matches

The first match of the championship is scheduled for September 27 to 29, inclusive; the second from September 30 to October 2, inclusive; the third from October 4 to October 6, inclusive, and the final from October 7 to October 9, inclusive.

Trophies will be awarded to the winner, the runner-up and the consolation finisher in each division.

An old pal foursome for the J. M. Wells and J. N. Porter trophies, a postponed event, has been re-scheduled for next Saturday.

INSIDE GOLF

By CHESTER HORTON,
Maker of 51 Golf Champions. "Golf's most successful teacher," says "Chick" Evans.

When the right hand pull is introduced in the back swing the right arm not only takes possession of the club, but it invariably draws itself inward, toward the body, which is bad. Some players have found a successful cure for this by making the right hand, at the beginning of the back swing, resist the left arm push slightly. This certainly keeps the left side fixedly at its work in the back swing, though the player who does this should be careful to release this right-hand pressure some time before he gets to the top of the back swing. The natural tendency is to speed things up as the club swings backward, and naturally as the speed increases the right-hand pressure will automatically increase too, so that if this keeps up you will have too great a pressure near the top. In fact, it will cause your arms and shoulders to stiffen and becom reigid. Mkea hte right-hand pressure so light that it doesn't become a drag.

Hagen Defends Pro Title in Match Play; Turnesa First Foe

SALISBURY COUNTRY CLUB, GARDEN CITY, L. I., Sept. 21.—Walter Hagen, Pasadena, Florida, started the defense of his title as American professional golf champion today at Salisbury links when he met Joe Turnesa, Elmsford, N. Y., in the first round of match play. Turnesa was runner-up to Bobby Jones in the American open championship.

The Braves put a terrific crimp in Cincinnati's pennant hopes by downing the Reds twice, 4 to 3 and 3 to 0, putting Cincinnati two games behind the Cardinals. Rixey was beaten by errors in the first game while Bob Smith had the Reds at his mercy in the nightcap.

You can teach an old dog new tricks!

I WAS already a veteran pipe-smoker when I ran across Prince Albert. It happened one day in the smoking-car. I reached for my tobacco and found I was "out." A good samaritan sitting across the aisle held out a friendly looking red tin.

I accepted the offer. That was a great moment in my life, as it turned out. Why, that very first taste won me. It was cool, like a breeze through an open window. It was sweet as a ripe peach. It was fragrant, even in that smoke-filled car. I was having the time of my life.

The mildness of Prince Albert appealed to me too. Yet there was plenty of body to it. I knew I was smoking. And I knew I was enjoying it more than any other tobacco I had ever tried. That settled me. I bought some P. A. when the train pulled in.

That was several years ago. I've been a P. A. regular ever since. Maybe you need a similar experience to put you next to the grandest tobacco that ever lined a pipe-bowl. My suggestion is: don't wait! Get yourself a tidy red tin of Prince Albert today!

P. A. is sold everywhere in tidy red tins, pound and half-pound tin humidors, and pound crystal-glass humidors with sponge-moistener top. And always with every bit of bite and parch removed by the Prince Albert process.

ALLEGHENY IS PITT OPENER

Panthers on Alert for Fast Passing Attack.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Sept. 21.—Allegheny College is the opening football attraction against the University of Pittsburgh in the Pitt Stadium, the game being scheduled for Saturday, September 25. Allegheny has not been met in football for some years, but the university athletic records show that the Methodists have been played a number of times and have always been hard to beat. The presence of of "Mel" Merritt, Dartmouth celebrity, as head coach of Allegheny adds spice to the combat, as Merritt is known as an exponent of the wide open game. Coach Jock Sutherland, of Pitt, is looking for a forward pass attack and is drilling his proteges accordingly. That Allegheny will give trouble with this system of play is the forecast as Pitt has a rather green team and one that might become a little flustered with such opposition. The only 1925 regulars who will start the game are Captain McMillin, Andy Cutler, Andy Salata and "Gibby" Welch. Cutler will likely start in the backfield rather than at center, the position he played last year. Dick Goldberg looks good at the center berth, and Cutler, who is very fast and weighs over 190 pounds, has been sent to the backfield.

"Tiny" Linn, of Carnegie, will be one of the guards. Linn weighs up around the 200 mark and is of a fighting disposition. He is one of the Pitt star weight men on the track team. Linn is playing his last year of football at Pitt. "Lady" Demolio, of Canonpolis, who learned the game at Bellfonte Academy, looks pretty good at the other guard. He is speedy and has dogged determination, which is winning him a place on the varsity.

Andy Salata will be at one tackle, and either Jim Getts or Bill Kern at the other. Kern is a strapping big fellow who has been handicapped in the early season training due to an injury. The coach expects him to be available for all the big games at least. Whether he will be started in the Allegheny game is a question.

Getts, who hails from Jeannette, Pa., and who was coached by "Pie" Williams, former Pitt end, stands six feet two and weighs around the double century marks, was on the freshman team last year and gave a good account of himself. Felix Demoise and "Honey" Guarino, of Gennsburg, are having a stiff fight for one end position, Captain McMillin having the other end cinched. Guarino is showing splendid form and is a sure varsity prospect before he gets through.

The backfield to start the Allegheny game will probably be Jim Rooney, at quarterback, Joe Schmitt at a half and Dick Booth at fullback. Who will take the place of Welch, who has been hurt, has been undetermined. Welch is expected to be one of the season's sensations. Booth was a close understudy to Andy Gustafson at fullback last year. Jim Rooney is one of last year's freshman who is sure to break in. He is a phenomenal kicker. Joe Schmitt is playing his last year on the varsity and is going like a house afire.

Allegheny College alumni will be out in force at the game. A special train will bring the crowd down from Meadville, and Western Pennsylvania alumni numbering 500 or more will be out to cheer for their team.

OHIO COLLEGE ELEVENS BUSY

CINCINNATI — Head Coach Joe Meyer of St. Xavier college today cut his football squad to 44 men. The varsity first squad snapped through a long 40-minute signal drill followed by a half hour scrimmage against the yearlings.

DELAWARE — Forward pass defense was given main consideration at the Ohio Wesleyan football camp as Coach George Gauthier put the screws to his men for the opening game with Albion here Saturday.

Bob Helwig, whose eye was injured in practice last week, was in uniform today and probably will start at quarter Saturday.

GRANVILLE — Two Denison university football candidates are on crutches as the result of scrimmage at Ohio university but are expected to discard them within a day or two and get back to work. They are Flory and Bethard. Snyder is suffering a back injury. Art Field, Indian end, who starred among the freshmen last year, is out for varsity.

HIRAM — Twenty-one varsity football candidates, including nine letter men, reported at the season's first practice at Hiram college today. Capt. "Turk" Tolby led his men on the field.

OBERLIN — Oberlin's football squad had its first scrimmage today. The team began to take shape around Burr and Poe, fullbacks; Flemming and Wickenden, quarterbacks; Hansbury, Watters and Hosfield, halves. Capt. Sewick and Gowdy, a sophomore, look best for a pivotal position. The best end material includes Jamieson, Hastings, Ramard and Jones. There are line men in abundance.

ATHENS — The first casualties of the football season at Ohio university occurred today when Jack Sweeney, veteran quarterback, received a broken hand and Robert Riley, center, suffered a dislocated shoulder. Sweeney probably will be unable to start the season on Oct. 2.

AKRON — Twelve men are struggling for the backfield positions on the University of Akron eleven. Four good ends are also available. Coach George Babcock does not contemplate putting his squad until after the Defiance game here Saturday.

WESTERVILLE — Eight letter men and some other promising huskies are undergoing a grueling workout at Otterbein's field this week preparatory to the opening game with Findlay here Saturday.

NEW CONCORD — Bob Taylor, Muskingum college end, suffered a broken shoulder bone in scrimmage here last Saturday, it became known today upon his non-appearance on the practice field. He was one of the mainstays of the prospective team. He may be lost for the season.

cant. The result is that there are never enough seats for all the children to study in, nor enough playgrounds for them to work in, and yet large sums are invested in these facilities which the children can use for only a fraction of the day.

"Under the work-study-play plan all activities in the schoolrooms, auditoriums, gymnasiums, shops, and laboratories—are in use every hour of the day. This means that only half the usual number of classrooms is needed. Since the cost of a classroom at present is aproximately $12,000, in a 30-class school which would require only 15 classrooms instead of 30, 15 times $12,000 is released for all other activities in the school.

"Under such circumstances it is possible to supply a school seat for every child when he needs it and also these special facilities at no greater cost than it takes to supply classrooms only under the traditional plan."

The special facilities referred to are shops, science laboratories, drawing and music rooms, cooking and sewing rooms, auditorium, playgrounds, and gymnasiums.

All modern school executives have realized for many years the importance of these enriched educational facilities for children, but up to the present time the cost of supplying them in addition to classrooms has been prohibitive. The work-study-play plan solves this problem because it applies to the school the principle upon which all other public utilities are run—the principle of the multiple use of equipment.

It may be pointed out that no business man would operate a factory or similar enterprise with half his plant idle all the time. It could not be done, for it would spell bankruptcy.

The idea that all the children of a school should be in the opening exercises together, study together, recite together, play together, and go home together at the same time, it may also be pointed out, is economically as unsound as that a factory should be operated with half its equipment idle all the time, or that all the people of a city should use the streets, the sidewalks, the street cars, the park, or any other public facility, at one and the same time.

What Happened in Portland.

The work-study-play or platoon plan which brings about the maximum utilization of school equipment is by no means new, but leading educators are anxious that it be more widely understood than it is now. Where it has been adopted, striking success is claimed for it.

How it make for economy may be illustrated by the case of the city of Portland, Oregon. In 1923 the school board there asked the United States Bureau of Education to make a survey of their city and to recommend a building program under the peak load plan and one under the platoon plan that would meet their school requirements to 1937.

After months of investigation and study, the experts detailed by the Federal bureau to make the survey showed that to carry on under the old system it would be necessary for Portland to spend almost $24,000,000 in purchasing 54 new sites, erecting 51 new elementary school buildings and 3 new high schools, and building 19 additions to existing elementary schools and 11 additions to high schools, in order to provide adequate housing accommodations for the city's children.

To carry out the platoon system, however, it would be necessary to spend only a little more than $14,500,000, purchasing but 36 new sites and erecting in all but 34 buildings and 28 additions to old structures.

Under the old system the expenditure of $24,000,000 would increase the Portland school plant 78 buildings housing 43,005 children in 1922 to 87 buildings housing 83,566 children in 1937. Under the new plan, an expenditure of almost $10,000,000 less by 1937 would house 86,224 pupils, the school plant would be reduced to 69 buildings, and a plant more efficient and more scientific in many respects would be provided. Portland adopted the new plan.

The Bureau of Education reports that at the present time there are 110 cities and one county in 36 states in the United States which have one or more schools on the work-study-play or platoon plan.

If all schools were conducted on this plan it is said that school buildings now in existence would house 40 per cent more pupils than their present capacity with little additional cost for remodeling and it would be possible to give a greatly enriched curriculum for the children, thus meeting the demands made upon the modern school.

Does Your Soil Need Lime?

The chances are it does. Most soils in this country need lime. You can't get best results from Alfalfa and Clover without it. Lime is cheaper than fertilizer and pays big profits.

Test Your Soil With Soiltex

Soiltex, the new testing outfit approved by the Dept. of Agriculture, tells the acidity of your soil and exactly how much lime to apply. It is quick, accurate and easy to use. Requires no special equipment. Goes in the pocket. Costs less than two cents per test. Come in and see how it works.

LEGAL NOTICE.

PUBLIC NOTICE is hereby given that The Ohio Bell Telephone company has filed with the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio its new Toll Tariff—P. U. C. O. Toll No. 5, specifying rates applying to all toll calls originating within the territory of the company hereinbefore named, and terminating in the State of Ohio, to become effective October 1st, 1926. The principal proposed changes are as follows:

STATION-TO-STATION DAY RATES: No change on calls to points up to 88 miles; from 88 miles to 90 miles rates reduced 5 cents; 90 to 96 miles rate same as present; 96 to 100 miles rates reduced 5 cents; 100 to 110 miles rates same as present; 110 to 112 miles rates increased 5 cents; on calls to points beyond 112 miles the only changes are reductions.

STATION-TO-STATION EVENING RATES: The new evening rates provide for a reduction of 25 per cent on all station-to-station calls between 7:00 p. m. and 8:30 p. m. instead of full rates for such calls as at present. These reductions are in daddition to the reductions in basic rates.

STATION-TO-STATION NIGHT RATES: The night rates provide for a reduction of 50 per cent on all station-tostation calls between 8:30 p. m. and 4:30 a. m. The present reduction between these hours is 50 per cent from 8:30 p. m. to midnight and 75 per cent from midnight to 4:30 a. m. The night discount is in addition to the reductions in basic rates.

REVERSAL OF CHARGES ON STATION-TO-STATION CALLS: This privilege is allowed in the new schedule on all classes of station-to-station calls, instead of requiring all reversed charge calls to take person-to-person rates as at present.

A copy of the proposed new Toll Tariff may be inspected by any interested party at the office of Frank Swaney Agent of The Ohio Bell Telephone Company 415 Market Street, East Liverpool, Ohio.

Gasoline-Oil-Motor Test Will Be Made On Whippet

Ohio Valley Oil Co. and E. L. Bradfield and Son Arrange for 114-mile Demonstration.

A series of gasoline-oil motor tests, with the Ohio Valley Oil company, working in conjunction with E. L. Bradfield and son, dealers for Overland and Willys-Knights automobiles, will be staged here during the week.

All of the tests will be made on a Whippet, latest small cad brought out by Overland.

A power test, high gear test, gasoline test and a non-stop speed run are included on the program.

The Whippet first will be shackled to a five or six-ton load and operated over the principal streets of the city.

Next, it will be placed in high gear — started, stopped and operated around the city without the use of first and intermediate speed to demonstrate its flexibility.

Every day the Bradfield company will offer a prize of $25 credit on any new Whippet to the person who gets the most mileage out of a quart of gasoline, using the small car.

As the final demonstration, the Whippet will be run from Mansfield to East Liverpool, a distance of 114 miles, Saturday morning. The car is scheduled to leave Mansfield at 8 a. m.

Ohio Valley oil and gasoline will be used throughout the tests.

FIGHT RETURNS AT CERAMIC

Dempsey-Tunney Bulletins on Opening Night of "Big Parade."

Returns from the heavyweight champion fight at Philadelphia between Jack Dempsey and Gene Tunney will be announced from Ceramic theatre stage Thursday night, when "The Big Parade" opens a three-day engagement.

The long engagement of "The Big Parade," the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer classic, in New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Chicago and other large cities, has served to advertise its values to the theatregoers at large. It is not necessary to enlarge upon the fine qualities of the film itself, its graphic love story, its realistic settings or the appropriate music and telling effects which it is given. All these items of the entertainment have been realized by such hosts of people throughout the country that there is no town, however small, but has someone in it able to speak with authority concerning this epic. Therefore the entertainment-seeking public is already advised of the quality of the offering which comes to the Ceramic theatre.

MIAMI BEGINS REBUILDING AS STORM ABATES

Many Mansions are Razed in Miami Beach.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21. — The death total at Miami will not exceed 100, according to a wireless dispatch received today by the navy department from the commandant of the seventh naval district at Key West, Fla.

The dispatch said that no further naval assistance was needed. Two coast guard cutters, the Saukee and Bagaduce, arrived at Miami last night, bringing a detachment of marines and a quantity of medical supplies.

In another dispatch the commandant of the seventh naval district said the situation in Miami was rapidly improving. Transportation has been resumed.

He said he had been unable to raise Pensacola by radio or land lines, either direct or by way of New Orleans.

The coast guard cutter Saukee, now at Miami, will be sent to Bimini, off the Florida coast, to lend assistance.

"Safe at Miami; Am Writing," Makes Morse Wires Hum

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Sept. 21. —At this time last year Florida was just beginning to invite America to enjoy southern hospitality.

Today Florida was telegraphing the world another message:

"Safe at Miami. Am writing."

The Western Union telegraph office here has been working its full staff overtime for two days relaying such messages from Miami. No wires go into Miami, but the messages are brought to West Palm Beach or to Jacksonville by courier, then wired to the world. Traffic department employes estimated that almost 50,000 "safe" messages have been sent in the last two days, and they expect as many more.

Navy Unable to Confirm Wireless Message From Unknown Vessel Which Reports Port City in Ruins.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21.—Hurricane-stricken Pensacola was still cut off from the world this morning, so far as the navy could ascertain.

DEMPSEY HITS AT KEARNS IN SUIT ANSWER

Charges Ex-manager Appropriated $500,000 of His Money.

Allegations Aftermath of Kearns' Demand for Accounting.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 21. — The application for a writ restraining Tex Rickard from paying any portion of the purse to either of the participants in the Dempsey-Tunney heavyweight championship boxing bout here the night of Sept. 23, was dismissed this afternoon upon the agreement of counsel for the plaintiff.

The agreement for dismissal came after Rickard had taken the witness stand and testified that he would not pay either Dempsey or Tunney any portion of their purses until after the bout had actually taken place.

Application for the writ had been made by Sol. Wittenberg, as a taxpayer. The case was heard in common pleas court No. 4, before Judges Charles Audenried, Jos. P. McCullen, and Thomas D. Finletter.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Sept. 21.—Jack Dempsey, through Richard Mackay, his attorney, today filed his answer in chancery court to the suit brought against the champion by his former manager, Jack Kearns.

In his answer Dempsey charges Kearns with appropriating $500,000 of the champion's money. He also charges that Kearns is an ex-convict, having served a term in a penitentiary in the state of Washington.

Kearns on Saturday filed an action which resulted in Dempsey being declared a temporary bankrupt. Kearns had demanded an accounting from Dempsey of all moneys that the

GRIM TRAGEDY ENDS NON-STOP FLIGHT ATTEMPT ACROSS OCEAN

Giant Sikorsky Bursts Into Flames at Hop-off.

PILOTS ESCAPE

Wireless Operator and Mechanic Fatally Burned.

ROOSEVELT FIELD, N. Y., Sept. 21. — Captain Rene Fonck's proposed non-stop flight to Paris ended in grim tragedy early today when the giant Sikorsky biplane in which the flight was to have been made burst into flames at the hop-off, causing two fatalities.

Captain Fonck and his co-pilot, Lieutenant Lawrence W. Curtin, U. S. N., escaped with their lives but Charles Clavier, wireless operator, and Jack Islamoff, mechanic, were fatally burned in the fuselage.

Falls Into Deep Gulley.

Fonck and Curtin, sitting at the controls in the nose of the plane, were saved when the ship, failing to clear the ground after scooting a mile along the runway, fell into a deep gulley. They suffered only a few minor abrasions.

Clavier and Islamoff, however, were trapped in the burning plane.

The dapper French captain, hero of countless exploits in the World war, leaped into the plane shortly after 6 o'clock.

He went down the field in a cloud of dust, followed by spectators in automobiles. The great plane, heavily loaded with more than two thousand gallons of gasoline, disappeared over the crown of a little hill, descending into a 20-foot gulley.

An instant later, there was a puff and an explosion, and a sheet of flame shot up 40 feet into the air, 20 feet above the top of the depression into which the great bi-plane had descended. Nearly a thousand spectators at the field were horror-struck.

EDDIE RICKENBACKER, chief of the efficient air fighters produced by this country, gives up the vice presidency of his automobile company. If that means that he has leisure it should be used by the United States government, with Mr. Rickenbacker's consent, to promote flying in this country.

The United States needs men that know how to fly. Rickenbacker could teach them and could easily arouse enthusiasm that would bring thousands of volunteers.

MR. DANIEL GUGGENHEIM and his son have set an excellent example to other rich men by their financial encouragement of American fly-

Water and Electric Light Service is Restored.

Many Mansions are Razed in Miami Beach.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21. — The death total at Miami will not exceed 100, according to a wireless dispatch received today by the navy department from the commandant of the seventh naval district at Key West, Fla.

The dispatch said that no further naval assistance was needed. Two coast guard cutters, the Saukee and Bagaduce, arrived at Miami last night, bringing a detachment of marines and a quantity of medical supplies.

In another dispatch the commandant of the seventh naval district said the situation in Miami was rapidly improving. Transportation has been resumed.

He said he had been unable to raise Pensacola by radio or land lines, either direct or by way of New Orleans.

The coast guard cutter Saukee, now at Miami, will be sent to Bimini, off the Florida coast, to lend assistance.

MIAMI, Fla., Sept. 21.—(Palm Beach via Courier).—Today found Miami beginning actual reconstruction with martial law lifted.

Gale-Stricken Pensacola Is Cut Off From World

"Safe at Miami; Am Writing," Makes Morse Wires Hum

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Sept. 21. —At this time last year Florida was just beginning to invite America to enjoy southern hospitality.

Today Florida was telegraphing the world another message:

"Safe at Miami. Am writing."

The Western Union telegraph office here has been working its full staff overtime for two days relaying such messages from Miami. No wires go into Miami, but the messages are brought to West Palm Beach or to Jacksonville by courier, then wired to the world. Traffic department employes estimated that almost 50,000 "safe" messages have been sent in the last two days, and they expect as many more.

Navy Unable to Confirm Wireless Message From Unknown Vessel Which Reports Port City in Ruins.

WASHINGTON. Sept. 21.—Hurricane-stricken Pensacola was still cut off from the world this morning, so far as the navy could ascertain.

Repeated attempts during the night to get in communication with the big naval radio station at the gulf port met with failure. No word has been received from Pensacola direct since yesterday a short time before the hurricane hurled itself out of the southeast and struck the city.

DEMPSEY HITS AT KEARNS IN SUIT ANSWER

Charges Ex-manager Appropriated $500,000 of His Money.

Allegations Aftermath of Kearns' Demand for Accounting.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 21. — The application for a writ restraining Tex Rickard from paying any portion of the purse to either of the participants in the Dempsey-Tunney heavyweight championship boxing bout here the night of Sept. 23, was dismissed this afternoon upon the agreement of counsel for the plaintiff.

The agreement for dismissal came after Rickard had taken the witness stand and testified that he would not pay either Dempsey or Tunney any portion of their purses until after the bout had actually taken place.

Application for the writ had been made by Sol. Wittenberg, as a taxpayer. The case was heard in common pleas court No. 4, before Judges Charles Audenried, Jos. P. McCullen, and Thomas D. Finletter.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Sept. 21.—Jack Dempsey, through Richard Mackay, his attorney, today filed his answer in chancery court to the suit brought against the champion by his former manager, Jack Kearns.

In his answer Dempsey charges Kearns with appropriating $500,000 of the champion's money. He also charges that Kearns is an ex-convict, having served a term in a penitentiary in the state of Washington.

GRIM TRAGEDY ENDS NON-STOP FLIGHT ATTEMPT ACROSS OCEAN

Giant Sikorsky Bursts Into Flames at Hop-off.

PILOTS ESCAPE

Wireless Operator and Mechanic Fatally Burned.

ROOSEVELT FIELD, N. Y., Sept. 21. — Captain Rene Fonck's proposed non-stop flight to Paris ended in grim tragedy early today when the giant Sikorsky biplane in which the flight was to have been made burst into flames at the hop-off, causing two fatalities.

Captain Fonck and his co-pilot, Lieutenant Lawrence W. Curtin, U. S. N., escaped with their lives but Charles Clavier, wireless operator, and Jack Islamoff, mechanic, were fatally burned in the fuselage.

Falls Into Deep Gulley.

Fonck and Curtin, sitting at the controls in the nose of the plane, were saved when the ship, failing to clear the ground after scooting a mile along the runway, fell into a deep gulley. They suffered only a few minor abrasions.

Clavier and Islamoff, however, were trapped in the burning plane.

The dapper French captain, hero of countless exploits in the World war, leaped into the plane shortly after 6 o'clock.

He went down the field in a cloud of dust, followed by spectators in automobiles. The great plane, heavily loaded with more than two thousand gallons of gasoline, disappeared over the crown of a little hill, descending into a 20-foot gulley.

An instant later, there was a puff and an explosion, and a sheet of flame shot up 40 feet into the air, 20 feet above the top of the depression into which the great bi-plane had descended. Nearly a thousand spectators at the field were horror-struck.

BOOK TWO—XVII.

Then additionally, there was Blah-Blah. This was a slender booklet of undergraduate wit, which appeared monthly under an invariably purse-lipped female cover. Jock belonged to its editorial staff. Among other duties, he was expected to contribute assorted items to its pages every month, and he had long since established a reputation as a source of bubbling light verse, short artful skits, and "He: She:" jokes. There was a chuckle in everything of his that appeared in the magazine. He left the sentimental poetry and the really artistic bits of writing to contributors who felt them less deeply than he, and hence could more readily laugh them off. About the campus he was deemed a budding humorist, and no one knew nor guessed the nature of the pages and pages of material he wrote and did not publish, but hid away.

During early December he conceived and executed "The Confessions of a Dormitory Cockroach," to be run in four hilarious instalments. He did three jingles, "Ode to a Wastebasket," "Peter the Petter" and "Girls Who Get None of My time," and one playlet entitled "The Wages of Gin is Breath." These went direct to Blah-Blah. He also composed during this period, 27 poems that did not go to Blah-Blah. Of each of these, Yvonne was the leitmotif. . . . He wrote her letters also, but futilely, for he knew not where to send them. His first one, mailed to her at the Park Avenue apartment, had been returned marked "Present address unknown." The only communication he had from her was a package containing the photograph he had said he liked best. No note accompanied it, but across the back Yvonne had written lines culled from one of the volumes of poetry Jock had given her:

". . . And I am made aware of many
a week
I shall consume, remembering in what
a way
Your dark hair grows about your brow
and cheek
And what divine absurdities you

He purchased a costly frame and put the photograph in it. But after a day or two he discarded the frame, so that he could read the writing on the back again and again. That was Yvonne, telling him she would not forget him; that was solace. Whenever he started into her pictured face, that other face from the newspaper clipping seemed to dance like a demon before him, and laugh at him through Yvonne's eyes. . . . He found himself looking more often at the quotation than at the photograph.

He sought companionship, especially in the evenings. He joined his fraternity brothers in long talkfests around the living room fire, where they lounged with that indolent droop of the spinal column peculiar to youth, and smoked pipes and conversed about women. Women were the perennial topic at the University. All other matters were discussed on schedule—football in the autumn, baseball in the spring—but women held sway at all seasons. . . . One night, after an exhaustive session, Jock sat up late compiling for his own edification a list of "Contents of an Average Undergraduate's Mind." It ran somewhat as follows: "Four brunettes. Nineteen blondes. Two hundred and twenty telephone numbers. Addresses of seven bootleggers. Probable outcome of Dempsey's next fight. Probable outcome of next world series. Innumerable stories about traveling salesmen, about Pat and Mike, about honeymoons. Assorted rhymes, most of them beginning, 'Here's to the girl who.' Babe Ruth's batting average. Automobiles. Petting. Marilynn Miller. Gloria Swanson. The All-American. The backfield from Notre Dame. Barney Google." . . . When he had completed this he tore it up without reading it over, calling himself a supercilious ass and feeling ashamed of his disloyalty.

He went to movies and vaudeville shows with others of his ilk and sat stuffing popcorn and cheering sonorously at all unnecessary junctures. At Commons, the dining hall for underclassmen and non-fraternity students, he participated in an indignant riot staged principally by boys who, like himself, did not eat there, and hurled biscuits and butter in every direction.

Jock, in company with Bill Olinstead and Cracker Ferguson, takes three chorus girls to supper.

Adopting the two favorite fads of the year, he dispensed with garters and slit his hats at the top of the crowns so that his hair might stick up through, a waving ebony plume. He went twice to New York to see revues, and once, in company with Bill Olmstead and "Cracker" Ferguson, he took three chorus girls to supper. He became a litte intoxicated three times, and very intoxicated twice. . . .

In such ways he sought to shut out of his mind Parke Demorest of Demorest Motors.

XVIII.

One night, rather reluctantly, he accompanied a quorum of sensation seeking lads to a "Black-and-Tan" dance hall some 15 miles away from the college town.

The room was vast, low-ceilinged, and one thought not altogether clean, though the smoky shadows lay so thickly everywhere that one could not be sure. There had been a rather pathetic attempt at decoration. Loops of cheesecloth, colored crepe paper bonnets over the lights — things like that. The dance floor had a fence around it, and an orchestra of negroes wearing dinner coats played in the center. Outside the fence there were tables covered with squares of coarse stained linen, and surrounded by weirdly ill-matched couples. . . Black and tan. Black and white. White and tan. . . . There was something furtive about the place; a sense of wrong-doing. You breathed it in with the atmosphere. You read it in the shifting eyes. It was, in fact, what brought you there and made you stay.

They took a table close to the railing. They were quite uproarious already, and in order that they might continue to be so they ordered drinks from a dark skinned waitress who put her arms across the shoulders of the nearest two boys as she listened. . . . . Jock hoped she would hurry with the drinks. The place filled him with aversion and loathing, and he wanted liquor with which to overcome this feeling before his companions should detect it and begin to "kid" him. He was now, as always, eager to seem to enjoy the things that they enjoyed—to be a good fellow, no matter what secret shivers of distaste it cost him.

He looked about him, glancing quickly from one table to the next. . . . if you let your eyes rest long on any one spot in a place like this you acquired in entangling alliances. After a moment he gave a barely perceptible jump and almost, not quite, cried out.

GRAND JURORS OPEN INQUIRY INTO 50 CASES

C. H. Hoopes, Kensington, Sworn in as Foreman.

MURDER PROBE

Judge W. H. Spence Charges Members as to Secrecy.

With murder, manslaughter and bribery among the 50 charges to be investigated, the September grand jury was formally organized at Lisbon yesterday with the selection of C. H. Hoopes, of Kensington, as foreman.

Other members of the investigation body are: Charlotte Harrold, Leetonia; Walter Strain, and S. E. Mackintosh, Salem; Louis Reed, Bayard; Clyde R. Todd, Lisbon R. F. D.; Robert G. Boyd, East Liverpool R. F. D.; B. F. George, Rogers; S. E. Moreledge, John Macauley, Louis Endley, Blair Allison, J. C. Richardson and William Whitacre, all of Lisbon.

After the jurors had been sworn by Clerk of Courts Frank Ballantine, Common Pleas Judge W. H. Spence charged them relative to the secrecy of their inquiry.

Judge Spence's Charge.

The judge's charge follows:

"The law makes it the duty of the court to charge the grand jury and to call your attention particularly to the obligation of secrecy which your oaths impose. The obligation of secrecy imposed upon you by your oath applies to everything which you learn in the investigation of a case or otherwise comes to your knowledge while in the jury room. The secrecy applies to the counsel of the state, your own and your fellow jurors. You shall keep, unless called on in a court of justice to make disclosures. The secrecy continues not only while you are on this jury but through all time unless you are called upon in a court of justice to make disclosures.

"You shall present no person through malice, hatred or ill-will nor shall you leave any person unpresented through fear, favor or affection or for any reward or hope thereof.

"The prosecuting attorney and his assistant will be your legal advisors, and they are authorized at all times to appear before the grand jury for the purpose of giving information and advice relative to any matter coming before the grand jury. Said attorneys may interrogate witnesses before such jury when it deems it necessary.

"The official stenographer of the county, at the request of the prosecuting attorney, shall take shorthand notes of the testimony and furnish a transcript thereof to the prosecuting attorney and to no other person, but the stenographer shall withdraw from the jury room before the jurors begin to express their views or give their votes on any matter before them.

"The grand jury is composed of fifteen members, twelve of whom must concur before you can return a indictment. When you have agreed upon an indictment, the prosecuting attorney will formulate it for you and direct you how to sign it.

"The grand jurors shall, in a body, visit the county jail during this session of the jury, examine its state and condition, and inquire into the discipline and treatment of the prisoners, their habits, diet and accomodations. You shall report to the court in writing, whether the rules prescribed by this court have been faithfully kept and observed, and whether the law for the regulation of county jails has been violated, stating in what particulars, if any, there has been a violation.

"You may meet and adjourn at your own convenience and pleasure.

"When you have completed your work you will make a return thereof to this court."

With Prosecutor Robert M. Brookes and his assistant, John Bauknecht, presenting the evidence, the jurors immediately began consideration of the cases. Included in the investigation will be the murder of Patrolman James Kenny at Wellsville on May 27, last; the automobile accident, in which Frank Spence, of Lisbon, was killed, and the alleged attempted bribery in which Sheriff George Wright named two Wellsville men last week.

One hundred and six witnesses have been summoned to appear.

While the grand jury is in session, Judge Spence will preside in naturalization court today and Wednesday. Eighty-nine applications for citizenship have been filed.

Many new highways are to be built in Rumania.

Adopting the two favorite fads of the year, he dispensed with garters and slit his hats at the top of the crowns so that his hair might stick up through, a waving ebony plume. He went twice to New York to see revues, and once, in company with Bill Olmstead and "Cracker" Ferguson, he took three chorus girls to supper. He became a litte intoxicated three times, and very intoxicated twice. . . .

In such ways he sought to shut out of his mind Parke Demorest of Demorest Motors.

XVIII.

One night, rather reluctantly, he accompanied a quorum of sensation seeking lads to a "Black-and-Tan" dance hall some 15 miles away from the college town.

The room was vast, low-ceilinged, and one thought not altogether clean, though the smoky shadows lay so thickly everywhere that one could not be sure. There had been a rather pathetic attempt at decoration. Loops of cheesecloth, colored crepe paper bonnets over the lights — things like that. The dance floor had a fence around it, and an orchestra of negroes wearing dinner coats played in the center. Outside the fence there were tables covered with squares of coarse stained linen, and surrounded by weirdly ill-matched couples. . . Black and tan. Black and white. White and tan. . . . There was something furtive about the place; a sense of wrong-doing. You breathed it in with the atmosphere. You read it in the shifting eyes. It was, in fact, what brought you there and made you stay.

They took a table close to the railing. They were quite uproarious already, and in order that they might continue to be so they ordered drinks from a dark skinned waitress who put her arms across the shoulders of the nearest two boys as she listened. . . . Jock hoped she would hurry with the drinks. The place filled him with aversion and loathing, and he wanted liquor with which to overcome this feeling before his companions should detect it and begin to "kid" him. He was now, as always, eager to seem to enjoy the things that they enjoyed—to be a good fellow, no matter what secret shivers of distaste it cost him. He looked about him, glancing quickly from one table to the next. . . . if you let your eyes rest long on any one spot in a place like this you acquired in entangling alliances. After a moment he gave a barely perceptible jump and almost, not quite, cried out.

GRAND JURORS OPEN INQUIRY INTO 50 CASES

C. H. Hoopes, Kensington, Sworn in as Foreman.

MURDER PROBE

Judge W. H. Spence Charges Members as to Secrecy.

With murder, manslaughter and bribery among the 50 charges to be investigated, the September grand jury was formally organized at Lisbon yesterday with the selection of C. H. Hoopes, of Kensington, as foreman.

Other members of the investigation body are: Charlotte Harrold, Leetonia; Walter Straln, and S. E. Mackintosh, Salem; Louis Reed, Bayard; Clyde R. Todd, Lisbon R. F. D.; Robert G. Boyd, East Liverpool R. F. D.; B. F. George, Rogers; S. E. Moreledge, John Macauley, Louis Endley, Blair Allison, J. C. Richardson and William Whitaere, all of Lisbon.

After the jurors had been sworn by Clerk of Courts Frank Ballantine, Common Pleas Judge W. H. Spence charged them relative to the secrecy of their inquiry.

Judge Spence's Charge.

The judge's charge follows:

"The law makes it the duty of the court to charge the grand jury and to call your attention particularly to the obligation of secrecy which your oaths impose. The obligation of secrecy imposed upon you by your oath applies to everything which you learn in the investigation of a case or otherwise comes to your knowledge while in the jury room. The secrecy applies to the counsel of the state, your own and your fellow jurors. You shall keep, unless called on in a court of justice to make disclosures. The secrecy continues not only while you are on this jury but through all time unless you are called upon in a court of justice to make disclosures.

"You shall present no person through malice, hatred or ill-will nor shall you leave any person unpresented through fear, favor or affection or for any reward or hope thereof.

"The prosecuting attorney and his assistant will be your legal advisors, and they are authorized at all times to appear before the grand jury for the purpose of giving information and advice relative to any matter coming before the grand jury. Said attorneys may interrogate witnesses before such jury when it deems it necessary.

"The official stenographer of the county, at the request of the prosecuting attorney, shall take shorthand notes of the testimony and furnish a transcript thereof to the prosecuting attorney and to no other person, but the stenographer shall withdraw from the jury room before the jurors begin to express their views or give their votes on any matter before them.

"The grand jury is composed of fifteen members, twelve of whom must concur before you can return a indictment. When you have agreed upon an indictment, the prosecuting attorney will formulate it for you and direct you how to sign it.

"The grand jurors shall, in a body, visit the county jail during this session of the jury, examine its state and condition, and inquire into the discipline and treatment of the prisoners, their habits, diet and accomodations. You shall report to the court in writing, whether the rules prescribed by this court have been faithfully kept and observed, and whether the law for the regulation of county jails has been violated, stating in what particulars, if any, there has been a violation.

"You may meet and adjourn at your own convenience and pleasure.

"When you have completed your work you will make a return thereof to this court."

With Prosecutor Robert M. Brookes and his assistant, John Bauknecht, presenting the evidence, the jurors immediately began consideration of the cases. Included in the investigation will be the murder of Patrolman James Kenny at Wellsville on May 27, last; the automobile accident, in which Frank Spence, of Lisbon, was killed, and the alleged attempted bribery in which Sheriff George Wright named two Wellsville men last week.

One hundred and six witnesses have been summoned to appear.

While the grand jury is in session, Judge Spence will preside in naturalization court today and Wednesday. Eighty-nine applications for citizenship have been filed.

Many new highways are to be built in Rumania.

Instead of soda hereafter take a little "Phillips Milk of Magnesia" in water any time for indigestion or sour, acid, gassy stomach, and relief will come instantly.

Better Than Soda

For fifty years genuine "Phillips Milk of Magnesia" has been prescribed by physicians because it overcomes three times as much acid in the stomach as a saturated solution of bicarbonate of soda, leaving the stomach sweet and free from all gases. Besides, it neutralizes acid fermentations in the bowels and gently urges this souring waste from the system without purging. It is far more pleasant to take than soda.

ACCESSORIES MAKE THE MODE

It's the trifles that make the mode. In no other season has the vogue of accessories been stressed so much as this, for with simple fashions being worn, accessories take the place of trimming and add color to the ensemble. They cost so little to acquire and mean so much.

The scarf still maintains its prominence in the mode. There's a scarf for every costume. There's a scarf for sports, for tailleur, for warmth, for evening. Lovely and delicate or large and bundly. Giving new life to the wardrobe and adding vivacity to the wearer.

Crepes in solid colors or modernistic prints. Georgett escarfs in plain or rainbow tints. The new wool scarfs. Priced from $3.00 to $12.00. Every desired shade.

The new gloves are jaunty indeed and to the cuff belongs the glory. Now it is gay embroidered or applique on kid or suede fabric. Turn-back or flare cuffs embroidered in gay colors with heavy stitchery to match.

All the shades of tan, grey and brown with trimming to match your accessories. Also the ever popular black and white Gloves.

Priced from $1.00 to $5.25.

The flower accessory works magic on wardrobes. Different flowers worn with the same dress make several costumes out of one. A flower on the shoulder of your evening frock will give it a Paris air. The coat collar should sport a bright colored boutonniere to match or contrast with your hat.

Flowers from 50c to $1.50.

Never were there so many dainty handkerchiefs. Every style, color and fabric you could imagine. With lace edging, hand embroidery and ever so many other little touches that make them the loveliest ever. Priced from 25c to $2.50.

Our autumn silk hosiery presents the smartest Paris shades. Exquisite silk stockings, doubly imported since much more of them is disclosed through the vogue of shorter skirts.

In the tans, nudes and greys Paris is wearing. Colors for daytime and evening in lustrous silks and filmy chiffons. Gun metal and black still remain popular and we have them in various qualities of silks. Priced from $1.50 to $3.85..

New jewelry in all the new stones, settings, etc. The right bit of jewelry in the right place can make a costume look entirely different.

Umbrellas to match your costume, here in array. $4.95 to $15.00.

Every kind of toilet article and cosmetic to aid Milady's beauty.

Collar and cuff sets of silk, lace and linen. Lace and linen vests. A large variety of neckwear. 50c to $3.00.

Handbags of every description. For the truly feminine woman we are displaying adorable pouch or vanity bags of silk—or of vari-colored beads in intricate designs.

For those inclined to the tailored mode, we can offer envelope or pouch purses of leather. Also silk envelopes. All colors to match Fall costumes. All nicely lined and fitted. Priced from $1.95 to $26.50.

EAST END HORSE PULLING EVENT LISTED

Contest is Expected to Prove Feature of Beaver Fair.

Much interest is being evidenced in the horse pulling contest which will be a feature of the Beaver county fair at Junction park, New Brighton, Thursday and Friday afternoon, Sept. 23 and 24, at 2 o'clock. The initial horse pulling contest was held at the fair last year, and turned out to be one of the main events of fair week. More interest was taken in this event than in any other one feature of the program with the exception of the races.

The contest this year is divided into two classes. The first class for teams weighing less than 3,000 pounds and the second class for teams weighing more than 3,000 pounds. Each team will be given three trials and the team pulling the most two times out of three trials will be awarded the premiums. Ten or twelve of the best teams in the county were entered in the contest last year, and considerable more than that are expected this years. Teams of either horses or mules are eligible.

These tests are sponsored and held under the auspices of the Beaver County Agricultural association, the Pennsylvania State college and the Horse Association of America.

Correct the Cause to End Catarrh!

Doctors say that local applications aren't enough. To get rid of catarrh you must remove the cause. Catarrh is the result of inflamed mucous membranes—the delicate linings of nose, throat and head. These must be toned and strengthened and the inflammation reduced. Then catarrh disappears; bad breath and catarrhal deafness vanish. This is what Hall's Catarrh Medicine does. Its success has been proved by thousands.

Get Hall's Catarrh Medicine at your nearest druggist. He will tell you it is the most effective catarrh treatment he has known in over 40 years. If he is out of it send 85c to F. J. Cheney & Company, Toledo, Ohio.

WHO'S WHO IN THE MOVIES

Review-Tribune Offers Handbook to Screen Fans.

"Who's Who in the Movies," a booklet novelty about the stars of filmdom and the picture industry, is the latest thing in motion picture publications. Offered exclusively in East Liverpool to readers of The Review-Tribune, this little hand book appears to be worth many times the modest cost price which is asked for it.

The list of film stars and thumb nail biographies of each is a most useful reference guide, and will serve to answer endless questions about "How old is so-and-so?" "Where did I see her last?" and all that sort of thing.

There have been studio directories before, but always in bulky book form, beset with advertising pages, and more or less costly. Here is a handbook of filmland boiled down to its essentials, the names alphabetically arranged, the type neat and clear, every one treated alike, no advertising, no puffs, but just facts. There are also several chapters of text about the history of the movies, the way they are made and how they are marketed. Altogether a whole lot of interesting and useful information.

Frederic J. Haskin, who answers more questions than any other person in the world, has compiled this booklet. The announcement of this offering, and the coupon with which to order it, will be found elsewhere in the paper. Every one interested in the pictures, and that means practically everybody, will be interested in this booklet.

EAST LIVERPOOL—AMERICA'S POTTERY CENTER

Aid For Stricken Florida

Mindful of the nation's response to the appeal for relief when the tornado of June 28, 1924, struck with great force at Lorain and other lake cities, exacting an appalling toll of life and property damage, Ohio today began to raise funds for the aid of stricken Florida. In response to the appeal of President Coolidge and Red Cross leaders, contributions are pouring in to be used in coping with the greatest task of relief since the World war.

East Liverpool, which has never turned a deaf ear to a distress call, will contribute. Acting upon the national chapter's request, officers of the local Red Cross announced that voluntary contributions to the nation-wide fund will be accepted by W. E. Dunlap, cashier of the First National bank, who is the Ceramic City chapter treasurer. Checks should be mailed to him.

Although no accurate figures on the loss of life and the millions of dollars' worth of property destroyed are available, all reports indicate that the tropical hurricane, which swept the east coast, struck part of the west coast and then hopped into Alabama and Louisiana, will go down in history as a major disaster. Hundreds are dead and injured, thousands homeless and equally as many more without food and clothing, as a result of the catastrophe.

The sympathy of the people of every part of the country goes out to Miami and other Florida communities, long known as the winter playgrounds of America, which have been ravaged by this West Indian hurricane. But more than sympathy is needed. Generous contributions should be forthcoming.

Building

In the country as a whole, there has been somewhat less building this year. Recent building permits are less in volume than last year and the year before. Statistics seem to show a great reduction of the "building deficit" for houses, apartments and business structures.

While building still continues in large volume, the situation leads critics to suggest that the boom is about over, or as they cautiously phrase it, "building operations are nearing a period of some decline."

Still, you never can tell. The end of the building boom has been prophesied year after year, yet it has rolled right on, keeping the makers and sellers of materials and supplies prosperously busy and the building trades fully employed at peak wages.

The chances are that this industry will remain busy and prosperous as long as general prosperity continues. While people have money, from whatever source obtained, they will build, just as they will buy cars, according to new standards for which there are no adequate statistics. And by the same token, as long as they continue building and buying cars, they help to keep business good.

Hot Dog Eyesores

More power to the American Automobile association in its campaign in favor of better hot dog kennels!

President Thomas P. Henry of the A. A. A. has appealed to all the clubs in that big organization, asking them to join in a movement to improve the "thousands of unwashed, unpainted and unsanitary hot dog stands and other lunch counters that infest so many of our beautiful thoroughfares."

Many of the stands, he remarks, are made out of signs furnished by soda, pop, candy and cracker manufacturers. Even when the buildings are fundamentally decent, they are often cluttered all over with such signs. Thus they are marring landscape beauty and are eyesores to the motorists they seek to attract.

"The situation," he says, "is not confined to any section of the country. It is offsetting all that is being done to beautify the highways, and millions of motorists are rising in protest. The hot dog vendor or the lunch counter keeper has a perfect right to make a living, but he has no right to mar the rights of sightseers everywhere. In this respect the rights of the public are paramount."

He believes that such places may be controlled and made more respectable and presentable by means of restrictions enforced in granting the license privilege. Many, however, deserve to be abolished simply as public nuisances.

Other countries do not have such eyesores all along the road, compelling the unwilling attention of the traveler by their hideousness. Why should the United States have them?

We seem to gather from the triumph of Herr Vierkoetter that what men need to swim the channel is "some bouillon, a little coffee and two bananas."

Another rise in the cost of necessaries. A mastodon's skeleton found in Ohio sells for the outrageous price of $75,000.

Maybe France could follow the Sesqui-centennial example and arrange for a Dempsey fight over there to pay the French debt.

In a confused, argumentative and hot-tempered world, President Coolidge keeps right on catching fish.

"There is plenty of oil in sight" says a petroleum expert. Yes, we can see it on every road and beach.

NEW YORK DAYBYDAY

By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, Sept. 21.—Those valeted young fops who—when not attempting to Burbank a misplaced eyebrow into a full grown mustache—roa malong the Fifth Avenue curbs in catsup-red roadsters in quest of the flirtatious adventure have been having trouble lately.

One drew up in front of a lady near Tiffany's and called out "Hop in, cuties, I'll roll you home." Cutie did not but a stalwart husband talking to a friend nearby did. And in five minutes the balked Romeo had a perfectly moused eye, a dangling tooth and puzzled expression.

Further up the avenue, near the Plaza two young men waved to a very pretty girl and pulled in at the curb. She thought they were acquaintances and stepped out to greet them. "Take a little ride?" they cooed. "No but you will," she said, and calling a cop they were transferred to a patrol wagon.

In another instance an accosted lady swung a heavy mash bag on a derby and sent it crashing over a set of ears and, thus blinging him, she clawed a well barbered face with tigerish ferocity.

There are unfortunately many otherwise respectable girls who see no harm in accepting a free ride home with a chance acquaintance. It sometimes seems to offer a touch of romance to the day of drabness. But the danger is there.

Several young girls listed among the vast army of "missing persons," have been traced to Fifth Avenue, where they were pick-ups of auto flirts and have been seen no more. It is usually a prelude to a few drinks and a rollicking joy ride.

Between 5 and 7 in the evening the avenue is filled with the roaming adventurers. They are well dressed and drive fine cars. So keen has the practice grown that there is a special squad of plain-clothes men whose job is to trap offenders.

There is no place where so-called Babbittry—a virtue allocated only to smaller cities—is so prevalent as at the opening night of a play. The hardest Rotarian at a suburban development banquet is in no more evidence than the so-called men about-town between acts. They flutter around shaking hands, clapping shoulders and generally showing off. They laugh long and boisterously at some feeble wheeze that is supposed to be of only local import and not for the out-of-towner. The mention of a New York name with some humorless suggestion sends them off into gales of forced laughter. It might be imagined from their didoes that the Shuberts, Earl Carroll, Mayor Walker's fondness for Broadway and the latest slang are known only in that sophisticated strip between Columbus Circle and Herald Square.

And I am often reminded that Main Street hasn't a monopoly on the spit-and-whittle clubs. Broadway, for instance, has any number of special stands for loafers. Glance in front of the Palace any evening. Or the Automat near the Globe. Or on the corner of 47th street and in front of those cluster of hotels in West 47th street. Loafing and exchanging intimate gossip is not confined to small towns. Loafers just appear more conspicuous there.

Also for years I have looked for the real man-about-town. He doesn't seem to be "about."

A Broadway wag suggests "Able's Irish Rose" should close for a week to permit players to have their faces lifted. Most of the cast is intact and at this writing there are no indications of the end of the run.

Sir Frank Lockwood, a famous English cross-examiner, delighted in compiling stories of apt retorts made by witnesses on the stand in civil or criminal proceedings. One of the favorites of his collection dated back to the time when executions for capital offenses in England were carried out publicly.

According to Sir Frank, a Cockney appeared to testify in an issue.. On cross-examination the legal representative of the opposing side undertook to show by the witness' own answers that he was not of good reputation and that he came of a line of chronic offenders—housebreakers and even murderers.

"Is your father living?" asked the inquisitor.

"No, me poor father's dead."

"How did he die?"

"'E died of a broken neck."

"How did he happen to break his neck?"

"Well, 'e fell off a scaffold just outside of Newgate, talkin' to a clergyman."

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN

The Business of Education—II.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 21—One of the acute problems in the conduct of the business of education in the United States—is that of the equipment and maximum utilization of the equipment of the public schools. It is acute because of its direct bearing on the efficiency of the school system and because of the rapidly increasing congestion in the schools.

There is no denying the fact that as a whole the schools of the country are inadequately equipped. According to a survey made more than a year ago, of some 270,000 school buildings in the United States, 175,000 were one-room schools. About 250,000 children were being housed in makeshift buildings, portables, rented spaces, dwellings, stores, annexes, attics and basements. Inadequate housing made it necessary that another 250,000 children only attend school half-time. Twice that number were in overcrowded classrooms.

The normal increase in population, the slowness with which it is possible to secure additional school facilities, and increased building cost all contributed to this congestion. Washington is a conspicuous example of a city that has suffered from this condition of affairs for several years. The nation's capital has grown rapidly in population. Congress, which holds the purse strings of the city, has been exceedingly reluctant, until the last session, to make the appropriations required to meet the situation, and the high costs of building construction have influenced both Congress and the local school officials to move slowly in the matter of new buildings in the hope and expectation that costs would come down.

But whatever the causes in any given community, it is indisputable that a serious congestion has existed. To relieve it, one of two things can be done. The first is to erect new buildings in line with the old school policy of "a seat for every child." To do this and meet the deficiency that existed more than a year ago would call for building space for more than 2,000,000, which would mean about 50,000 new classrooms, costing at least $600,000, with an annual maintenance expense of some $125,000. The second solution of the problem is the general adoption of the work-study-play or platoon plan for conducting schools.

How The System Works.

The two systems are explained and contrasted in a statement issued by the United State Bureau of Education. "Up to the present time," it says, "the public school system has been running on what is called by engineers the peak load plan of operation—on the principle of reserving a school seat for the exclusive use of one child during the entire year. When the children leave their classroom seats to go to special activities, such as play or shop, the seats remain va-

Aid For Stricken Florida

Mindful of the nation's response to the appeal for relief when the tornado of June 28, 1924, struck with great force at Lorain and other lake cities, exacting an appalling toll of life and property damage, Ohio today began to raise funds for the aid of stricken Florida. In response to the appeal of President Coolidge and Red Cross leaders, contributions are pouring in to be used in coping with the greatest task of relief since the World war.

East Liverpool, which has never turned a deaf ear to a distress call, will contribute. Acting upon the national chapter's request, officers of the local Red Cross announced that voluntary contributions to the nation-wide fund will be accepted by W. E. Dunlap, cashier of the First National bank, who is the Ceramic City chapter treasurer. Checks should be mailed to him.

Although no accurate figures on the loss of life and the millions of dollars' worth of property destroyed are available, all reports indicate that the tropical hurricane, which swept the east coast, struck part of the west coast and then hopped into Alabama and Louisiana, will go down in history as a major disaster. Hundreds are dead and injured, thousands homeless and equally as many more without food and clothing, as a result of the catastrophe.

The sympathy of the people of every part of the country goes out to Miami and other Florida communities, long known as the winter playgrounds of America, which have been ravaged by this West Indian hurricane. But more than sympathy is needed. Generous contributions should be forthcoming.

Building

In the country as a whole, there has been somewhat less building this year. Recent building permits are less in volume than last year and the year before. Statistics seem to show a great reduction of the "building deficit" for houses, apartments and business structures.

While building still continues in large volume, the situation leads critics to suggest that the boom is about over, or as they cautiously phrase it, "building operations are nearing a period of some decline."

Still, you never can tell. The end of the building boom has been prophesied year after year, yet it has rolled right on, keeping the makers and sellers of materials and supplies prosperously busy and the building trades fully employed at peak wages.

The chances are that this industry will remain busy and prosperous as long as general prosperity continues. While people have money, from whatever source obtained, they will build, just as they will buy cars, according to new standards for which there are no adequate statistics. And by the same token, as long as they continue building and buying cars, they help to keep business good.

BOOK ALUMNI FOR OPENER

Highs to Launch Grid Campaign Next Saturday.

Coach Earl Klinck's high school gridders will get their first taste of actual battle Saturday afternoon when they take on an Alumni eleven in their first encounter of the season.

The teams are scheduled to clash at Hammond park, beginning at 3:30 o'clock.

The contest will be the first on the park gridiron where all games of the season will be staged, according to plans of the school board, in an effort to get away from mud and water at Central park.

The graduate gridders have been working out at the park for several days and feel in trim to give the school boys a battle.

Raymond Rolley, former high school captain, and end on one of the strongest elevens turned out by the Orange and Black in a number of years, will direct the activities of the Alumni outfit.

The squad will include Dick Keay, Harold Miller, Everett Andrews, Kenneth Nelson, James Fitzgerald, Dwight Arbaugh, Paul Kessell, Harry Kampmann, Don Miller, Kenneth Miller, John Campbell, Harry Brooks, Dick Duty and Jimmy Shea.

ROAD WIDENING UP TO COUNTY

State Willing to Put $2,000 on Salineville Route.

Whether or not the Wellsville-Salineville road will be widened in Yellow Creek township along the stretch of narrow brick road depends entirely upon whether or not the county can partly finance the work.

The state highway department has announced its willingness to put $2,000 into the job, providing, however, the county will finance a like amount. It has proposed to cinder this narrow strip of dirt roadway.

When the new budget law went into effect last year, the county commissioners have been unable to borrow advances in anticipation of tax settlements, and as a result, for the current year, it has been impossible for the county to participate in a number of township projects that have been suggested by township trustees. The situation next year, however, will be somewhat relieved, so far as the county commissioners are concerned.

ADJUSTS OLD PENSION CLAIM

Congressman Murphy Aids Veteran's Son.

A very unusual and meritorious pension claim of 36 years standing has just been brought to a happy ending through the efforts of Congressman Frank Murphy, of Steubenville.

In 1888, Robert M. Birney, a Civil war veteran, died leaving a minor son, Thomas S. Birney, who was a helpless cripple as a result of some infantile disease. This boy was doubly unfortunate in that his mother died when he was only a few months old. The child had to depend on indulgent relatives who have since cared for him.

In 1890, Mr. Packer, a pension agent, filed a claim for the child, but, unfortunately, Packer died before the claim was adjusted and it was allowed to stand unproved.

Last year Thomas Birney was compelled to go to the hospital for medical attention and his relatives recalled his old pension claim and appealed to Congressman Murphy for help. Mr. Murphy soon ascertained the kind of evidence that was needed and informed the relatives who furnished it. Last week the commissioner of pensions decided that Thomas S. Birney was entitled to receive a pension from the date of his application in 1900 at the rate of $10 per month, the back pay to which he is entitled amounting to approximately $3,000.

This is, perhaps, one of the oldest pension claims that was ever adjusted.

TAYLOR LEAVES

No Direct Advices as to Safety of Tourists.

Relatives of East Liverpool tourists in Florida as well as owners of interests in the winter playground were today awaiting definite information as to the havoc caused by the tropical hurricane which swept into the Gulf coast states after striking at Miami and other cities.

Dr. C. H. Birkett, Sixth street, and Joseph Betz, Thompson avenue, had been unable up until noon today to get into communication with Mr. and Mrs. Willard Birkett, who were guests at the Wofford hotel, Miami, the roof of which was caved in by the storm. Mrs. Birkett is a daughter of Mr. Betz.

Advices from John O. Taylor, East Liverpool youth who acted as courier in relaying messages from Miami to Sebring, Fla., telegraphed yesterday afternoon that the "Birketts are safe and sound." However, no message has been received from the young people who had been spending their honeymoon there.

David McCleary in Miami.

Inquiries relative to the safety of David McCleary, formerly employed as linotype operator by the Review-Tribune, who left Palm Beach for Miami on Wednesday morning, were being made today.

Homer Taylor, father of John O. Taylor, who has extensive property interests in Miami, left for Florida last night. He was accompanied by his son-in-law, Harold McNutt.

Harry J. Moyer, of Moyer's Star Bargain store, owner of the 11-story Cortez hotel and four apartment houses in Miami, had been unable today to obtain reports as to whether his property had been damaged. Because of engagements here Mr. Moyer will be unable to go to Florida for at least 10 days.

BOOK ALUMNI FOR OPENER

Highs to Launch Grid Campaign Next Saturday.

Coach Earl Klinck's high school gridders will get their first taste of actual battle Saturday afternoon when they take on an Alumni eleven in their first encounter of the season.

The teams are scheduled to clash at Hammond park, beginning at 3:30 o'clock.

The contest will be the first on the park gridiron where all games of the season will be staged, according to plans of the school board, in an effort to get away from mud and water at Central park.

The graduate gridders have been working out at the park for several days and feel in trim to give the school boys a battle.

Raymond Rolley, former high school captain, and end on one of the strongest elevens turned out by the Orange and Black in a number of years, will direct the activities of the Alumni outfit.

The squad will include Dick Keay, Harold Miller, Everett Andrews, Kenneth Nelson, James Fitzgerald, Dwight Arbaugh, Paul Kessell, Harry Kampmann, Don Miller, Kenneth Miller, John Campbell, Harry Brooks, Dick Duty and Jimmy Shea.

ROAD WIDENING UP TO COUNTY

State Willing to Put $2,000 on Salineville Route.

Whether or not the Wellsville-Salineville road will be widened in Yellow Creek township along the stretch of narrow brick road depends entirely upon whether or not the county can partly finance the work.

The state highway department has announced its willingness to put $2,000 into the job, providing, however, the county will finance a like amount. It has proposed to cinder this narrow strip of dirt roadway.

When the new budget law went into effect last year, the county commissioners have been unable to borrow advances in anticipation of tax settlements, and as a result, for the current year, it has been impossible for the county to participate in a number of township projects that have been suggested by township trustees. The situation next year, however, will be somewhat relieved, so far as the county commissioners are concerned.

ADJUSTS OLD PENSION CLAIM

Congressman Murphy Aids Veteran's Son.

A very unusual and meritorious pension claim of 36 years standing has just been brought to a happy ending through the efforts of Congressman Frank Murphy, of Steubenville.

In 1888, Robert M. Birney, a Civil war veteran, died leaving a minor son, Thomas S. Birney, who was a helpless cripple as a result of some infantile disease. This boy was doubly unfortunate in that his mother died when he was only a few months old. The child had to depend on indulgent relatives who have since cared for him.

In 1890, Mr. Packer, a pension agent, filed a claim for the child, but, unfortunately, Packer died before the claim was adjusted and it was allowed to stand unproved.

Last year Thomas Birney was compelled to go to the hospital for medical attention and his relatives recalled his old pension claim and appealed to Congressman Murphy for help. Mr. Murphy soon ascertained the kind of evidence that was needed and informed the relatives who furnished it. Last week the commissioner of pensions decided that Thomas S. Birney was entitled to receive a pension from the date of his application in 1900 at the rate of $10 per month, the back pay to which he is entitled amounting to approximately $3,000.

This is, perhaps, one of the oldest pension claims that was ever adjusted.

"It Must Be Love" Pleases Crowd at American.

Two of the most popular emotional credos are featured in the Colleen Moore starrring vehicle, "It Must Be Love," running currently at the American theatre. They are Laughter and Tears.

Both, of course, with capitals—for Colleen Moore laughs and tears warrant only capitals, and especially those elicited so willingly from the crowded audiences viewing "It Must Be Love."

The motif of the entertainment is "Delicatessen." Adapted from the Brooke Hanlon short story by that name, the scenarist and director have admirably established an atmosphere in which limburger and onions vie with dill pickles for comedy honors.

It is delightful comedy-drama at its best; yet the most attractive thing about his picure is its innate humanness—the sense of nearness and reality it give because it deals with such people as we all know and, in fact, are. And the love interest is certainly well handled, with Malcolm McGregor as the suitor for Colleen's hand.

The future happiness of the two lovers is threatened at more than one climatic point by the entrance of Arthur Stone, hopelessly comical in his characterization as a sausage manufacturer and the suitor chosen by Colleen's father. Although there is comedy eternally mingled with the pathos of this feature, the romance is never unrealistic.

When Colleen, as Fernie, meets Malcolm McGregor, as Jack, for the first time; when Fernie quarrels with "Pop," and he tells her to get out of his home; when Fernie finds that her father is going to buy a bungalow for them to live in, and she can't accept because she has already told Jack she would marry him—these are a few of the high points of the drama. And to top it all, there is the most unusual and unexpected, yet on second thought the most natural, ending screened in many a day.

John McCormick, producer of Colleen Moore pictures for First National, has surrounded Miss Moore with an exceptional cast, including, besides those already mentioned, Bodil Rosing, Dorothy Seastrom, Cleve Moore, Mary O'Brien and Ray Hallor.

COUNSEL NAMED FOR MAZER IN MELLETT CASE

Rudner and Louis Will be Arraigned Thursday.

MURDER CHARGED

Canton and Alliance Attorneys Will Direct Defense.

CANTON, O., Sept. 21.—Ben Rudner and Louis Mazer will be arraigned in common pleas court before Judge E. W. Diehl, on Thursday morning to plead to the indictments found against them by a Stark county grand jury, for first degree murder in connection with the killing of Don R. Mellett, Canton publisher on July 16, as he was putting his car away in the garage in the rear of his residence.

Mazer was taken into court late yesterday afternoon and still insisted he was penniless and unable to hire attorneys to defend him at the murder trial and Judge Diehl appointed E. A. McCuskey of this city and K. C. Koehler of Alliance as counsel. Mazer told Prosecutor C. B. McClintock that possibly his friends might get together a fund with which to engage counsel and when the prosecutor communicated this information to the court, Judge Diehl said if Mazer could get his own attorney he would relieve McCuskey and Koehler of the duties he had imposed upon them.

champion had received from Aug. 3, 1923, to Aug. 3, 1926, the period covered by the Dempsey-Kearns contract.

Reasons for Discharge.

Dempsey's answer said that in August, 1925, he discovered that Kearns "had appropriated to himself certain moneys which belonged to me and which aggregated $500,000."

"It was on account of this fact," Dempsey said, "and also because I discovered that Mr. Kearns was an ex-convict, having been imprisoned in a penitentiary in the state of Washington for a considerable period of time after he had been duly convicted, that I dispensed with his services."

Dempsey said he told Kearns his opinions of him.

"I told him that for these reasons I was discharging him as an employee," Dempsey said.

"I further told Mr. Kearns," the champion added, "that I would not make public the reasons for his discharge. But in view of the fact that in the public print in the affidavit he submitted in the court of chancery he stated that the reason for our breach was that, against his wishes and advice, I contracted marriage with Estelle Taylor and that my aforesaid wife became embittered against him because of his opposition to the marriage and so worked upon my feelings that I refused longer to recognize Mr. Kearns as my manager or abide by the terms of the contract, I now make this disclosure."

Dempsey did not appear in court this morning, he was represented by counsel.

Vice Chancellor Robert H. Ingersol postponed the hearing of Kearns' suit until two weeks from today, when Dempsey must appear personally.

Kearns Files Attachment.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 21.—A writ of foreign attachment issued by John R. K. Scott, attorney for Jack Kearns, against Jack Dempsey, as defendant and Tex Rickard as garnishee, with bail fixed at $600,000 was filed in common pleas court, No. 5, here today.

The writ garnishees all property and interests of Dempsey in Pennsylvania, including such moneys held by Rickard for the champion.

Bail in such cases is usually double the amount of the claim of the plaintiff and Dempsey's debt to Kearns, according to the attachment writ, amounts to $300,000.

No action can be taken on the writ, however, until the court has ruled on the legality of its claims. No date has been set for a hearing.

O. K. Radio Transaction.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 21.—Officials of the Philadelphia sesqui-centennial today approved the transaction whereby the Royal Typewriter company acquired the rights to broadcast the Dempsey-Tunney fight Thursday night. The broadcasting rights were sold by Tex Rickard, promotor. No announcement has yet been made as to who will be the announcer.

No Federal Interference.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21.—The federal government will not interfere with the Dempsey-Tunney fight, it was learned today.

Ministerial protests against the battle at the sesqui-centennial made to President Coolidge and referred to Secretary Hoover and Secretary of State Kellogg, federal commissioners of the centennial, have been thoroughly considered by Hoover.

"The government hasn't the remotest control over the sesqui-centennial or the fight unless an attempt would be made to stage the affair in the government exhibition building," Hoover said.

Man's Charred Body Found Locked in Burning House Boat

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 21.—Mystery surrounds the finding of a charred body, believed to be that of John Houlihan, 63, locked in a burning house boat in the Ohio river here today. Detectives are investigating to ascertain how the man came to be locked in the boat.

Needless to say, Mr. Rickenbacker, whom this writer has not seen in months, knows nothing about it.

It is a pity that a man with complete knowledge of flying and great influence among young Americans should waste his time in any commercial pursuit. His knowledge could increase by five thousand within two years the number of young Americans also to defend their country in case of need.

IN ONE year Great Britain has paid out $229,000,000 to the unemployed. The prosperous class consider this outrageous. They are taxed to support those not working. England, however, has managed for many years to keep away from revolutions. The prosperous should not forget that.

Miami Rebuilds

believed an accurate casualty list cannot be obtained for several days. More than 200 are reported dead in Miami, Miami Beach and Hollywood.

Sebrings Reports "All Well."

Expressions of sympathy and offers of aid were received from all parts of the country. Medical supplies and foodstuffs were pouring in at such a rate that civil authorities asked that the outside world be assured that the only aid needed by Greater Miami was money to aid the destitute in rebuilding their homes. The food supply is ample for about 60 days and more can be obtained on short notice, authorities said.

The fury of the storm was spent between Miami and Pompano, about 40 miles north. The hurricane which tore a path of death and destruction along the lower east coast continued its havoc across the state, killing 40 people at Moorehaven, on Lake Okeechobee.

Sebring suffered considerable damage from wind and water. Key West reported that "all was well."

South Miami Casinos Leveled.

An estimate of the property damage in the storm-wrecked district is impossible at this time but the combined losses of Miami, Miami Beach, Hollywood, and Ft. Lauderdale, including marine destruction, will conservatively exceed $250,000,000.

In Miami Beach, which is practically isolated from the outside world by a condemned causeway, many mansions were razed by the hurricane.

The Carl G. Fisher home in Lincoln road is a mass of debris. The Roney Plaza, Wofford, and Pan Coast hotels, all along the ocean front, bore the brunt of the storm. The Gulf Stream apartment building, farther north, was damaged to the extent of $100,000. The Firestone estate and a number of beautiful homes were wrecked.

At South Miami beach where the hurricane hit hardest, all of the casinos were leveled. Some of the structures have disappeared. The Floridan hotel, which broke up under the gale, was converted into an emergency hospital. The Fleetwood used as a dormitory for many homeless. In Bay Biscayne, hundreds of craft, both large and small, were battered to pieces by the angry waters. The Bay Front park was strewn with demolished yachts and schooners. A large oil tanker was heaved to Royal Palm park where is settled high and dry.

With the disposal of martial law, it was made plain that military authorities would cooperate with the city in maintaining peace and order.

Every workman was pressed into service rebuilding houses. New roofs were going on rapidly, street crews were cleaning the thoroughfares of fallen trees, telephone poles and other debris. Storekeepers began taking an inventory of their undamaged stocks.

At a meeting Monday night attended by representatives of every branch of the city and county government, civic clubs, Red Cross and other organizations first steps were taken to bring about normalcy and precautions taken against epidemic.

Governor Greets 2,000 Kiwanians At State Session

COLUMBUS, Sept. 21.—More than 2,000 Ohio Kiwanis club members and their wives, were greeted here today by Governor Vic Donahey, who delivered the welcoming address before the opening session of the ninth annual convention of that organization.

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, Sept. 21.—A new increase of $57,000,000 in brokerage loans in the New York district, as reported by the federal reserve board, furnished the confident bears with a further supply of ammunition for their raid on stock values in the early trading today. Industrial and specialty stocks were poured on the market in the first period, and numerous sustained losses of from 1 to 3½ points.

In banking circles it was said that both the $78,000,000 loss in reserves of the clearing house banks and the unexpected expansion in brokers' loans could be more than counterbalanced by a resort to rediscounting at the federal reserve bank, and no great apprehension was felt over the temporary stiffening of money following so closely the huge treasury receipts and disbursements of last week.

For that reason there was a good back-log of buying orders for the better grade of industrial stocks at slight concessions from Monday's final prices. United States Steel, in fact, refused to break 142⅛, its former closing level, and most of its sales were at 143 or better. General Motors lost about a point and promptly recovered. Mack Trucks and Hudson received much better support. Warner Pictures broke to 48¼ for a loss of 3⅜. Sinclair was the weak spot in the oils, with heavy trading around 20¼.

The renewal rate of 5½ per cent for call money was the highest since March. Commodity markets were steady, with grain and cotton practically unchanged.

Walter Hagen is Leading Turnesa in "Pro" Golf Match

SALISBURY COUNTRY CLUB, GARDEN CITY, N. Y., Sept. 21.—Walter Hagen, Pasadena, Florida, led Joe Turnesa, Elmsford, N. Y., three up when they had played the first 18 holes in their 36-hole match, in the first round of the Professional Golfers' association championship today.

Hagen established an early lead, winning the second, third and fourth holes and at one time was five up, but Turnesa holed a 25-foot putt for a birdie two to win the sixteenth and a thirty footer to win the eighteenth with a birdie three.

Bucyrus Broker Dead, Woman Hurt In Auto Crash

MARION, O., Sept. 21. — Joe M. Hepp, 35, Bucyrus and Cleveland, broker for the Suburban Light and Power company, Cleveland, is dead here today and a young woman registered in a Bucyrus hotel as Miss Elizabeth Kearney, Cleveland, is recovering in her Cleveland home following an automobile crash on the Marion-Bucyrus road here last night.

Hepp sustained a broken neck and a fractured skull. The girl, said by witnesses to have been the driver of the machine, a Studebaker, sedan, escaped with minor bruises. Hepp died enroute to City hospital.

Pensacola Cut Off

With the fury almost spent, the storm passed island along the Alabamab and northwestern Florida coast, taking a known death toll of 10 lives. This figure may be materially increased, however, when the toll taken at Pensacola becomes known.

Five Dead Near Florida Border.

Five were reported killed when the storm struck Jackson, Alabama, near the Florida border. Two were killed near Bay Minnette and three more lives were taken at Flomatin, reports said.

New Orleans escaped with small damage, but the city was swept by a heavy rain and miniature gale. The gulf coast towns further east were hardest hit, with scores of settlements reporting property damage and injuries from the storm.

Even as far north as Atlanta, the fury of the hurricane was felt. A cold rain fell steadily and the temperature dropped 20 degrees in a few hours.

No ships were reported in distress, many doubtless heeding the warnings given by the weather bureau and seeking safety before the tempest broke.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 21.—Mobile has escaped heavy damage from the tropical hurricane and there was no loss of life, according to word received here today by J. P. Burton, train dispatcher of the Louisville and Nashville railroad.

Burton said he was informed by the foreman of a train crew that was rushed to Mobile to repair damage to railroad property, that while Mobile was buffeted by a 100-mile gale the damage was not great and there were no casualties.

Two Towns Hard Hit.

Lillian and Seminole, two small coastal towns between Mobile and Pensacola, were reported wiped out with considerable loss of life and property, radio experts said.

Wind velocity along the Gulf coast continued high today. Ocean springs reported 60 miles an hour, with the gale driving water over low lying districts and damaging crops.

A relief train has been sent from Birmingham with orders to push forward to Mobile as far as possible.

Four States Swept.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 21. — Word was anxiously awaited today as to the damage and possible casualties suffered by Pensacola and Mobile and other gulf coast towns struck by the West Indian hurricane.

Somewhat spent in its fury, the storm swept inland with its center at Meridian, Miss. But the whole of Alabama and parts of Mississippi, Louisiana and Georgia were in the grip of the storm, and a virtual cloudburst was reported at Troy, Ala.

Pensacola was still cut off, and only fragmentary radio reports came from Mobile. The Algiers navy radio station here got in touch with Pensacola at 8 o'clock last night and was advised that little property damage was done despite a 72-mile gale.

All efforts to communicate with Pensacola since then have failed. A radio report from an unknown steamer, however, reported Pensacola "in ruins."

Death Toll Mounts.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Sept. 21.—The known death toll in the storm that struck Alabama coastal towns was raised to eight today when three more persons died of injuries in Jackson, Ala. Five were killed by the storm there yesterday. Many buildings were destroyed.

MOBILE, Ala., Sept. 21.—Not content with the death and destruction which it wrought in southern Florida all during Sunday and Monday, the West Indian hurricane today continued its wrathful march inland from the Gulf of Mexico, laying waste sections of northwest Florida, southern Alabama and Louisiana.

Damage here and in Pensacola probably will total a million dollars or more, it is believed. No loss of life in Mobile had been reported early today, however.

A radio report stated that the towns of Seminole and Lillian, Alabama, had been wrecked, with the loss of ten or a dozen lives, and great property damage. Five were killed when the tempest struck the village of Jackson, Ala., two were reported killed near Bay Minette and several crushed by debris at Flomaton.

Extensive property damage and injuries to persons were reported from Enterprise, Hartford, Geneva, Bay Minette, Monroeville, Dothan, Brewton, Troy, Andalusia, Evergreen and Flomaton.

Florida's Death Toll 600

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Sept. 21. — Sorrow, sympathy, suffering and aid.

Four simple words, but they epitomize the situation in Florida today as this state begins the sorry job of burying its dead—at least 600 of them—and helping the living.

Horrified by the ravages of the hurricane which brought the greatest catastrophe in Florida's history to Miami, West Palm Beach and smaller cities in south Florida, relief workers in this comparatively undamaged section of the state had just thrown themselves to the task of relief when the storm after crossing the gulf of Mexico struck Pensacola.

No verified reports have come of the Pensacola damage, but immediately after the hurricane hit Pensacola and other gulf cities further west, preparations were made for relief work there if needed.

88 8Dead In Miami City.

MIAMI, Fla., Sept. 21.—Acting Mayor Ames Gilman and City Manager Frank H. Wharton today issued an official statement to the effect that property damage in Miami as a result of Saturday's hurricane would total over $125,000,000. There is plenty of food in the city to take care of every needy person, but money donations will be gladly accepted, Wharton said.

The official death toll as released by the Miami police department last night totaled 88 of which 74 are whites and 14 negroes. All of these have been identified. Fourteen additional bodies await identification in local undertaking rooms. This list comprises the city of Miami only.

An old-timer is one who can remember when it seemed funny to call two people a family.—Youngstown Vindicator.

DR. T. T. CHURCH ROTARY GUEST

Health Commissioner Urges Continuance of County Camp.

Appeal for aid in furthering the work of the county health camp which has been in operation in recent years, was made to members of the Rotary club at their noon luncheon meeting today in the Y. M. C. A. by Dr. T. T. Church, county health commissioner.

Appointment of a club committee to investigate facts in connection with the operation of the camp was suggested by Dr. Church.

Approximately 65 club members and guests attended the meeting.

President Malcolm Thompson announced plans for the ladies' night meeting next Tuesday at 6:30 p. m. at the Country club. There will be no noon meeting on that day.

Dr. Samuel Rich, member of the committee including R. L. E. Chambers, Blaine Cochran and Frank Wehner, outlined arrangements for the club's visit to Youngstown on Friday, October 1. A golf tournament at the Mahoning Valley Country club, luncheon and other diversions are planned. The club will assemble in the morning at 10 o'clock and will make the trip to Youngstown in a body, by motor.

How 16 crippled children, 12 boys and four girls, were given a "treat" at the county fair last Thursday, was told by Attorney Blaine H. Cochran. The youngsters were taken to the fair and shown everything, from start to finish, by a delegation of Rotary club members.

Dr. M. D. McCutcheon, chairman, introduced Dr. Church, the club's chief guest and speaker. Dr. Church outlined the organization and duties of the county and city boards of health and urged that health board appointments, from state down, be kept out of politics. He pointed out also that the city of East Liverpool should have a permanent, full time health board, as well as a school nurse.

Father, Enraged, Kills Disobedient Son With Old Shoe

HERRIN, Ill., Sept. 21.—Enraged when police brought his 11-year-old son Bradley to his home today after he had been out all night, H. B. Burnett hurled an old work shoe at the boy, injuring him fatally. The shoe struck the boy in the neck, unjointing the member.

"I've killed my baby," the father sobbed in his cell where he is held awaiting the action of a coroner's jury. "I had been trying to make the boy do right. I'm not afraid of punishment, but think what I've done."

American Embassy Attaches Burned in London Plane Crash

CROYDON, England, Sept. 21.—Major Clarence Tinker of Oklahoma and Commander Robert Burg of Nebraska, both attached to the American embassy in London, were severely injured today when an aeroplane in which they were flying here crashed. The plane burst into flames when it hit the ground and both men were badly burned.

$763,343 Fund Raised.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21.—The nation has responded generously to President Coolidge's appeal for funds for relief of Florida hurricane sufferers, the Red Cross announced today.

Within 24 hours, the Red Cross, in charge of relief work, secured donations totalling $743,343.93.

New York Responds.

NEW YORK, Sept. 21.—While the lists of the dead and the injured still were pouring in today from the storm-stricken area of Florida, New York city and New York state began organizing and extending aid to the sufferers.

Responding to proclamations by President Coolidge and Governor Smith, and a similar call by Mayor Walker, New Yorkers expressed their sympathy for the stricken Floridians in terms of medicines and provisions. A relief committee of 68 prominent men, working under a super-committee of 10, all familiar with Florida conditions, was appointed by Mayor Walker to formulate plans for systematic collection of relief funds. The mayor telegraphed to Governor John W. Martin that New York city stands "ready to render every aid humanly possible."

Similar preparations for prompt aid were initiated in other cities throughout the state.

Ready To Cope With Epidemic.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21. — All resources of the public health service will be offered to combat the spread of the epidemic which was reported to have broken out in the wake of the Florida storm, Surgeon General Hugh S. Cummings announced today.

Dr. J. H. Linson has been sent to Florida, and all health officials in the stricken state have been instructed to take every precaution against an epidemic, he said. Serum and supplies are being held in readiness for use by the Red Cross if needed.

Florida Burying Her Dead.

Florida digging herself out of the ruins, surveying her wounds, and burying her dead—the Gulf Coast, hard hit and still staggering, unable as yet definitely to ascertain the damage wrought.

This was the situation this morning, almost 72 hours after the West Indian hurricane hurled itself out of tropical seas and fell with a deafening roar and sickening crash upon America's winter playground.

The extent of the damage wrought by 100-mile gales and heavy seas thrown bodily into unprotected communities can only be approximated. It is heavy enough, both in lives and property, so that the hurricane will go down in history as one of the most terrible catastrophes ever visited upon the nation, but is probably will be days before an accurate estimate can be made.

Relief Work Under Way.

Out of the confusion of wrecked cities, interrupted communication, and impassable roads, however, there was emerging this morning a slight semblance of order. Relief work was getting under way with a degree of system, communication with communities cut off from the outside world since the fury broke was slowly being established, and every incoming dispatch from the stricken area told of the determination of the sufferers to build anew what has been destroyed.

As order emerged out of chaos, the toll of human life taken by this grisly freak of nature appeared to diminish. Whereas some estimates on Sunday and Monday had placed the dead as high as 2,000, today's dispatches brought this figure down materially. It is now reported to be doubtful if the death list runs above 500—a grim enough toll, but still greatly below the original estimates.

But as the damage to human life diminished with the restoration of order and communication, the material toll appeared to mount higher. The damage to property has been terrific and widespread.

Miami's Loss $125,000,000.

In Miami alone, the city manager has estimated the destruction to property at $125,000,000, and Miami was only one of the Eden-like winter playgrounds strung jewel-like along the south Florida coast, which lay directly in the pathway of the freakish and devastating wind. Other noted and costly resorts—Hollywood, Coral Gables, Delray, Homestead, Miami Peach, and the resorts further inland around Lake Okeechobee, suffered tremendously. In Moorehaven alone the death list is estimated at 60.

Strenuous efforts were being made today to re-establish communication with Pensacola, on the Gulf coast. The powerful naval radio station there has been silent since a final message yesterday which said the wind was attaining a velocity of 100 miles an hour and was causing heavy damage.

It is not believed, however, that the Gulf coast resorts have suffered anything like what Florida has undergone.

Meanwhile, the nation with its customary generosity is pouring money and supplies into the stricken cities. Reports to Red Cross headquarters in Washington today disclosed that the nation has risen magnificently to the appeal for funds for relief work.

2 Die as Plane Burns

Fire Engines Called.

There was a cheer, however, when Fonck and Curtin were found safe after having been thrown clear off the burning plane.

Fonck and Curtin were able to walk to an automobile which, it is believed, took them to the home of F. R. Mayer in Hewlett, L. I., where they had spent the night.

Fire engines from the nearby towns of Hempstead and Mineola arrived in record-breaking time, followed a moment later by an ambulance from Mitchell Field. There was little that either doctors or firemen could do. Great clouds of white smoke shot into the air a distance of 40 feet, with underlying sheets of flame as the gasoline-drenched ground continued to burn. Two airplanes circled overhead taking motion pictures of the fire, which will burn for hours.

Blaze Traps Victims' Bodies.

From a hasty survey of the runway on which the plane had attempted to make its hop to Paris, it is believed that a contributing factor in the accident was the breaking of the auxiliary landing gear. This gear, which was designed to help the machine carry the tremendous load of more than 13,000 pounds of gasoline, in some manner became entangled just before the take-off, it is believed. The total plane, with its load, weighed 28,860 pounds.

In its run along the ground, the plane had gathered such speed that it shot out into space perhaps five or six hundred feet after it had cleared the edge of the little cliff.

As the plane continued to burn, with wings of the master machine lying like skeletons beside the warped and twisted fuselage, there remained no doubt in anyone's mind but that both Islamoff and Clavier are dead. It will be some hours before their bodies can be removed.

French Ace's Explanation.

Fonck and Curtin went to the hangar of the Sikorsky company. The French ace explained the accident.

"I noticed the auxiliary landing gear had given way when we hit a bump," he said. "The right wheel went in an oblique direction, and I could feel that it had torn the left rudder loose. At first I tried to slow up. Then I knew it was useless to do that because the gulley was so close. I opened her up again, hoping to get into the air. But it could not be done, and we smashed."

Contrary to first reports, the pilot and his assistant were not thrown clear of the plane. Sensing the danger of remaining in the plane Fonck and Curtain crawled out on the nose of it. The motors were still running and how they managed to escape the whirring propellers they do not know themselves.

The adventurers had hoped to reach Le Bourget airdome, near Paris, some time tomorrow evening. If they had succeeded they would have flown 3,577 miles, a new world's distance record for a non-stop flight. Lloyds of London had posted odds of 7 to 3 that they would not succeed.

Shock to French Republic.

PARIS, Sept. 21.—The disaster to Lieutenant Fonck's trans-Atlantic plane came as a great shock to the French public, and attracted wide attention.

Charles Clavier, the wireless operator who lost his life, was a native of Paris. He was 34 years old and the father of two children.

COUNSEL NAMED FOR MAZER IN MELLETT CASE

Rudner and Louis Will be Arraigned Thursday.

MURDER CHARGED

Canton and Alliance Attorneys Will Direct Defense.

CANTON, O., Sept. 21.—Ben Rudner and Louis Mazer will be arraigned in common pleas court before Judge E. W. Diehl, on Thursday morning to plead to the indictments found against them by a Stark county grand jury, for first degree murder in connection with the killing of Don R. Mellett, Canton publisher on July 16, as he was putting his car away in the garage in the rear of his residence.

Mazer was taken into court late yesterday afternoon and still insisted he was penniless and unable to hire attorneys to defend him at the murder trial and Judge Diehl appointed E. A. McCuskey of this city and K. C. Koehler of Alliance as counsel. Mazer told Prosecutor C. B. McClintock that possibly his friends might get together a fund with which to engage counsel and when the prosecutor communicated this information to the court, Judge Diehl said if Mazer could get his own attorney he would relieve McCuskey and Koehler of the duties he had imposed upon them.

Dempsey Hits at Kearns

champion had received from Aug. 3, 1923, to Aug. 3, 1926, the period covered by the Dempsey-Kearns contract.

Reasons for Discharge.

Dempsey's answer said that in August, 1925, he discovered that Kearns "had appropriated to himself certain moneys which belonged to me and which aggregated $500,000."

"It was on account of this fact," Dempsey said, "and also because I discovered that Mr. Kearns was an ex-convict, having been imprisoned in a penitentiary in the state of Washington for a considerable period of time after he had been duly convicted, that I dispensed with his services."

Dempsey said he told Kearns his opinions of him.

"I told him that for these reasons I was discharging him as an employee," Dempsey said.

"I further told Mr. Kearns," the champion added, "that I would not make public the reasons for his discharge. But in view of the fact that in the public print in the affidavit he submitted in the court of chancery he stated that the reason for our breach was that, against his wishes and advice, I contracted marriage with Estelle Taylor and that my aforesaid wife became embittered against him because of his opposition to the marriage and so worked upon my feelings that I refused longer to recognize Mr. Kearns as my manager or abide by the terms of the contract, I now make this disclosure."

Dempsey did not appear in court this morning, he was represented by counsel.

Vice Chancellor Robert H. Ingersol postponed the hearing of Kearns' suit until two weeks from today, when Dempsey must appear personally.

Kearns Files Attachment.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 21.—A writ of foreign attachment issued by John R. K. Scott, attorney for Jack Kearns, against Jack Dempsey, as defendant and Tex Rickard as garnishee, with bail fixed at $600,000 was filed in common pleas court, No. 5, here today.

The writ garnishees all property and interests of Dempsey in Pennsylvania, including such moneys held by Rickard for the champion.

Bail in such cases is usually double the amount of the claim of the plaintiff and Dempsey's debt to Kearns, according to the attachment writ, amounts to $300,000.

No action can be taken on the writ, however, until the court has ruled on the legality of its claims. No date has been set for a hearing.

O. K. Radio Transaction.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 21.—Officials of the Philadelphia sesqui-centennial today approved the transaction whereby the Royal Typewriter company acquired the rights to broadcast the Dempsey-Tunney fight Thursday night. The broadcasting rights were sold by Tex Rickard, promotor. No announcement has yet been made as to who will be the announcer.

No Federal Interference.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21.—The federal government will not interfere with the Dempsey-Tunney fight, it was learned today.

Ministerial protests against the battle at the sesqui-centennial made to President Coolidge and referred to Secretary Hoover and Secretary of State Kellogg, federal commissioners of the centennial, have been thoroughly considered by Hoover.

"The government hasn't the remotest control over the sesqui-centennial or the fight unless an attempt would be made to stage the affair in the government exhibition building," Hoover said.

Man's Charred Body Found Locked in Burning House Boat

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 21.—Mystery surrounds the finding of a charred body, believed to be that of John Houlihan, 63, locked in a burning house boat in the Ohio river here today. Detectives are investigating to ascertain how the man came to be locked in the boat.

Needless to say, Mr. Rickenbacker, whom this writer has not seen in months, knows nothing about it.

It is a pity that a man with complete knowledge of flying and great influence among young Americans should waste his time in any commercial pursuit. His knowledge could increase by five thousand within two years the number of young Americans also to defend their country in case of need.

IN ONE year Great Britain has paid out $229,000,000 to the unemployed. The prosperous class consider this outrageous. They are taxed to support those not working. England, however, has managed for many years to keep away from revolutions. The prosperous should not forget that.

Miami Rebuilds

believed an accurate casualty list cannot be obtained for several days. More than 200 are reported dead in Miami, Miami Beach and Hollywood.

Sebrings Reports "All Well."

Expressions of sympathy and offers of aid were received from all parts of the country. Medical supplies and foodstuffs were pouring in at such a rate that civil authorities asked that the outside world be assured that the only aid needed by Greater Miami was money to aid the destitute in rebuilding their homes. The food supply is ample for about 60 days and more can be obtained on short notice, authorities said.

The fury of the storm was spent between Miami and Pompano, about 40 miles north. The hurricane which tore a path of death and destruction along the lower east coast continued its havoc across the state, killing 40 people at Moorehaven, on Lake Okeechobee.

Sebring suffered considerable damage from wind and water. Key West reported that "all was well."

South Miami Casinos Leveled.

An estimate of the property damage in the storm-wrecked district is impossible at this time but the combined losses of Miami, Miami Beach, Hollywood, and Ft. Lauderdale, including marine destruction, will conservatively exceed $250,000,000.

In Miami Beach, which is practically isolated from the outside world by a condemned causeway, many mansions were razed by the hurricane.

The Carl G. Fisher home in Lincoln road is a mass of debris. The Roney Plaza, Wofford, and Pan Coast hotels, all along the ocean front, bore the brunt of the storm. The Gulf Stream apartment building, farther north, was damaged to the extent of $100,000. The Firestone estate and a number of beautiful homes were wrecked.

At South Miami beach where the hurricane hit hardest, all of the casinos were leveled. Some of the structures have disappeared. The Floridan hotel, which broke up under the gale, was converted into an emergency hospital. The Fleetwood used as a dormitory for many homeless. In Bay Biscayne, hundreds of craft, both large and small, were battered to pieces by the angry waters. The Bay Front park was strewn with demolished yachts and schooners. A large oil tanker was heaved to Royal Palm park where is settled high and dry.

With the disposal of martial law, it was made plain that military authorities would cooperate with the city in maintaining peace and order.

Every workman was pressed into service rebuilding houses. New roofs were going on rapidly, street crews were cleaning the thoroughfares of fallen trees, telephone poles and other debris. Storekeepers began taking an inventory of their undamaged stocks.

At a meeting Monday night attended by representatives of every branch of the city and county government, civic clubs, Red Cross and other organizations first steps were taken to bring about normalcy and precautions taken against epidemic.

Governor Greets 2,000 Kiwanians At State Session

COLUMBUS, Sept. 21.—More than 2,000 Ohio Kiwanis club members and their wives, were greeted here today by Governor Vic Donahey, who delivered the welcoming address before the opening session of the ninth annual convention of that organization.

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, Sept. 21.—A new increase of $57,000,000 in brokerage loans in the New York district, as reported by the federal reserve board, furnished the confident bears with a further supply of ammunition for their raid on stock values in the early trading today. Industrial and specialty stocks were poured on the market in the first period, and numerous sustained losses of from 1 to 3½ points.

In banking circles it was said that both the $78,000,000 loss in reserves of the clearing house banks and the unexpected expansion in brokers' loans could be more than counterbalanced by a resort to rediscounting at the federal reserve bank, and no great apprehension was felt over the temporary stiffening of money following so closely the huge treasury receipts and disbursements of last week.

For that reason there was a good back-log of buying orders for the better grade of industrial stocks at slight concessions from Monday's final prices. United States Steel, in fact, refused to break 142½, its former closing level, and most of its sales were at 143 or better. General Motors lost about a point and promptly recovered. Mack Trucks and Hudson received much better support. Warner Pictures broke to 48¾ for a loss of 3⅜. Sinclair was the weak spot in the oils, with heavy trading around 20½.

The renewal rate of 5½ per cent for call money was the highest since March. Commodity markets were steady, with grain and cotton practically unchanged.

Walter Hagen is Leading Turnesa in "Pro" Golf Match

SALISBURY COUNTRY CLUB, GARDEN CITY, N. Y., Sept. 21.—Walter Hagen, Pasadena, Florida, led Joe Turnesa, Elmsford, N. Y., three up when they had played the first 18 holes in their 36-hole match, in the first round of the Professional Golfers' association championship today.

Hagen established an early lead, winning the second, third and fourth holes and at one time was five up, but Turnesa holed a 25-foot putt for a birdie two to win the sixteenth and a thirty footer to win the eighteenth with a birdie three.

Bucyrus Broker Dead, Woman Hurt In Auto Crash

MARION, O., Sept. 21. — Joe M. Hepp, 35, Bucyrus and Cleveland, broker for the Suburban Light and Power company, Cleveland, is dead here today and a young woman registered in a Bucyrus hotel as Miss Elizabeth Kearney, Cleveland, is recovering in her Cleveland home following an automobile crash on the Marion-Bucyrus road here last night.

Hepp sustained a broken neck and a fractured skull. The girl, said by witnesses to have been the driver of the machine, a Studebaker, sedan, escaped with minor bruises. Hepp died enroute to City hospital.

Pensacola Cut Off

With the fury almost spent, the storm passed island along the Alabamab and northwestern Florida coast, taking a known death toll of 10 lives. This figure may be materially increased, however, when the toll taken at Pensacola becomes known.

Five Dead Near Florida Border.

Five were reported killed when the storm struck Jackson, Alabama, near the Florida border. Two were killed near Bay Minnette and three more lives were taken at Flomatin, reports said.

New Orleans escaped with small damage, but the city was swept by a heavy rain and miniature gale. The gulf coast towns further east were hardest hit, with scores of settlements reporting property damage and injuries from the storm.

Even as far north as Atlanta, the fury of the hurricane was felt. A cold rain fell steadily and the temperature dropped 20 degrees in a few hours.

No ships were reported in distress, many doubtless heeding the warnings given by the weather bureau and seeking safety before the tempest broke.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 21.—Mobile has escaped heavy damage from the tropical hurricane and there was no loss of life, according to word received here today by J. P. Burton, train dispatcher of the Louisville and Nashville railroad.

Burton said he was informed by the foreman of a train crew that was rushed to Mobile to repair damage to railroad property, that while Mobile was buffeted by a 100-mile gale the damage was not great and there were no casualties.

Two Towns Hard Hit.

Lillian and Seminole, two small coastal towns between Mobile and Pensacola, were reported wiped out with considerable loss of life and property, radio experts said.

Wind velocity along the Gulf coast continued high today. Ocean springs reported 60 miles an hour, with the gale driving water over low lying districts and damaging crops.

A relief train has been sent from Birmingham with orders to push forward to Mobile as far as possible.

Four States Swept.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 21. — Word was anxiously awaited today as to the damage and possible casualties suffered by Pensacola and Mobile and other gulf coast towns struck by the West Indian hurricane.

Somewhat spent in its fury, the storm swept inland with its center at Meridian, Miss. But the whole of Alabama and parts of Mississippi, Louisiana and Georgia were in the grip of the storm, and a virtual cloudburst was reported at Troy, Ala.

Pensacola was still cut off, and only fragmentary radio reports came from Mobile. The Algiers navy radio station here got in touch with Pensacola at 8 o'clock last night and was advised that little property damage was done despite a 72-mile gale.

All efforts to communicate with Pensacola since then have failed. A radio report from an unknown steamer, however, reported Pensacola "in ruins."

Death Toll Mounts.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Sept. 21.—The known death toll in the storm that struck Alabama coastal towns was raised to eight today when three more persons died of injuries in Jackson, Ala. Five were killed by the storm there yesterday. Many buildings were destroyed.

MOBILE, Ala., Sept. 21.—Not content with the death and destruction which it wrought in southern Florida all during Sunday and Monday, the West Indian hurricane today continued its wrathful march inland from the Gulf of Mexico, laying waste sections of northwest Florida, southern Alabama and Louisiana.

Damage here and in Pensacola probably will total a million dollars or more, it is believed. No loss of life in Mobile had been reported early today, however.

A radio report stated that the towns of Seminole and Lillian, Alabama, had been wrecked, with the loss of ten or a dozen lives, and great property damage. Five were killed when the tempest struck the village of Jackson, Ala., two were reported killed near Bay Minette and several crushed by debris at Flomaton.

Extensive property damage and injuries to persons were reported from Enterprise, Hartford, Geneva, Bay Minette, Monroeville, Dothan, Brewton, Troy, Andalusia, Evergreen and Flomaton.

Florida's Death Toll 600

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Sept. 21. — Sorrow, sympathy, suffering and aid. Four simple words, but they epitomize the situation in Florida today as this state begins the sorry job of burying its dead—at least 600 of them—and helping the living.

Horrified by the ravages of the hurricane which brought the greatest catastrophe in Florida's history to Miami, West Palm Beach and smaller cities in south Florida, relief workers in this comparatively undamaged section of the state had just thrown themselves to the task of relief when the storm after crossing the gulf of Mexico struck Pensacola.

No verified reports have come of the Pensacola damage, but immediately after the hurricane hit Pensacola and other gulf cities further west, preparations were made for relief work there if needed.

88 8Dead In Miami City.

MIAMI, Fla., Sept. 21.—Acting Mayor Ames Gilman and City Manager Frank H. Wharton today issued an official statement to the effect that property damage in Miami as a result of Saturday's hurricane would total over $125,000,000. There is plenty of food in the city to take care of every needy person, but money donations will be gladly accepted, Wharton said.

The official death toll as released by the Miami police department last night totaled 88 of which 74 are whites and 14 negroes. All of these have been identified. Fourteen additional bodies await identification in local undertaking rooms. This list comprises the city of Miami only.

An old-timer is one who can remember when it seemed funny to call two people a family.—Youngstown Vindicator.

DR. T. T. CHURCH ROTARY GUEST

Health Commissioner Urges Continuance of County Camp.

Appeal for aid in furthering the work of the county health camp which has been in operation in recent years, was made to members of the Rotary club at their noon luncheon meeting today in the Y. M. C. A. by Dr. T. T. Church, county health commissioner.

Appointment of a club committee to investigate facts in connection with the operation of the camp was suggested by Dr. Church.

Approximately 65 club members and guests attended the meeting.

President Malcolm Thompson announced plans for the ladies' night meeting next Tuesday at 6:30 p. m. at the Country club. There will be no noon meeting on that day.

Dr. Samuel Rich, member of the committee including R. L. E. Chambers, Blaine Cochran and Frank Wehner, outlined arrangements for the club's visit to Youngstown on Friday, October 1. A golf tournament at the Mahoning Valley Country club, luncheon and other diversions are planned. The club will assemble in the morning at 10 o'clock and will make the trip to Youngstown in a body, by motor.

How 16 crippled children, 12 boys and four girls, were given a "treat" at the county fair last Thursday, was told by Attorney Blaine H. Cochran. The youngsters were taken to the fair and shown everything, from start to finish, by a delegation of Rotary club members.

Dr. M. D. McCutcheon, chairman, introduced Dr. Church, the club's chief guest and speaker. Dr. Church outlined the organization and duties of the county and city boards of health and urged that health board appointments, from state down, be kept out of politics. He pointed out also that the city of East Liverpool should have a permanent, full time health board, as well as a school nurse.

Father, Enraged, Kills Disobedient Son With Old Shoe

HERRIN, Ill., Sept. 21.—Enraged when police brought his 11-year-old son Bradley to his home today after he had been out all night, H. B. Burnett hurled an old work shoe at the boy, injuring him fatally. The shoe struck the boy in the neck, unjointing the member.

"I'e killed my baby," the father sobbed in his cell where he is held awaiting the action of a coroner's jury. "I had been trying to make the boy do right. I'm not afraid of punishment, but think what I've done."

American Embassy Attaches Burned in London Plane Crash

CROYDON, England, Sept. 21.—Major Clarence Tinker of Oklahoma and Commander Robert Burg of Nebraska, both attached to the American embassy in London, were severely injured today when an aeroplane in which they were flying here crashed. The plane burst into flames when it hit the ground and both men were badly burned.

$703,343 Fund Raised.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21.—The nation has responded generously to President Coolidge's appeal for funds for relief of Florida hurricane sufferers, the Red Cross announced today.

Within 24 hours, the Red Cross, in charge of relief work, secured donations totalling $743,343.93.

New York Responds.

NEW YORK, Sept. 21.—While the lists of the dead and the injured still were pouring in today from the storm-stricken area of Florida, New York city and New York state began organizing and extending aid to the sufferers.

Responding to proclamations by President Coolidge and Governor Smith, and a similar call by Mayor Walker, New Yorkers expressed their sympathy for the stricken Floridians in terms of medicines and provisions. A relief committee of 68 prominent men, working under a super-committee of 10, all familiar with Florida conditions, was appointed by Mayor Walker to formulate plans for systematic collection of relief funds. The mayor telegraphed to Governor John W. Martin that New York city stands "ready to render every aid humanly possible."

Similar preparations for prompt aid were initiated in other cities throughout the state.

Ready To Cope With Epidemic.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21. — All resources of the public health service will be offered to combat the spread of the epidemic which was reported to have broken out in the wake of the Florida storm, Surgeon General Hugh S. Cummings announced today.

Dr. J. H. Linson has been sent to Florida, and all health officials in the stricken state have been instructed to take every precaution against an epidemic, he said. Serum and supplies are being held in readiness for use by the Red Cross if needed.

Florida Burying Her Dead.

Florida digging herself out of the ruins, surveying her wounds, and burying her dead—the Gulf Coast, hard hit and still staggering, unable as yet definitely to ascertain the damage wrought.

This was the situation this morning, almost 72 hours after the West Indian hurricane hurled itself out of tropical seas and fell with a deafening roar and sickening crash upon America's winter playground.

The extent of the damage wrought by 100-mile gales and heavy seas thrown bodily into unprotected communities can only be approximated. It is heavy enough, both in lives and property, so that the hurricane will go down in history as one of the most terrible catastrophes ever visited upon the nation, but is probably will be days before an accurate estimate can be made.

Relief Work Under Way.

Out of the confusion of wrecked cities, interrupted communication, and impassable roads, however, there was emerging this morning a slight semblance of order. Relief work was getting under way with a degree of system, communication with communities cut off from the outside world since the fury broke was slowly being established, and every incoming dispatch from the stricken area told of the determination of the sufferers to build anew what has been destroyed.

As order emerged out of chaos, the toll of human life taken by this grisly freak of nature appeared to diminish. Whereas some estimates on Sunday and Monday had placed the dead as high as 2,000, today's dispatches brought this figure down materially. It is now reported to be doubtful if the death list runs above 500—a grim enough toll, but still greatly below the original estimates.

But as the damage to human life diminished with the restoration of order and communication, the material toll appeared to mount higher. The damage to property has been terrific and widespread.

Miami's Loss $125,000,000.

In Miami alone, the city manager has estimated the destruction to property at $125,000,000, and Miami was only one of the Eden-like winter playgrounds strung jewel-like along the south Florida coast, which lay directly in the pathway of the freakish and devastating wind. Other noted and costly resorts—Hollywood, Coral Gables, Delray, Homestead, Miami Beach, and the resorts further inland around Lake Okeechobee, suffered tremendously. In Moorehaven alone the death list is estimated at 60.

Strenuous efforts were being made today to re-establish communication with Pensacola, on the Gulf coast. The powerful naval radio station there has been silent since a final message yesterday which said the wind was attaining a velocity of 100 miles an hour and was causing heavy damage.

It is not believed, however, that the Gulf coast resorts have suffered anything like what Florida has undergone.

Meanwhile, the nation with its customary generosity is pouring money and supplies into the stricken cities. Reports to Red Cross headquarters in Washington today disclosed that the nation has risen magnificently to the appeal for funds for relief work.

2 Die as Plane Burns

Fire Engines Called.

There was a cheer, however, when Fonck and Curtin were found safe after having been thrown clear off the burning plane.

Fonck and Curtin were able to walk to an automobile which, it is believed, took them to the home of F. R. Mayer in Hewlett, L. I., where they had spent the night.

Fire engines from the nearby towns of Hempstead and Mineola arrived in record-breaking time, followed a moment later by an ambulance from Mitchell Field. There was little that either doctors or firemen could do. Great clouds of white smoke shot into the air a distance of 40 feet, with underlying sheets of flame as the gasoline-drenched ground continued to burn. Two airplanes circled overhead taking motion pictures of the fire, which will burn for hours.

Blaze Traps Victims' Bodies.

From a hasty survey of the runway on which the plane had attempted to make its hop to Paris, it is believed that a contributing factor in the accident was the breaking of the auxiliary landing gear. This gear, which was designed to help the machine carry the tremendous load of more than 13,000 pounds of gasoline, in some manner became entangled just before the take-off, it is believed. The total plane, with its load, weighed 28,860 pounds.

In its run along the ground, the plane had gathered such speed that it shot out into space perhaps five or six hundred feet after it had cleared the edge of the little cliff.

As the plane continued to burn, with wings of the master machine lying like skeletons beside the warped and twisted fuselage, there remained no doubt in anyone's mind but that both Islamoff and Clavier are dead. It will be some hours before their bodies can be removed.

French Ace's Explanation.

Fonck and Curtin went to the hangar of the Sikorsky company. The French ace explained the accident.

"I noticed the auxiliary landing gear had given way when we hit a bump," he said. "The right wheel went in an oblique direction, and I could feel that it had torn the left rudder loose. At first I tried to slow up. Then I knew it was useless to do that because the gulley was so close. I opened her up again, hoping to get into the air. But it could not be done, and we smashed."

Contrary to first reports, the pilot and his assistant were not thrown clear of the plane. Sensing the danger of remaining in the plane Fonck and Curtain crawled out on the nose of it. The motors were still running and how they managed to escape the whirring propellers they do not know themselves.

The adventurers had hoped to reach Le Bourget airdome, near Paris, some time tomorrow evening. If they had succeeded they would have flown 3,577 miles, a new world's distance record for a non-stop flight. Lloyds of London had posted odds of 7 to 3 that they would not succeed.

Shock to French Republic.

PARIS, Sept. 21.—The disaster to Lieutenant Fonck's trans-Atlantic plane came as a great shock to the French public, and attracted wide attention.

Charles Clavier, the wireless operator who lost his life, was a native of Paris. He was 34 years old and the father of two children.

COUNTY PEACH CROP IS LARGE

Production is Heaviest Recorded in Recent Years.

The Columbiana county peach crop which is now being harvested is declared by commercial growers to be the largest in recent years. The market is very low, some farmers selling chip baskets at the farm being quarter bushel containers for from 25 to 35 cents, while the half bushel baskets, according to size are to be had for from 25 to 50 cents. Bushel baskets are in heavy demand at from 75 to $1.00.

Throughout the county the harvest is now at its height. Thousands of bushels are being trucked daily into the Youngstown and Pittsburgh markets, and in the Lisbon market the large Elberta variety is to be had on a basis of 50 cents per half bushel chip.

Winddrops and culls are to be picked from the orchard ground on many farms free of cost, and this character of stock is being cleaned up rapidly where it is known the culls and windfalls are to be had for the gathering.

On the Cox highway and also the Lincoln Highway in this county highway markets are doing a heavy business, and especially was this the rule Sunday. Hundreds of Pennsylvania cars were driven through the fruit belt in this county for the sole purpose of buying peaches.

Early fall apples are also to be had at a low market this year, while tomatoes, pickles and green peppers are also in active demand at all farms where a market sign is displayed.

Green corn is not selling well at farms, motorists fearing to make purchases on account of the possibility of being "held up" by corn borer state agents and the supply taken from them.

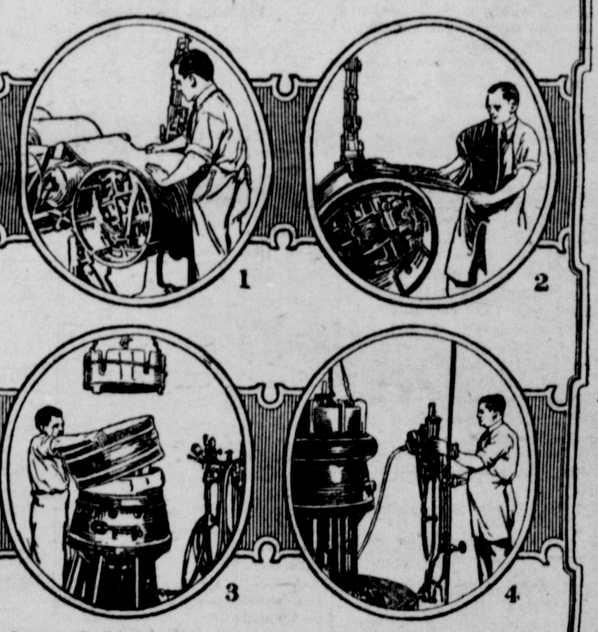
UNITED STATES TIRES ARE GOOD TIRES

Answering Some Questions About the Most Advanced Method of Tire Building



Steps in Building a United States Tire by the Flat Band Method

1. Laying plies of Latex-treated Web Cord on drum. 2. Applying tread rubber. 3. Placing tire on inflation machine. 4. Inflation finished. Tire formed.

Some facts about the United States Rubber Company's "Flat Band Method" which ensures uniform stretch and tension of every cord in the tire

Q—What is the "Flat Band Method" of building a tire?

A—The tire is built in the form of a flat band upon a drum. The plies of Latex-treated Web Cord are laid and fitted by hand, one above the other. The opposite edges of the band are turned around and securely anchored to "beads" consisting of rings of many strands of piano wire imbedded in hard rubber. The flat band carcass is then brought into shape on a special machine.

Q—Does this differ from the usual method of building tires?

A—Yes. Before the United States Rubber Company developed the Flat Band Method, the usual practice was to use a solid, metal ring-shaped form on which the cord fabric was laid and pressed into place by a rotating wheel coming in contact with the surface of the rubberized fabric.

Q—What does Flat Band building add to the service of United States Tires?

A—It makes the tire uniformly strong throughout. It eliminates the fault often found in the old-style construction, of some cords being too taut while others were loose. In Flat Band building, all the cords are under even tension, and flexibility is uniform. There are no weak spots to develop trouble.

Q—What Company developed the Flat Band Method?

A—The Flat Band Method was developed by the United States Rubber Company and is patented and owned by this Company.

COUNTY PEACH CROP IS LARGE

Production is Heaviest Recorded in Recent Years.

The Columbiana county peach crop which is now being harvested is declared by commercial growers to be the largest in recent years. The market is very low, some farmers selling chip baskets at the farm being quarter bushel containers for from 25 to 35 cents, while the half bushel baskets, according to size are to be had for from 25 to 50 cents. Bushel baskets are in heavy demand at from 75 to $1.00.

Throughout the county the harvest is now at its height. Thousands of bushels are being trucked daily into the Youngstown and Pittsburgh markets, and in the Lisbon market the large Elberta variety is to be had on a basis of 50 cents per half bushel chip.

Winddrops and culls are to be picked from the orchard ground on many farms free of cost, and this character of stock is being cleaned up rapidly where it is known the culls and windfalls are to be had for the gathering.

On the Cox highway and also the Lincoln Highway in this county highway markets are doing a heavy business, and especially was this the rule Sunday. Hundreds of Pennsylvania cars were driven through the fruit belt in this county for the sole purpose of buying peaches.

Early fall apples are also to be had at a low market this year, while tomatoes, pickles and green peppers are also in active demand at all farms where a market sign is displayed.

Green corn is not selling well at farms, motorists fearing to make purchases on account of the possibility of being "held up" by corn borer state agents and the supply taken from them.

UNITED STATES TIRES ARE GOOD TIRES

Answering Some Questions About the Most Advanced Method of Tire Building

Steps in Building a United States Tire by the Flat Band Method

1. Laying plies of Latex-treated Web Cord on drum. 2. Applying tread rubber. 3. Placing tire on inflation machine. 4. Inflation finished. Tire formed.

Some facts about the United States Rubber Company's "Flat Band Method" which ensures uniform stretch and tension of every cord in the tire

Q—What is the "Flat Band Method" of building a tire?

A—The tire is built in the form of a flat band upon a drum. The plies of Latex-treated Web Cord are laid and fitted by hand, one above the other. The opposite edges of the band are turned around and securely anchored to "beads" consisting of rings of many strands of piano wire imbedded in hard rubber. The flat band carcass is then brought into shape on a special machine.

Q—Does this differ from the usual method of building tires?

A—Yes. Before the United States Rubber Company developed the Flat Band Method, the usual practice was to use a solid, metal ring-shaped form on which the cord fabric was laid and pressed into place by a rotating wheel coming in contact with the surface of the rubberized fabric.

Q—What does Flat Band building add to the service of United States Tires?

A—It makes the tire uniformly strong throughout. It eliminates the fault often found in the old-style construction, of some cords being too taut while others were loose. In Flat Band building, all the cords are under even tension, and flexibility is uniform. There are no weak spots to develop trouble.

Q—What Company developed the Flat Band Method?

A—The Flat Band Method was developed by the United States Rubber Company and is patented and owned by this Company.

STATE POLICE SET NEW MARK

Record for Arrests is Made Last Month by Troopers.

The greatest arrest report ever shown by the West Virginia department of public safety has been issued covering the activities of the department for the month of August when the troopers set a new record for monthly arrests—1,649.

The majority were on miscellaneous charges, which included 103 felonies, six of them murders, in addition to a number of minor cases such as pistol toting and other violations of the statutes, which helped to swell the total of miscellaneous arrests to 842. Persons arrested on charges coming under the miscellaneous classifications were fined $5,783 while costs amounted to $1,601.85 and the more serious crimes brought about confinements totalling 31 years, one month and 26 days.

Road law cases also contributed a large part to the total number of arrests with 472 persons arrested charged with speeding, reckless driving or some one of the many other violations of the statutes governing operation of motor vehicles. Fines in the road law cases were $5,497; costs $2,776.30 and confinements reached a total of six years, three months and 20 days. All of the arrests made under this classification were the result of a vigorous campaign being waged by the West Virginia troopers in an effort to reform the "take-chance" driver and promote the safety of motorists traveling over the many miles of improved roadway to be found in the beauty spots of the Mountain State.

Moonshining and bootlegging activities also claimed a large portion of the troopers' time during August and 335 persons were arrested charged with violations of the prohibition laws of the state and nation and fined a total of $42,405, while the costs in liquor cases amounted to $9,646.25, and confinements were 25 years and 11 months. Seventy stills, 986 gallons of moonshine, 15,100 gallons of mash and 2,179 gallons of wine and beer were confiscated or destroyed by the troopers who also confiscated 28 automobiles used for transportation of liquor and turned them over to the federal authorities.

RECORD POTATO CROP IN STATE

One hundred car loads of potatoes grown by West Virginia farmers will be sold and consumed inside the state this year, according to figures compiled at the Charleston headquarters of the West Virginia Farm Bureau. The potatoes were grown under the system sponsored by the West Virginia Potato Growers' association, affiliated with the bureau.

A new peak of production was reached by the potato growers in the state this year, the shipments coming mainly from the Ohio and Greenbrier valleys, and Tucker, Randolph, Harrison and Barbour counties.

Many farmers in the state, at the beginning of the last planting season, broke away from their time-honored crops, including the growing of wheat and devoted their attention to potatoes. They were so successful this summer, according to information given to them by the growers association, that other farmers are planning to follow suit next year.

RECORD POTATO CROP IN STATE

One hundred car loads of potatoes grown by West Virginia farmers will be sold and consumed inside the state this year, according to figures compiled at the Charleston headquarters of the West Virginia Farm Bureau. The potatoes were grown under the system sponsored by the West Virginia Potato Growers' association, affiliated with the bureau.

A new peak of production was reached by the potato growers in the state this year, the shipments coming mainly from the Ohio and Greenbrier valleys, and Tucker, Randolph, Harrison and Barbour counties.

Many farmers in the state, at the beginning of the last planting season, broke away from their time-honored crops, including the growing of wheat and devoted their attention to potatoes. They were so successful this summer, according to information given to them by the growers association, that other farmers are planning to follow suit next year.

Dempsey Sends Out S. O. S. For Good Second Who Can Think

Recalls Willard's Problem At Toledo As Big Bout Nears

By Davis J. Walsh.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 21.—When Jess Willard stepped into the ring at Toledo, he was a man absolutely on his own with a couple of seconds who were more like thirds and a business manager who had hinges in his neck from saying "yes." It may or may not be significant, but the fact remains that our Mr. Dempsey is going into the ring on Thursday night with the most singular collection of handlers that ever handicapped a fighter.

They are, rated in the order of their importance, Jerry Luvadis, a Greek, who knows three words of English and uses them once each year; Gene Normile, a race track man who can tell you how a race should be run but "not" how a fight should be fought; Gus Wilson, a Frenchman who says he is a trainer, and one Captain Nabbutt, a fat man who will be coming into the ring for the first round when the second is over.

Considered Bagley.

I can't think of a more inept combination. Neither can Dempsey, according to reports. They said today that he was considering hiring Philadelphia Jack O'Brien as a second and Philadelphia Jack was right the last time they used nail files for tooth brushes.

It also was said that Dempsey was considering Doc Bagley for this role. The doc is a good man in spite of the fact that he once managed Tunney. The doctor thought better of it. Willard was a goof.

He thought he knew so much about the racket that he would be handicapped by an excess of mentality in his immediate corner. Therefore, he dispensed with mentality and made up for it with numbers. It was a swell idea but the execution was terrible. A good, clear thinking second in Willard's corner might have saved the title for him that day after the first punch on the jaw had rendered him non plus ultra or something.

Dempsey, it is understood, has informed his prospective handlers that he wants to fight this fight his own way with no interference from his corner. That, also, is a swell idea, except for the fact that one might as well ask Pooley Hubert for no interference as to expect that mob or nearsaps to render aid, succor and assistance when all three are demanded at one and the same time.

Has Had His Warning.

That fat captain will be waddling around, the French chef must be there to be the extra cook to spoil the broth, the Chicago and New York detective sergeants, four strong, will be on hand to see that the champion is not approached by a guest without a waiting garment or any other and a French attache who never backed a winner will be among those present for no reason at all.

With this array, it isn't surprising that Dempsey was casting about for a practical boxing man who knows his victuals. He has had sufficient warning from the over-confident Willard, who would have given a half million dollars for an ounce of brains in his corner rather than a pound of punch in his glove at Toledo.

Well, Fans, Looks Like Yanks Have Got Flag Nailed Up

Despite their two game setback yesterday by the Chicago White Sox, the Yankees appear to have clinched the American League championship as a result of Cleveland's defeat at the hands of Boston, 3 to 2. With a chance to gain a game and a half and cut the New York team's lead to two games, the Indians went ahead only half a game, and now trail by three. But—to even tie for the championship Cleveland must win all six remaining games while the Yankees drop four out of six.

The panorama above is of the Yankee stadium in New York, where, providing the Yanks win at least three games yet, one-half of the world's series will be played this fall. Inset in their regular positions are the regulars of the New York team, Urban Shocker, pitching ace, and Manager Huggins.

K. of C. "Open House" Party Planned for Jack-Gene Fight

"Open house" will be the rule at the Knights of Columbus lodge rooms in the Ingram building, Diamond, Thursday evening, when Jack Dempsey and Gene Tunney will battle for the heavyweight championship in the sesqui-centennial stadium at Philadelphia.

Lodge officers today announced that plans had been completed for an up-to-the-second service on the big fight, which will be broadcast from the City of Brotherly Love.

Special radio equipment is to be installed by the lodge men who anticipate a large attendance at the "fight party."

The Giants had a relapse and lost two games to the Cubs, 4 to 2 and 2 to 1.

Pittsburgh, with an outside chance to finish second, blanked the Phillies, 4 to 0, as Joe Bush turned in a two-hit performance.

The Senators copped two from the Browns, 7 to 4 and 8 to 2, and advanced to within half a game of Philadelphia. Joe Harris hit two homers.

TUNNEY LAYS GLOVES ASIDE

Next Time He Tapes Hands Will be Thursday Night.

STROUDSBURG, Pa., Sept. 21.—Gene Tunney, challenger for the heavyweight championship, said today he is in the best condition of his career and ready for his battle with Jack Dempsey.

Tunney has put the gloves aside. The next time his hands will be bound in tape will be on Thursday night when he enters the ring.

HUB TEAMS MAY DECIDE RACES

Braves Jolt Reds While Sox Turn Back Tribe.

NEW YORK, Sept. 21.—Boston's baseball clubs today are the champion stumbling blocks of the big leagues. The Braves handed the Reds a terrific jolt yesterday by beating them twice, while the Red Sox defeated Cleveland and prevented the Indians from gaining valuable ground.

St. Louis leads Cincinnati by two full games this morning. The Reds must gain one game on the leaders during the next four contests to be able to tie the Cardinals by beating them in the last game of the season.

The Yankees, faltering badly, lost two games to the White Sox but lead Cleveland by three games. If the Yanks win three of their remaining six games, the Indians can do no better than tie them.

INSIDE GOLF

By CHESTER HORTON,
Maker of 51 Golf Champions. "Golf's most successful teacher," says "Chick" Evans.

When the right hand pull is introduced in the back swing the right arm not only takes possession of the club, but it invariably draws itself inward, toward the body, which is bad. Some players have found a successful cure for this by making the right hand, at the beginning of the back swing, resist the left arm push slightly. This certainly keeps the left side fixedly at its work in the back swing, though the player who does this should be careful to release this right-hand pressure some time before he gets to the top of the back swing. The natural tendency is to speed things up as the club swings backward, and naturally as the speed increases the right-hand pressure will automatically increase too, so that if this keeps up you will have too great a pressure near the top. In fact, it will cause your arms and shoulders to stiffen and becom reigid. Mkea hte right-hand pressure so light that it doesn't become a drag.

Hagen Defends Pro Title in Match Play; Turnesa First Foe

SALISBURY COUNTRY CLUB, GARDEN CITY, L. I., Sept. 21.—Walter Hagen, Pasadena, Florida, started the defense of his title as American professional golf champion today at Salisbury links when he met Joe Turnesa, Elmsford, N. Y., in the first round of match play. Turnesa was runner-up to Bobby Jones in the American open championship.

The Braves put a terrific crimp in Cincinnati's pennant hopes by downing the Reds twice, 4 to 3 and 3 to 0, putting Cincinnati two games behind the Cardinals. Rixey was beaten by errors in the first game while Bob Smith had the Reds at his mercy in the nightcap.

I accepted the offer. That was a great moment in my life, as it turned out. Why, that very first taste won me. It was cool, like a breeze through an open window. It was sweet as a ripe peach. It was fragrant, even in that smoke-filled car. I was having the time of my life.

ALLEGHENY IS PITT OPENER

Panthers on Alert for Fast Passing Attack.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Sept. 21.—Allegheny College is the opening football attraction against the University of Pittsburgh in the Pitt Stadium, the game being scheduled for Saturday, September 25. Allegheny has not been met in football for some years, but the university athletic records show that the Methodists have been played a number of times and have always been hard to beat. The presence of of "Mel" Merritt, Dartmouth celebrity, as head coach of Allegheny adds spice to the combat, as Merritt is known as an exponent of the wide open game. Coach Jock Sutherland, of Pitt, is looking for a forward pass attack and is drilling his proteges accordingly. That Allegheny will give trouble with this system of play is the forecast as Pitt has a rather green team and one that might become a little flustered with such opposition. The only 1925 regulars who will start the game are Captain McMillin, Andy Cutler, Andy Salata and "Gibby" Welch. Cutler will likely start in the backfield rather than at center, the position he played last year. Dick Goldberg looks good at the center berth, and Cutler, who is very fast and weighs over 190 pounds, has been sent to the backfield.

"Tiny" Linn, of Carnegie, will be one of the guards. Linn weighs up around the 200 mark and is of a fighting disposition. He is one of the Pitt star weight men on the track team. Linn is playing his last year of football at Pitt. "Ludy" Demolio, of Coraopolis, who learned the game at Bellfonte Academy, looks pretty good at the other guard. He is speedy and has dogged determination, which is winning him a place on the varsity.

Andy Salata will be at one tackle, and either Jim Getts or Bill Kern at the other. Kern is a strapping big fellow who has been handicapped in the early season training due to an injury. The coach expects him to be available for all the big games at least. Whether he will be started in the Allegheny game is a question.

Getts, who hails from Jeannette, Pa., and who was coached by "Pie" Williams, former Pitt end, stands six feet two and weighs around the double century marks, was on the freshman team last year and gave a good account of himself. Felix Demoise and "Honey" Guarino, of Gennsburg, are having a stiff fight for one end position, Captain McMillin having the other end cinched. Guarino is showing splendid form and is a sure varsity prospect before he gets through.

The backfield to start the Allegheny game will probably be Jim Rooney, at quarterback, Joe Schmitt at a half and Dick Booth at fullback. Who will take the place of Welch, who has been hurt, has been undetermined. Welch is expected to be one of the season's sensations. Booth was a close understudy to Andy Gustafson at fullback last year. Jim Rooney is one of last year's freshman who is sure to break in. He is a phenomenal kicker. Joe Schmitt is playing his last year on the varsity and is going like a house afire.

Allegheny College alumni will be out in force at the game. A special train will bring the crowd down from Meadville, and Western Pennsylvania alumni numbering 500 or more will be out to cheer for their team.

OHIO COLLEGE ELEVENS BUSY

CINCINNATI — Head Coach Joe Meyer of St. Xavier college today cut his football squad to 44 men. The varsity first squad snapped through a long 40-minute signal drill followed by a half hour scrimmage against the yearlings.

DELAWARE — Forward pass defense was given main consideration at the Ohio Wesleyan football camp as Coach George Gauthier put the screws to his men for the opening game with Albion here Saturday.

Bob Helwig, whose eye was injured in practice last week, was in uniform today and probably will start at quarter Saturday.

GRANVILLE — Two Denison university football candidates are on crutches as the result of scrimmage at Ohio university but are expected to discard them within a day or two and get back to work. They are Flory and Bethard. Snyder is suffering a back injury. Art Field, Indian end, who starred among the freshmen last year, is out for varsity.

HIRAM — Twenty-one varsity football candidates, including nine letter men, reported at the season's first practice at Hiram college today. Capt. "Turk" Tolby led his men on the field.

OBERLIN — Oberlin's football squad had its first scrimmage today. The team began to take shape around Burr and Poe, fullbacks; Flemming and Wickenden, quarterbacks; Hansbury, Watters and Hosfield, halves. Capt. Sewick and Gowdy, a sophomore, look best for a pivotal position. The best end material includes Jamieson, Hastings, Ramard and Jones. There are line men in abundance.

ATHENS — The first casualties of the football season at Ohio university occurred today when Jack Sweeney, veteran quarterback, received a broken hand and Robert Riley, center, suffered a dislocated shoulder. Sweeney probably will be unable to start the season on Oct. 2.

AKRON — Twelve men are struggling for the backfield positions on the University of Akron eleven. Four good ends are also available. Coach George Babcock does not contemplate cutting his squad until after the Defiance game here Saturday.

WESTERVILLE — Eight letter men and some other promising huskies are undergoing a grueling workout at Otterbein's field this week preparatory to the opening game with Findlay here Saturday.

NEW CONCORD — Bob Taylor, Muskingum college end, suffered a broken shoulder bone in scrimmage here last Saturday, it became known today upon his non-appearance on the practice field. He was one of the mainstays of the prospective team. He may be lost for the season.

SPRINGFIELD — Carl F. Schroeder, sophomore fullback on Wittenberg's team, suffered scalp wounds in scrimmage against freshmen Monday. Coach Godfrey alternated 30 men in two hours line plunging. Robert McFarren of Canton showed well in backfield along with George Bradley of Carey.

Haskin's Letter

cant. The result is that there are never enough seats for all the children to study in, nor enough playgrounds for them to work in, and yet large sums are invested in these facilities which the children can use for only a fraction of the day.

"Under the work-study-play plan all activities in the schoolrooms, auditoriums, gymnasiums, shops, and laboratories—are in use every hour of the day. This means that only half the usual number of classrooms is needed. Since the cost of a classroom at present is aproximately $12,000, in a 30-class school which would require only 15 classrooms instead of 30, 15 times $12,000 is released for all other activities in the school.

"Under such circumstances it is possible to supply a school seat for every child when he needs it and also these special facilities at no greater cost than it takes to supply classrooms only under the traditional plan."

The special facilities referred to are shops, science laboratories, drawing and music rooms, cooking and sewing rooms, auditorium, playgrounds, and gymnasiums.

All modern school executives have realized for many years the importance of these enriched educational facilities for children, but up to the present time the cost of supplying them in addition to classrooms has been prohibitive. The work-study-play plan solves this problem because it applies to the school the principle upon which all other public utilities are run—the principle of the multiple use of equipment.

It may be pointed out that no business man would operate a factory or similar enterprise with half his plant idle all the time. It could not be done, for it would spell bankruptcy.

The idea that all the children of a school should be in the opening exercises together, study together, recite together, play together, and go home together at the same time, it may also be pointed out, is economically as unsound as that a factory should be operated with half its equipment idle all the time, or that all the people of a city should use the streets, the sidewalks, the street cars, the park, or any other public facility, at one and the same time.

What Happened in Portland.

The work-study-play or platoon plan which brings about the maximum utilization of school equipment is by no means new, but leading educators are anxious that it be more widely understood than it is now. Where it has been adopted, striking success is claimed for it.

How it make for economy may be illustrated by the case of the city of Portland, Oregon. In 1923 the school board there asked the United States Bureau of Education to make a survey of their city and to recommend a building program under the peak load plan and one under the platoon plan that would meet their school requirements to 1937.

After months of investigation and study, the experts detailed by the Federal bureau to make the survey showed that to carry on under the old system it would be necessary for Portland to spend almost $24,000,000 in purchasing 54 new sites, erecting 51 new elementary school buildings and 3 new high schools, and building 19 additions to existing elementary schools and 11 additions to high schools, in order to provide adequate housing accommodations for the city's children.

To carry out the platoon system, however, it would be necessary to spend only a little more than $14,500,000, purchasing but 36 new sites and erecting in all but 34 buildings and 28 additions to old structures.

Under the old system the expenditure of $24,000,000 would increase the Portland school plant 78 buildings housing 43,005 children in 1922 to 87 buildings housing 83,566 children in 1937. Under the new plan, an expenditure of almost $10,000,000 less by 1937 would house 86,224 pupils, the school plant would be reduced to 69 buildings, and a plant more efficient and more scientific in many respects would be provided. Portland adopted the new plan.

The Bureau of Education reports that at the present time there are 119 cities and one county in 38 states in the United States which have one or more schools on the work-study-play or platoon plan.

If all schools were conducted on this plan it is said that school buildings now in existence would house 40 per cent more pupils than their present capacity with little additional cost for remodeling and it would be possible to give a greatly enriched curriculum for the children, thus meeting the demands made upon the modern school.

Does Your Soil Need Lime?

The chances are it does. Most soils in this country need lime. You can't get best results from Alfalfa and Clover without it. Lime is cheaper than fertilizer and pays big profits.

Test Your Soil With Soiltex

Soiltex, the new testing outfit approved by the Dept. of Agriculture, tells the acidity of your soil and exactly how much lime to apply. It is quick, accurate and easy to use. Requires no special equipment. Goes in the pocket. Costs less than two cents per test. Come in and see how it works.

PUBLIC NOTICE is hereby given that The Ohio Bell Telephone company has filed with the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio its new Toll Tariff—P. U. C. O. Toll No. 5, specifying rates applying to all toll calls originating within the territory of the company hereinbefore named, and terminating in the State of Ohio, to become effective October 1st, 1926. The principal proposed changes are as follows:

ALLEGHENY IS PITT OPENER

Panthers on Alert for Fast Passing Attack.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Sept. 21.—Allegheny College is the opening football attraction against the University of Pittsburgh in the Pitt Stadium, the game being scheduled for Saturday, September 25. Allegheny has not been met in football for some years, but the university athletic records show that the Methodists have been played a number of times and have always been hard to beat. The presence of of "Mel" Merritt, Dartmouth celebrity, as head coach of Allegheny adds spice to the combat, as Merritt is known as an exponent of the wide open game. Coach Jock Sutherland, of Pitt, is looking for a forward pass attack and is drilling his proteges accordingly. That Allegheny will give trouble with this system of play is the forecast as Pitt has a rather green team and one that might become a little flustered with such opposition. The only 1925 regulars who will start the game are Captain McMillin, Andy Cutler, Andy Salata and "Gibby" Welch. Cutler will likely start in the backfield rather than at center, the position he played last year. Dick Goldberg looks good at the center berth, and Cutler, who is very fast and weighs over 190 pounds, has been sent to the backfield.

"Tiny" Linn, of Carnegie, will be one of the guards. Linn weighs up around the 200 mark and is of a fighting disposition. He is one of the Pitt star weight men on the track team. Linn is playing his last year of football at Pitt. "Ludy" Demolio, of Coraopolis, who learned the game at Bellfonte Academy, looks pretty good at the other guard. He is speedy and has dogged determination, which is winning him a place on the varsity.

Andy Salata will be at one tackle, and either Jim Getts or Bill Kern at the other. Kern is a strapping big fellow who has been handicapped in the early season training due to an injury. The coach expects him to be available for all the big games at least. Whether he will be started in the Allegheny game is a question.

Getts, who hails from Jeannette, Pa., and who was coached by "Pie" Williams, former Pitt end, stands six feet two and weighs around the double century marks, was on the freshman team last year and gave a good account of himself. Felix Demoise and "Honey" Guarino, of Gennsburg, are having a stiff fight for one end position, Captain McMillin having the other end cinched. Guarino is showing splendid form and is a sure varsity prospect before he gets through.

The backfield to start the Allegheny game will probably be Jim Rooney, at quarterback, Joe Schmitt at a half and Dick Booth at fullback. Who will take the place of Welch, who has been hurt, has been undetermined. Welch is expected to be one of the season's sensations. Booth was a close understudy to Andy Gustafson at fullback last year. Jim Rooney is one of last year's freshman who is sure to break in. He is a phenomenal kicker. Joe Schmitt is playing his last year on the varsity and is going like a house afire.

Allegheny College alumni will be out in force at the game. A special train will bring the crowd down from Meadville, and Western Pennsylvania alumni numbering 500 or more will be out to cheer for their team.

OHIO COLLEGE ELEVENS BUSY

CINCINNATI — Head Coach Joe Meyer of St. Xavier college today cut his football squad to 44 men. The varsity first squad snapped through a long 40-minute signal drill followed by a half hour scrimmage against the yearlings.

DELAWARE — Forward pass defense was given main consideration at the Ohio Wesleyan football camp as Coach George Gauthier put the screws to his men for the opening game with Albion here Saturday.

Bob Helwig, whose eye was injured in practice last week, was in uniform today and probably will start at quarter Saturday.

GRANVILLE — Two Denison university football candidates are on crutches as the result of scrimmage at Ohio university but are expected to discard them within a day or two and get back to work. They are Flory and Bethard. Snyder is suffering a back injury. Art Field, Indian end, who starred among the freshmen last year, is out for varsity.

HIRAM — Twenty-one varsity football candidates, including nine letter men, reported at the season's first practice at Hiram college today. Capt. "Turk" Tolby led his men on the field.

OBERLIN — Oberlin's football squad had its first scrimmage today. The team began to take shape around Burr and Poe, fullbacks; Flemming and Wickenden, quarterbacks; Hansbury, Watters and Hosfield, halves. Capt. Sewick and Gowdy, a sophomore, look best for a pivotal position. The best end material includes Jamieson, Hastings, Ramard and Jones. There are line men in abundance.

ATHENS — The first casualties of the football season at Ohio university occurred today when Jack Sweeney, veteran quarterback, received a broken hand and Robert Riley, center, suffered a dislocated shoulder. Sweeney probably will be unable to start the season on Oct. 2.

AKRON — Twelve men are struggling for the backfield positions on the University of Akron eleven. Four good ends are also available. Coach George Babcock does not contemplate cutting his squad until after the Defiance game here Saturday.

WESTERVILLE — Eight letter men and some other promising huskies are undergoing a grueling workout at Otterbein's field this week preparatory to the opening game with Findlay here Saturday.

NEW CONCORD — Bob Taylor, Muskingum college end, suffered a broken shoulder bone in scrimmage here last Saturday, it became known today upon his non-appearance on the practice field. He was one of the mainstays of the prospective team. He may be lost for the season.

SPRINGFIELD — Carl F. Schroeder, sophomore fullback on Wittenberg's team, suffered scalp wounds in scrimmage against freshmen Monday. Coach Godfrey alternated 30 men in two hours line plunging. Robert McFarren of Canton showed well in backfield along with George Bradley of Carey.

Haskin's Letter

cant. The result is that there are never enough seats for all the children to study in, nor enough playgrounds for them to work in, and yet large sums are invested in these facilities which the children can use for only a fraction of the day.

"Under the work-study-play plan all activities in the schoolrooms, auditoriums, gymnasiums, shops, and laboratories—are in use every hour of the day. This means that only half the usual number of classrooms is needed. Since the cost of a classroom at present is aproximately $12,000, in a 30-class school which would require only 15 classrooms instead of 30, 15 times $12,000 is released for all other activities in the school.

"Under such circumstances it is possible to supply a school seat for every child when he needs it and also these special facilities at no greater cost than it takes to supply classrooms only under the traditional plan."

The special facilities referred to are shops, science laboratories, drawing and music rooms, cooking and sewing rooms, auditorium, playgrounds, and gymnasiums.

All modern school executives have realized for many years the importance of these enriched educational facilities for children, but up to the present time the cost of supplying them in addition to classrooms has been prohibitive. The work-study-play plan solves this problem because it applies to the school the principle upon which all other public utilities are run—the principle of the multiple use of equipment.

It may be pointed out that no business man would operate a factory or similar enterprise with half his plant idle all the time. It could not be done, for it would spell bankruptcy.

The idea that all the children of a school should be in the opening exercises together, study together, recite together, play together, and go home together at the same time, it may also be pointed out, is economically as unsound as that a factory should be operated with half its equipment idle all the time, or that all the people of a city should use the streets, the sidewalks, the street cars, the park, or any other public facility, at one and the same time.

What Happened In Portland.

The work-study-play or platoon plan which brings about the maximum utilization of school equipment is by no means new, but leading educators are anxious that it be more widely understood than it is now. Where it has been adopted, striking success is claimed for it.

How it make for economy may be illustrated by the case of the city of Portland, Oregon. In 1923 the school board there asked the United States Bureau of Education to make a survey of their city and to recommend a building program under the peak load plan and one under the platoon plan that would meet their school requirements to 1937.

After months of investigation and study, the experts detailed by the Federal bureau to make the survey showed that to carry on under the old system it would be necessary for Portland to spend almost $24,000,000 in purchasing 54 new sites, erecting 51 new elementary school buildings and 3 new high schools, and building 19 additions to existing elementary schools and 11 additions to high schools, in order to provide adequate housing accommodations for the city's children.

To carry out the platoon system, however, it would be necessary to spend only a little more than $14,500,000, purchasing but 36 new sites and erecting in all but 34 buildings and 28 additions to old structures.

Under the old system the expenditure of $24,000,000 would increase the Portland school plant 78 buildings housing 43,005 children in 1922 to 87 buildings housing 83,566 children in 1937. Under the new plan, an expenditure of almost $10,000,000 less by 1937 would house 86,224 pupils, the school plant would be reduced to 69 buildings, and a plant more efficient and more scientific in many respects would be provided. Portland adopted the new plan.

The Bureau of Education reports that at the present time there are 110 cities and one county in 38 states in the United States which have one or more schools on the work-study-play or platoon plan.

If all schools were conducted on this plan it is said that school buildings now in existence would house 40 per cent more pupils than their present capacity with little additional cost for remodeling and it would be possible to give a greatly enriched curriculum for the children, thus meeting the demands made upon the modern school.

Does Your Soil Need Lime?

The chances are it does. Most soils in this country need lime. You can't get best results from Alfalfa and Clover without it. Lime is cheaper than fertilizer and pays big profits.

Test Your Soil With Soiltex

Soiltex, the new testing outfit approved by the Dept. of Agriculture, tells the acidity of your soil and exactly how much lime to apply. It is quick, accurate and easy to use. Requires no special equipment. Goes in the pocket. Costs less than two cents per test. Come in and see how it works.

Gasoline-Oil-Motor Test Will Be Made On Whippet

Ohio Valley Oil Co. and E. L. Bradfield and Son Arrange for 114-mile Demonstration.

A series of gasoline-oil motor tests, with the Ohio Valley Oil company, working in conjunction with E. L. Bradfield and son, dealers for Overland and Willys-Knights automobiles, will be staged here during the week.

All of the tests will be made on a Whippet, latest small cad brought out by Overland.

A power test, high gear test, gasoline test and a non-stop speed run are included on the program.

The Whippet first will be shackled to a five or six-ton load and operated over the principal streets of the city.

Next, it will be placed in high gear — started, stopped and operated around the city without the use of first and intermediate speed to demonstrate its flexibility.

Every day the Bradfield company will offer a prize of $25 credit on any new Whippet to the person who gets the most mileage out of a quart of gasoline, using the small car.

As the final demonstration, the Whippet will be run from Mansfield to East Liverpool, a distance of 114 miles, Saturday morning. The car is scheduled to leave Mansfield at 8 a. m.

Ohio Valley oil and gasoline will be used throughout the tests.

FIGHT RETURNS AT CERAMIC

Dempsey-Tunney Bulletins on Opening Night of "Big Parade."

Returns from the heavyweight champion fight at Philadelphia between Jack Dempsey and Gene Tunney will be announced from Ceramic theatre stage Thursday night, when "The Big Parade" opens a three-day engagement.

The long engagement of "The Big Parade," the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer classic, in New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Chicago and other large cities, has served to advertise its values to the theatregoers at large. It is not necessary to enlarge upon the fine qualities of the film itself, its graphic love story, its realistic settings or the appropriate music and telling effects which it is given. All these items of the entertainment have been realized by such hosts of people throughout the country that there is no town, however small, but has someone in it able to speak with authority concerning this epic. Therefore the entertainment-seeking public is already advised of the quality of the offering which comes to the Ceramic theatre.
